Founded in 1876 at the foot of the Flatirons, over 142 years has transformed the University of Colorado from a lone building on a bleak, windswept hill to one of the nation's leading public research institutions. Established in 1861, the University was formally founded in 1876, the year Colorado became a state.

The Boulder campus encompasses over 1,100 acres on the main campus in the heart of town, east campus (which includes a research park), south campus, Williams Village and the Mountain Research Station north of nearby Nederland (which supports ecology, chemistry and geology).

While over 33,200 students are educated on the Boulder campus, another 33,000-plus study at the University of Colorado at Denver, the University of Colorado Anschutz Campus (Aurora) and the University of Colorado at Colorado Springs. Nine elected Regents and President Bruce Benson lead the four-campus system, while each campus has a Chancellor who serves as the chief academic and administrative officer. Dr. Phil DiStefano is in his ninth year as the chancellor of the Boulder campus.

Students can enter any of 10 schools and colleges offering more than 3,900 courses in 150 fields, representing a full range of disciplines in the humanities, social sciences, physical and biological sciences, the fine and performing arts, and the professions. CU-Boulder is regularly ranked among the best of the United States' public universities by the Fiske Guide to Colleges, and a 2010 USA Today/Princeton Review survey rated the University of Colorado as the fifth-best value among American public colleges. CU was recently ranked as the No. 33 university in the world by the Times Higher Education.

CU-Boulder has played a major role in NASA space programs, designing and building many scientific instruments flown in outer space, and graduated 17 men and women who became astronauts, including the late Jack Swigert, one of the three astronauts in the crippled Apollo 13 mission who made it back to Earth safely from the moon. When the Hubble Space Telescope was launched in 1990, it was carrying seven major instruments, including a high-resolution spectrograph to study the evolution of stars and designed and built by an international science team led by astronomer Jack Brandt of CU-Boulder. Since Hubble has been deployed, CU-Boulder faculty and students have been among the top users of Hubble of any institution in the world. CU-Boulder is the only university in the country where undergraduate students have operated a NASA satellite.

The University has produced 19 Rhodes Scholars, five of which were former football student-athletes at CU, with Jim Hansen the most recent recipient in 1992. Faculty member Thomas Cech, a distinguished professor of chemistry and biochemistry, won the 1989 Nobel Prize in chemistry. Other notable alumni other than athletes include former United States Supreme Court Justice Byron "Whizzer" White, former big band leader Glenn Miller and actors Robert Redford and Chris Meloni, the latter starring for years on Law & Order: Special Victims Unit, the creators of South Park, Trey Parker and Matt Stone, and Philip Bailey, co-founder of the popular music group Earth, Wind & Fire.

If the aphorism, "Somewhere between the Rockies and reality," seems too good to believe, then come for a visit. Start with a walk on the historic Pearl Street Mall, a downtown pedestrian mall that is the ceremonial heart of the city. Visitors may be so taken in by the scenery they may not realize the University that put it all together. From Pearl, Broadway leads directly onto campus where the University of Colorado Museum and the CU Heritage Center, in the original Old Main building, both introduce the University's past and present. The hub of campus activity can be found at both the University Memorial Center (UMC) and the Center for Community (C4C). The ATLAS building is one of the most state-of-the-art structures on any college campus.

Take in the fresh mountain air on any part of 100 miles of trails and 30,000 acres of open space. Climb the Flatirons or in Eldorado Canyon State Park. Swim or board sail at the Boulder Reservoir while elite runners sprint around it. Take in a pro sporting event down the road in Denver, just one of 13 cities with teams in all four pro leagues.

"The University of Colorado, and Boulder, is a town which stops where the Rocky Mountains begin. Normally in America such a superb site would be occupied by a golf course, but somebody goofed and instead they built what may be the most beautifully situated campus in the world... if anyone asks you to Boulder, I have one word of advice: 'Go.'"

— From London's Observer Magazine article, "Us and Them," by Simon Hoggart (April 23, 1989)

PRESIDENT BRUCE BENSON

Bruce D. Benson is the longest-serving president of the University of Colorado in the past 65 years. Now in his 11th year, he was named to the position in March 2008. This past July, he informed the Board of Regents of his intention to retire in July 2019, thus putting the cap on what will be a 56-year association with the university.

Since taking the helm of his alma mater, he has enhanced CU's standing as one of the nation's leading teaching and research universities, advancing the economy, health and culture of Colorado and beyond.

The 21st president in the history of the university, he will conclude his tenure as the fourth-longest of the group, and is the longest-serving CU president since Robert L. Stearns held the post for the better part of 15 years (1939-53) well over six decades ago.

During Benson's tenure, CU's research funding has reached record levels, including its best showing of $1.03 billion in 2017-18, supporting the university's research strengths in biotechnology, health care, energy and aerospace engineering. He has led efforts to promote cross-campus collaboration that have resulted in cooperative academic programs and research initiatives, most notably CU's Biofrontiers Institute, led by Nobel laureate Tom Cech.

CU has broken records for fundraising in nine consecutive years (including a record $440.4 million in 2017-18) under his leadership. Benson and his wife, Marcy, chaired CU's $1.5 billion Creating Futures fundraising campaign, which surpassed its goal in November 2013. The campaign, the largest in university history, supported scholarships, academic enhancements (endowed faculty positions, programs), research projects and capital improvements across CU's campuses.

Benson, 80, has guided efforts to institute operational efficiencies, cut bureaucracy and improve business practices at the university. CU has secured legislation over the past nine sessions of the Colorado General Assembly that has allowed it to save millions annually in areas such as procurement, insurance and construction. He has also established a number of public-private partnerships to make the university more entrepreneurial and meet the needs of businesses in Colorado and across the country.

He oversees a system with four campuses (Boulder, Colorado Springs, Denver, and the Anschutz Medical Campus in Aurora) with a total enrollment of 65,375 and another 7,000 who take courses for credit. During his tenure, CU's four campuses have seen record enrollment. The university's annual budget is $4.5 billion. The CU system is the third-largest employer in the state, with some 35,000 employees.

Before becoming CU's president, Benson had already made his mark in business, politics, philanthropy, education and civic endeavors. He founded Bruce Mineral Group in 1965, a year after earning his bachelor's degree in Geology from CU.

He has consistently been active in a variety of educational, civic and political endeavors, and was the Republican nominee for Colorado governor in 1994. Benson has received many honors recognizing his leadership, but two are particularly notable: CU in 2004 granted him an Honorary Doctorate of Humane Letters, and in February 2009 he was inducted into the Colorado Business Hall of Fame. In August 2016, he was the recipient of the inaugural Courage in Education Award from the Steamboat Institute, as the honor is for encouraging intellectual diversity and the free and robust exchange of ideas.

He was born July 4, 1938 in Chicago, and has three children and 10 grandchildren.

CHANCELLOR PHIL DISTEFANO

Dr. Philip P. DiStefano is in his 10th year as the Chancellor at the University of Colorado Boulder. Prior to his appointment on May 5, 2009, Dr. DiStefano was the top academic officer at CU-Boulder for eight years as the Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs. He had also served as interim chancellor twice during pivotal times in the university's history.

Dr. DiStefano, 71, co-chaired the steering committee for CU-Boulder's visionary strategic plan, Flagship 2030, conceived with campus, community and statewide input, to guide the university for decades to come. Today, Dr. DiStefano is shepherding its implementation as Flagship 2030 has moved from vision to reality.

Dr. DiStefano has served CU-Boulder for 44 years, first coming to the University of Colorado in 1974 as an Assistant Professor of Curriculum and Instruction at the School of Education. His academic career flourished as he assumed a series of academic and administrative positions, including Professor, Associate Dean, Dean and Vice Chancellor. He was appointed Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs in 2001.

He has established new initiatives to support students in their success, including an increased graduation rate. He also has set forth plans to create alternative sources of revenue and further advance CU's reputation as a top comprehensive national research university.

Dr. DiStefano is considered a national authority on integrating intercollegiate athletics into the university academic mission. For the sixth consecutive year under Chancellor DiStefano, CU's NCAA Academic Progress Rate, which tracks student-athlete progress toward graduation, is the best in school history.

He serves on the board of directors of the Association of American Universities, an association of North America's most prestigious research universities, of which CU Boulder is the only member in the Rocky Mountain West.

Dr. DiStefano began a three-year term in August 2016 on the Board of Governors of the NCAA representing the Pac 12, within that role he was a member of the NCAA's revenue distribution working group. He also served five years as the University of Colorado's faculty representative to the Big 12 Conference, as he assumed the role on June 1, 2000, and held it until appointing Dr. David Clough to the position in the spring of 2005. He has been closely involved with the athletic program for most of his time at CU, and in June 2016, was recently accompanied by athletic director Rick George to Italy to promote the university and the success of its international students.

As Chancellor he works closely with students, faculty, staff, alumni, donors, governing officials, and business and community leaders in extending CU's legacy as a preeminent national comprehensive research university.

A first-generation college graduate, Dr. DiStefano earned a Bachelor of Science degree from Ohio State University in 1968 and a Master of Arts degree in English Education from West Virginia University in 1971. He holds a Doctorate in Humanities Education from Ohio State University, where he served as a teaching and research associate.

Dr. DiStefano began his educational career as a high school English teacher in Ohio. He has authored and co-authored numerous books and articles on literacy education.

He was born September 21, 1946 in Steubenville, Ohio, and graduated from Steubenville Catholic Central High School. He has been married to the former Yvonne Pasquarella for 49 years, and the couple has three grown daughters, Gia, Nicole and Jennifer, and two grandchildren.

In 2015, he served as the official starter for the 37th annual Boulder Boulder, the city's 10-kilometer race that is the fourth largest in the nation. He has been very active throughout his career in the Boulder Community, having previously served on numerous boards, including the Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club.

PROVOST RUSSELL MOORE

Dr. Russell L. Moore is now in his 10th year as the Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs for the University of Colorado, having assumed the position July 1, 2010.

Dr. Moore had enjoyed a long and distinguished career at CU, having previously served as interim vice chancellor for research from May 2009 to July 2010, and prior to that appointment, he was the associate vice chancellor for research since 2006.

Dr. Moore served as chair of Kinesiology and Applied Physiology (now Integrative Physiology) from 1994 to 2001, and was an assistant professor (1984-86), associate

He is also an adjunct professor in the Department of Medicine at the University of Colorado Anschutz Medical Campus.

He co-chaired the Flagship 2030 Task Force on Research, Scholarship, and Creative Works.

He holds an adjunct professorship in medicine (cardiology) at the University of Colorado's Anschutz Medical Campus at the University of Colorado Denver.

He was an assistant and associate professor (1986-91) in the departments of medicine, cellular and molecular physiology at the Pennsylvania State University College of Medicine in Hershey, Pa. His research focused on adaptations of the heart to physiological and pathological stress, particularly as they related to the development of heart failure.

Dr. Moore earned a Bachelor of Science degree in biochemistry from the University of California at Davis in 1976, and a doctorate from Washington State University in 1982. He did postdoctoral work at the University of Texas Health Science Center in Dallas (1981-84).

professor (1993-96) and full professor (1996-present) in that department.

FACULTY REP JOE JUPILLE

Dr. Joseph (Joe) Jupille, an associate professor of political science, is in his second year as the University of Colorado's Faculty Athletics Representative (FAR) to the Pac-12 Conference, as he assumed the position on July 1, 2017.

Dr. Jupille, 47, is only the seventh FAR in CU history, joining a very prestigious list: Walter Franklin (1947-1948), Warren Thompson (1949-1966), William Baughn (1967-1989), James Corbridge (1989-2000), current CU chancellor Phil DiStefano (2000-2005) and Dr. David Clough (2005-2017).

Now in his 14th year at CU, he joined the faculty in 2005 and became an Associate Professor in 2007. He founded and served as Director of the Colorado European Union Center of Excellence (CEUCE) from 2008-15.

Professor Jupille's research specializes in rules and institutions, which comes in handy in the world of intercollegiate athletics. With James Caporaso (University of Washington) he is completing Theories of Institutions, which distills understandings of rules across a range of disciplinary orientations. He has previously published Institutional Choice and Global Commerce (2013, with Walter Mattli and Duncan Snidal) and Procedural Politics (2004), the latter of which centers on his core substantive and teaching expertise in the European Union (EU). He has been published widely in peer reviewed journals and edited volumes, including in the Annual Review of Political Science, Comparative Political Studies, European Political Science Review, International Organization and West European Politics.

Jupille has been involved with student-athletes almost since arriving at CU over a decade ago, serving on and then chairing the Boulder Faculty Assembly's Intercollegiate Athletics Committee (IAC), which works with the Department of Athletics in managing and thriving at the nexus of athletics and academics. He has served or continues to serve on a number of student-athlete-centered bodies such as the AD's Academic Risk Assessment (ARA) committee, the Title IX Task Force chaired by Senior Woman Administrator (SWA) Ceal Barry in addition to many others.

Jupille wants it all for CU student-athletes: a gold standard education, unparalleled opportunity for personal growth and professional preparation, a chance to enjoy year-round fresh air and sunshine and develop ways of being well, and of course, a world class athletic experience. It is the FAR's job to bring a faculty sensibility to the pursuit of these goals.

He earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science from UC Santa Barbara in 1992, a Master of Arts in International Public Policy from the Middlebury Institute of International Studies at Monterey in 1995, and his Ph.D. in Political Science from the University of Washington in 2000.

Prior to joining the CU faculty in 2005, he was an Assistant Professor of Political Science at Florida International University for almost six years (2000-05).

He was born in Chicago and 1970. He is married to the former Lisa Avanzino and the couple have four children (Michael, Alex, Jackson and Julia). An avid cyclist, he commutes daily to CU by bike from the town of Superior (six miles southeast of Boulder). He grew up as a fan of the Pacific 10 Conference and in particular the California Bears but his allegiance is now sworn to the Buffaloes.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR RICK GEORGE

Rick George was introduced as just the sixth full-time athletic director in University of Colorado history on July 17, 2013, returning to Boulder where he helped play a role in the school's first and only national championship in football some 23 years earlier.

George, 58, came to Colorado from the Texas Rangers baseball club of the American League, where he was named chief operating officer on October 5, 2010 with a promotion to president of business operations in February 2013.

He agreed to a 5-year contract at CU, and he officially started on the job on August 12, 2013. In June 2016, the Board of Regents approved a contract extension that carries him through 2020-21 academic and athletic year.

His list of achievements in his first 1,000 days in the position were many, but none more significant than shepherding through a $156 million Athletic Complex Expansion from creation through fruition, gaining approval from the Board of Regents and then raising nearly one-half of the estimated cost to initiate construction, which began May 12, 2014. The project was the core of the Sustainable Excellence Initiative (SEI), the jewel of which was a long-awaited indoor practice facility. Once green-lighted, he spearheaded the most successful fundraising campaign in athletic department history, raising over $100 million for the project.

By the end of his second year, George implemented the department's first-ever comprehensive strategic plan, which mapped CU's immediate and long range purpose and goals. He also redesigned the management teams, made tough budget decisions that reduced deficits he inherited (and has since produced two budget surpluses), and canvassed the state, region and nation in both friend-and fundraising. The department is now completing the process for its' next three-year plan through 2020-21.

In his fourth year in the position (2016-17), 13 of CU's 16 athletic teams were at one time or another ranked among the nation's Top 25 (including all five in the fall; skiing is a coed program with combined rankings). Included in that group was the football team, as the Buffaloes returned to the national rankings for the first time in 11 seasons, in part due to George's support of Mike MacIntyre as the program's head coach and allowing him to follow through with his plan to bring the Buffaloes back to national prominence. All but one team competed in the postseason, most in NCAA Championships, with football making it to a bowl game for the first time in nine years and both basketball teams going to their respective NIT events.

Near the end of his first year and most recently in his fifth, he was recognized by CU's Student-Athlete Advisory Committee as its choice for Staff Member of the Year; no token award, the group acknowledged his attendance at most home athletic events, regular meetings with team captains of all programs to interact with them and receive their feedback, and willingness to meet with any student-athlete and that his door is always open to them.

George brought the most diverse background to the position than any before him at Colorado: all five others had extensive and primarily exclusive college athletic histories, the only exceptions being when Marolt left CU after 10 years as ski coach to lead the U.S. Olympic ski team before returning, and Tharp, who was a university attorney with strong CU-Boulder campus ties. While George began and worked in the college athletic world for the first half of his professional career, he stepped outside that box for the second half.

He is just the sixth full-time athletic director in Colorado history, following in the footsteps of Harry Carlson (1927-65), Eddie Crowder (1965-84), Bill Marolt (1984-96), Dick Tharp (1996-2004) and Mike Bohn (2005-13). Two others have bridged directors in interim capacities, Jack Lengyel (six months between Tharp and Bohn) and Ceal Barry (two months between Bohn and George).

George was with the Rangers for less than three years, but saw the team win two American League championships and compile a 243-176 record (.580 winning percentage) during his time there, second-best in the major leagues during that time frame. As the COO, he worked closely with team president and CEO, baseball Hall-of-Famer Nolan Ryan, and was responsible for all facets of the Rangers' business operations, including oversight of all sales and marketing efforts, broadcast and communications, ticket and suite sales, naming rights, etc., in addition to overseeing the finance, human resource and operations departments.

Among his many accomplishments with the Rangers was a comprehensive branding study that successfully rebranded the ball club, and an implementation of a new ticketing strategy that over the course of three seasons increased ticket revenues by over $30 million. The club's attendance saw an increase of 40 percent from the 2010 season to nearly 3.5 million in 2012, second in the American League (behind the New York Yankees) and third in the majors. The 2013 numbers were on pace to exceed the 3 million mark again when he left the franchise for CU.

Prior to joining the Rangers, George served as executive vice president and chief of operations for the PGA TOUR for two-and-a-half years (beginning in June 2008). While with the TOUR, he worked with the corporate marketing department in renewing sponsorships and creating new events. He also oversaw the Tournament Business Affairs division that worked with Tournaments to increase tournament revenue.

He also worked for the PGA TOUR as president of the Champions Tour from 2003-08, and as the executive vice president for championship management his last three years there. His major accomplishments included increasing revenues and sponsorships and the development of strategic plans, the latter including a vision and mission statement as well as core values. The Champions Tour had grown to a minimum 29 events with over $55 million in prize money when he left for the PGA TOUR.

From 1998-2003, George served as President and CEO of the Fore!Kids Foundation, a 501c3 organization that raised money for children's charities via golf-related events, where he led rebranding and organizational efforts that resulted in increases in charitable giving to the Foundation.

At the collegiate level, George worked in three major conferences (Big Ten, Big 8, Southeastern) in football operations, beginning with his alma mater, the University of Illinois, as football recruiting coordinator (1983-87).

He graduated from Illinois in 1982 with a Bachelor of Arts in Liberal Arts & Sciences Individual Study that had an emphasis on Sports Communication and Journalism. He was a four-year letterman at cornerback for the Illini, playing in 44 straight games and starting in 27 games in all, as he played two years each under coaches Gary Moeller and Mike White. He was a two-time recipient of the school's Bruce Capel Award, given for dedication and courage to honor Capel who lost his life serving his country in Vietnam; George received the honor for his junior and senior seasons.

Upon his graduation, White named him the assistant director for player personnel for the Illini, and a year later (1983), he assumed the all sports recruiting coordinator. In March 1984, George took over the recruiting chores solely for football, with his first class ranked No. 1 in the nation by the recruiting services with all in the top 20; he coordinated five classes in all at Illinois when the call came to take him out west to Colorado.

On March 2, 1987, Bill McCartney hired him as Colorado's football recruiting coordinator. Two-and-a-half years later (Dec. 21, 1989), George was promoted to assistant athletic director for football operations, not coincidentally after the Buffaloes finished the regular season with an 11-0 record and the school's first-ever No. 1 national ranking in the polls. CU lost to Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl and would finish No. 4, but came back to go 11-1-1 in 1990, this time defeating the Irish in the Orange Bowl to earn consensus national champion honors.

Shortly thereafter, he left the Buffaloes for Vanderbilt University, where he was reunited with former CU offensive coordinator Gerry DiNardo, who was named the Commodores' head coach a year earlier. In eight years at Vanderbilt (1991-98), he also served as associate athletic director for external operations in conjunction with overseeing the football program. This was where George first expanded his professional role outside of solely football, as he had oversight over all external departments, particularly in the area of managing budgets and developing marketing and promotional strategies for all sports.

George was born April 3, 1960 in Woodstock, Ill., and graduated from Collinsville (Ill.) High School, where he lettered in football, basketball and baseball. He is married to the former Nancy Green, and the couple has two grown daughters, Jenni Reed (husband Tom) and Christi, and two granddaughters (Harper and Maddie).

On July 19, 2017, George was named chair of the LEAD1 Association, which represents the athletic directors, programs and student-athletes of the 129 member schools of the Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS). He immediately began serving a two-year term for the organization, as its mission includes influencing how the rules of college sports are enacted and implemented, advocating for the future of college athletics and providing various services to the members. He also serves on the Division I Council of the NCAA, and is part of the NCAA's D1 Council Transfer Working Group.

Conference History

The roots of the Pac-12 Conference date back 102 years to December 2, 1915, when the Pacific Coast Conference (PCC) was founded at a meeting at the Oregon Hotel in Portland. The original membership consisted of four schools — the University of California at Berkeley, the University of Washington, the University of Oregon, and Oregon State College (now Oregon State University). All still are charter members of the Conference.

Pacific Coast Conference play began in 1916 and, one year later, Washington State College (now Washington State University) was accepted into the league, with Stanford University following in 1918.

In 1922, the PCC expanded to eight teams with the admission of the University of Southern California (USC) and the University of Idaho. In 1924, the University of Montana joined the league roster, and in 1928, the PCC grew to 10 members with the addition of UCLA.

The Pacific Coast Conference competed as a 10-member league until 1950, with the exception of 1943-45 when World War II curtailed intercollegiate athletic competition to a minimum. During that time, the league's first commissioner was named. Edwin Atherton was commissioner in 1940 and was succeeded by Victor Schmidt in 1944. In 1950, Montana resigned from the Conference and joined the Mountain States Conference, essentially replacing Colorado, which left for the Big 7 two years earlier. The PCC continued as a nine-team conference through 1958.

In 1959, the PCC was dissolved and the Athletic Association of Western Universities was formed and Thomas J. Hamilton was appointed commissioner of the new league. The original AAWU membership included California, Stanford, Southern California, UCLA and Washington. Washington State joined the membership in 1962, while Oregon and Oregon State joined in 1964. Under Hamilton's watch, the name Pacific-8 Conference was adopted in 1968. In 1971, Wiles Hallock took over as commissioner of the Pac-8.

On July 1, 1978, the University of Arizona and Arizona State University were admitted to the league and the Pacific-10 Conference became a reality. In 1986-87, the league took on a new look, expanding to include 10 women's sports. Tom Hansen was named the commissioner of the Pac-10 in 1983, a role he would hold for 26 years until 2009. Hansen was succeeded by current commissioner Larry Scott, who took on the new role in July 2009.

During the 2010-11 academic year, Scott helped deliver monumental changes that transformed the conference into a modern 12-team league by adding the University of Colorado and the University of Utah. The addition of CU and Utah led to an agreement to equal revenue sharing for the first time in conference history, created two divisions (North and South) for football only, established a football championship game for the first time ever, secured a landmark media rights deal that dramatically increased national exposure and revenue for each school and established the Pac-12 Network and Pac-12 Digital Network that guaranteed enhanced exposure across all sports.

Colorado accepted its invitation to join the Pac-12 on June 11, 2010, as the Buffaloes were the first domino to fall in a change of the national landscape which, in just one week, saw Nebraska also leave the Big 12 and join the Big 10, Boise State depart the WAC for the Mountain West, TCU jump from the MWC for the Big East (before eventually landing in the Big 12). Less than a week later on June 17, Utah agreed to join CU to make it an even dozen in the Pac-12. Big-time rivals for the first half of the last century, the Buffaloes and Utes officially became the 11th and 12th members of the Conference on July 1, 2011, the first additions to the league since 1978. During the 33 years between expansions, Pac-10 teams claimed 258 NCAA titles (130 women's, 128 men's).

Pac-12 Commissioner Larry Scott

At present, the Pac-12 sponsors 11 men's sports and 13 women's sports, having added women's lacrosse for the first time for the spring of 2018. Additionally, the conference schools are members of the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation (MPSF) in four other men's sports and two women's sports. CU participates in the MPSF in indoor track and has competed since 1950 in the Rocky Mountain Intercollegiate Ski Association (RMISA) in skiing, which is a coed sport.

The Pac-12 Conference offices are located in the heart of San Francisco's downtown district and are headquartered in the same building as the Pac-12 Network.

Conference of Champions

Built on a firm foundation of academic excellence and superior athletic performance, the Conference ushered in a new era on July 1, 2011, officially becoming the Pac-12 Conference with the additions of the University of Colorado and University of Utah.

Just 27 days after the Conference officially changed its name, Commissioner Larry Scott announced the creation of the Pac-12 Networks, solidifying a landmark television deal and putting the Conference on the forefront of collegiate athletics. The Networks, including one national network, six regional networks, and a robust digital network marked the first-ever integrated media company owned by a college conference. In addition, the "TV Everywhere" rights allow fans to access Pac-12 Networks outside the home on any digital device, including smartphones and tablet computers.

That same year, the Pac-12 also launched its Globalization Initiative to proactively promote the Conference and member institutions through student-athlete exchanges and sport, as in the first five years, Pac-12 student-athletes have enjoyed unique cultural and athletic experiences in several foreign nations. In the past year, the Pac-12 became the first conference to have all of its schools become members of the Green Sports Alliance.

On the field, courts and in the pools of play, the Pac-12 rises above the rest, upholding its tradition as the "Conference of Champions®," claiming an incredible 175 NCAA team titles since 1999-2000. For the 13th consecutive year, the Pac-12 had the most NCAA titles of any conference in the country, having won at least six every year since 2000-01, including 35 over the last three years. No other conference has ever won 10 or more in a single athletic year, looking up at the record 14 the Pac-12 won in 1996-97 and 13 in 2016-17. Even more impressive has been the breadth of the Pac-12's success, with championships coming in 28 different men's and women's sports. The Pac-12 has led or tied the nation in NCAA Championships in 52 of the last 58 years (and was second four times and third twice).

Spanning over a century of outstanding athletics achievements, the Pac-12 was the first conference to reach 200, 300, 400 and now 500 championships; despite having two fewer members than three of the other four so-called “Power 5” conferences, the Pac-12 outdistances the next conference by over 200 crowns (the Big Ten is a distant second with 298). In all, Pac-12 conference teams have won 513 NCAA Championships (300 men’s, 183 women’s, 30 coed).

Individually, the Conference has produced an impressive number of NCAA individual champions, as through the 2016-17 school year, 2,334 individual crowns have been won by Pac-12 student-athletes over the years (1,370 in men’s championships, 778 in women’s and 186 in coed, e.g. skiing).

And since the NCAA began conducting women’s championships 37 years ago, Pac-12 members have claimed at least four national titles in a single season on 28 occasions, including in each of the last 18 years (2001-2018), with a record 10 during the 2016-17 school year followed by another nine in 2017-18.

2017-18 QUICK REVIEW

In the 2017-18 academic year, the Pac-12’s 12 NCAA titles came in the form of a nine women’s crowns and three men’s titles.

Living up to its well-deserved billing of “Conference of Champions®,” six different league schools claimed NCAA titles including three winning multiple crowns (Stanford four, UCLA three and USC two).

Of the 24 sports sponsored by the Conference, 17 witnessed at least half its teams participating in NCAA or other postseason action. The men sent 63 of a possible 101 teams into the postseason, the women 82 of a possible 130. Stanford’s four titles came in men’s and women’s soccer, women’s swimming and women’s tennis. UCLA claimed titles in men’s water polo, women’s gymnastics and beach volleyball, while USC’s pair came in women’s water polo and outdoor track. Arizona (women’s golf), California (women’s rowing) and Oregon State (baseball) rounded out the league’s victories.

While Colorado did not win an NCAA title in 2017-18 and the school’s count remains at 27, the Buffaloes finished second in skiing, third in women’s cross country (eighth in men’s) and 19th in women’s golf. CU has won 20 skiing titles (11 men’s, one AIAW women’s and eight coed) and seven cross country (five men’s, two women’s); the Buffs also were the consensus national champions in football in 1990, but since it is not an NCAA-sanctioned championship, it doesn’t count toward the Pac-12’s total of 513.

CU won back-to-back men’s NCAA cross country titles in 2013 and 2014.

Petra Hyncicova won both the classic and freestyle races at the 2017 NCAA’s.

David Ketterer swept the giant slalom and slalom races at the 2017 NCAA Ski Championships.

Dani Jones was the 2017 national champion in the indoor 3,000-meter run.

FOLSOM FIELD

Folsom Field, named after legendary University of Colorado Coach Frederick Folsom, opened for the 1924 season and has been the football team's home field ever since. The Buffaloes have played 94 seasons on the "hilltop," and own one of the nation's best all-time home records, as the Buffs are 312-172-10, a winning percentage of .642.

In 2018, the home finale against Utah on November 17 will be the 500th regular season game at Folsom.

The stadium was dedicated on October 11, 1924, as Colorado defeated Regis College, 39-0. It actually was the second home game of the season, as CU closed out playing at Gamble Field the week before with a 31-0 win over Western State.

Folsom is tied for the 21st oldest venue among the 129 NCAA Division I-A/FBS stadiums; it is the fifth oldest in the Pac-12 Conference. Through the years many improvements have been made, but the original beauty and intimate feeling has remained making it one of best venues in college football, if not all sports.

It originally was called Colorado Stadium, the name being changed to Folsom Field in 1944 following Folsom's death. In addition, old 24th Street was also changed to Folsom Street to honor the man who coached Colorado teams three different times totaling 15 years between 1895 and 1915. His 76.5 winning percentage (77-23-2) is still tops among all coaches ever at CU.

CU had played its games at Gamble Field for two decades, where seating was limited to temporary bleachers. In the winter of 1923-24, CU President George Norlin studied the possibility of a new stadium, as the approaching completion of a sparkling new gymnasium (Carlson Gym), the inadequate number of seats at Gamble Field (roughly 9,000) and the growing interest in physical education and intercollegiate athletics demanded that a remedy needed to take place soon.

The beginning of work on the stadium in January, 1924.

Investigation of a natural ravine just east of the site of the gymnasium as a site for the new stadium, suggested by professor Whitney Huntington, was not only a convenient location, but by using it a great expense could be avoided. After a financing plan was worked out, CU's own construction department began moving dirt with a steam shovel on January 14, 1924.

The new structure had an original capacity of 26,000, featuring wooden bleacher seating over cement, and quarter-mile running track. A California red wood, dipped in creosote, was selected as the initial material, as estimates at the time put a lifetime of around 13 years for the wood. There were 22 sections divided by radial aisles installed, the same set-up in the lower bowl that still exists today.

Accounts at the time put the cost of the stadium at around $2.60 per seat, instead of $10 had concrete been used; the total cost was $65,000. By comparison, the cost to construct Carlson Gym was $350,000.

With expansion in mind when originally built, it was by design rather easy to add an upper deck. In 1956, Folsom Field's capacity was upped to 45,000 when a second deck was erected around two-thirds of the stadium. Some 6,000 more seats were added in 1967 when the running track was removed and the team dressing facilities were constructed at the north end of the field.

Improvements continued, as the gigantic six-level press box facility was added on the west side for the start of the 1968 season. It also serves as the home for CU's Flatirons Club, a group of donors who financially support the athletic program.

In the summer of 1976, Folsom Field had another face-lift, as the wooden bleacher seats were removed and replaced with silver and gold aluminum bleachers, expanding the stadium to a capacity of 52,005.

The renovation of CU's team house in the summer of 1979 took away a few seats, changing the capacity to 51,463. The construction of the magnificent Dal Ward Center in 1991 added new bleacher seating in the north end zone and increased the capacity to 51,748. In 1992, the addition of a yellow concourse wall on the southeast side took away a few hundred seats, and corporate boxes (in 1995) lowered the capacity to 51,655.

The removal of a set of old rickety bleachers in 2001 and a few other changes placed the stadium capacity at 50,942, but that figure stood for just two seasons. The addition of suites and club seating on the east side (at a cost of $45.2 million) completed in August 2003 increased the capacity to 53,750, an all-time Folsom Field high.

Prior to the 1971 season, the playing surface at Folsom Field was natural grass. Monsanto of St. Louis, Mo., replaced the natural grass with Astroturf for the 1971 campaign, with the first game being played on the artificial surface against the University of Wyoming on September 18 (the Buffs won 56-13); it was a godsend, as that very morning, Boulder received a rare late summer snowstorm that blanketed the field with more than two feet of snow.

The original Astroturf surface was replaced with a "new rug" for the start of the 1978 season, and in the summer of 1989, "Astroturf-8" was installed, the third artificial surfacing in the school's history. Folsom was covered with artificial surfaces for 28 seasons (168 games), and it was fairly friendly for the Buffs, which posted a 110-56-2 record in those games.

In the spring of 1999, Folsom Field returned to natural grass, as "SportGrass" was installed on the stadium floor. The project, which included bio-thermal heating, drainage and a sub-air system, cost $1.2 million. Video display boards, known as "BuffVision" were also added in the summer of 1999 at a cost of $3.6 million; those were updated with state-of-the-art HD technology in 2012 at a cost of about $6.5 million.

In 2003, completion of a $45.2 million east side renovation added 1,903 club seats and 41 suites, increasing Folsom's capacity to its all-time high of 53,750. The state-of-the art complex remains one of the best in college football, is not nearly as high as many clubs and suites at most stadiums, and offers a great view of the foothills of the Rocky Mountains and when clear, the Continental Divide.

The capacity of Folsom was 53,613 from 2007-13, following the removal of the fourth rows from three different levels of the Flatirons Club prior to the 2007 season (seats that always had some kind of obstructed view). In 2014, the north end zone bleachers and two northeast corner sections of the stadium were completely renovated into loge and club seating, altering the capacity to its current number of 50,183.

FOLSOM CONCERT HISTORY

Folsom Field was one of the premier venues for stadium concerts at the height of their popularity in the 1970s and 1980s. In fact, the largest crowd in the stadium's history was for what was billed as the Folsom Music Festival on May 1, 1977: 61,500 people attended the rain-soaked mega concert featuring Fleetwood Mac, Bob Seger's Silver Bullet Band, local musicians Firefall and John Sebastian. Eventually for assorted reasons, Folsom hosted less shows and a 15-year dormancy in shows ended in the summer of 2016 with the Dead & Company performing two concerts. It all started in 1969 with a show headlined by The Byrds and the Steve Miller Band, though the actual day in July is contested. And a side note: at CU's 2000 graduation ceremony, with his daughter graduating, Neil Diamond sang the national anthem. Balch Fieldhouse, the CU Events Center and Macky Auditorium have also played host to other concerts on campus. Here's a list of Folsom's stadium shows:

ATHLETICS COMPLEX EXPANSION

The official groundbreaking took place on May 12, 2014, signifying the start of CU's $156 million Athletics Complex Expansion (ACE), the most aggressive construction project undertaken by the university in relation to athletics since 1924, when Folsom Field was built. The project had three distinct phases: first was to renovate seating in two areas of Folsom, the north bleachers and the northeast corner (sections 121 and 122), both replaced with high-end club seating (1,876 total). The second was a combination of renovating a good portion of the existing Dal Ward Athletic Center (built in 1991) and building a massive new structure that would be named the Champions Center. The third and final phase was a long-awaited Indoor Practice Facility (IPF) that would also include a state-of-the-art 300-meter track.

All three phases took less than two years to complete through the combined efforts of Populous (the designer) and Mortenson Construction, with an official dedication on February 26, 2016 that was hosted by CU graduate and long-time ESPN college football reporter Chris Fowler.

DAL WARD ATHLETIC CENTER

The 1990-91 athletic season was a landmark one for the University of Colorado in two areas. The year produced two national championships, CU's first in football and its 14th at the time in skiing, and the men's basketball team reached the NIT Final Four. That was also the year that the magnificent Dal Ward Athletic Center became a reality.

The entire construction process was completed in less than nine months, from ground-breaking in December 1990, to completion the following August. The $14 million building was completely funded through private donations. The multi-functional, state-of-the-art structure was one of the top facilities anywhere in college athletics upon its completion. The DWAC boasted 92,000 square feet that included academic, sports medicine and weight training centers, a full-service kitchen and daily dining area, an auditorium, men's and women's locker rooms, a player's lounge and offices for athletic administration and coaches.

Construction on the project actually began in November 1990, with the demolition of the old team house building, which had stood in the north end of Folsom Field since its erection in 1967. The foundation was dug and concrete poured over the next couple of months, with construction of the actual building starting in February 1991. The structure was available for the football team's use by mid-August, with the remainder of the building completed later that fall.

The building is named for Dallas Ward, the football coach who led CU into the Big Seven Conference in 1948. Ward was the head coach for the Buffaloes for 11 seasons (1948-1958), compiling a 63-41-6 record, which made him the third-winningest coach in CU history at the time. His teams, noted for the single wing offense, were a constant threat to Oklahoma's supremacy in the Big Seven Conference.

The tile roof, native stone walls and traditional Italtinate architecture were selected to compliment the style of the Boulder campus, and it also established a new sense of entry to the campus coming from the north. The building features a dramatic two story entry and lobby space with a grand staircase. In 1999, a state-of-the-art video replay board, known as "BuffVision," replaced the original scoreboard.

"We have built something that will truly give our athletes a chance to compete with the best," then-athletic director Bill Marolt said. The building was designed by the architectural firm of Sink Combs Dethlefs of Denver, with construction performed by Gerald H. Phipps, Inc.

But over the course of time, as is often the case with many new buildings, the needs of athletics and the football program outgrew what the Dal Ward Center could provide. Sure, there were a few tweaks and minor remodeling through the years, but as part of the ACE, there was a 37,000-square foot renovation that included the addition of men's and women's Olympic sports locker rooms, expansion of the Herbst Academic Center and a new weight room. The former athletic director's offices were converted into a leadership development program suite and a Touchdown Club created overlooking Folsom Field.

CHAMPIONS CENTER

The jewel of the ACE was no doubt the construction of the state-of-the-art Champions Center, a 212,000-square foot, six-story structure erected on the northeast corner of Folsom Field. The building houses new football offices, almost all of the athletic administration and Olympic sport coaches, new areas for sports medicine, strength and conditioning and equipment, meeting rooms, a dining facility and a rooftop terrace for game days and year-round special events.

There are five hydrotherapy pools (hot, cold, treadmill and two recovery), the weight room spans 11,285 square feet and massive meeting rooms that are comfortable and not cramped. The second floor also houses a Sports Medicine and Performance Center that is open to the public and provides medical services campus nearly 100 years ago, to be reminiscent of the hill towns around Florence and Siena, Italy. (The consistency maintained through the years is one of the reasons the CU campus always is at or near the top of the list of the most beautiful in the nation.)

INDOOR PRACTICE FACILITY

When inclement weather hit during the fall or during spring practices, there were two choices prior to 2016: practice inside Balch Fieldhouse, or since 2006, an erected bubble-like complex that stood on the west practice field for six months out of the year. But that all changed with the third phase of the ACE, which added a 108,000-square foot, net zero energy (NZE) indoor practice facility (IPF), easily one of the best-ever constructed in college athletics.

The facility can serve all sports programs, has a 90-foot maximum clear height to aid the kicking game, and has a six-lane, 300-meter competition-venue track allows CU to host IAFF and NCAA-sanctioned indoor track events. There are 2,604 solar panels on the roof that create approximately 1,200 MWh/year of power generation. A 534-space underground parking garage below the IPF was constructed and will be a boon to the game day experience for CU fans. The final part of this phase was the re-sodding of Franklin Field, a 106,000-square-foot outdoor grass practice field adjacent to the IPF that is the outdoor practice home for the Buffaloes.

Less than one month after it opened, the Bleacher Report came out with its list of the top 15 indoor football practice facilities in the nation, and Colorado's was included among them. The only other Pac-12 school was Oregon, and most of the others were at southern schools, likely built to deal with oppressive heat, hurricanes and tornadoes.

on game day that few if any other stadiums offer in the nation, college or pro. The rooftop terrace offers stunning panoramic views of Boulder's signature Flatirons as well as all the way out to the peaks of the Continental Divide.

"Our vision of sustainable excellence is about transforming opportunity," said athletic director Rick George, who spearheaded the project from the very start of his tenure (construction started nine months to the day of his first on the job). "In achieving this vision, each student-athlete that takes the field in black and gold will do so bolstered with the knowledge that we've provided them with every resource necessary to be successful – both in competition and in life beyond graduation."

The Mortenson design/build team completed the fast-paced project without significant disruption to daily campus activity. The facility was also designed with bricks, mortar and masonry work in the familiar CU style of architecture – Tuscan vernacular. That style was adopted for the

MASCOT/NICKNAME

The University of Colorado has one of the more unique mascots in all of intercollegiate athletics, a real buffalo named Ralphie. The tradition just celebrated its 50th anniversary during the 2017 season.

The live buffalo leads the football team out on the field both at the start of the game and second half. It is truly one of the special sights that exist anywhere in college or professional sports, especially for opposing teams, who often stop in their tracks watching the massive buffalo round the end zone and head directly at their sideline.

The buffalo first appeared in 1934, three weeks after a contest to select an official school nickname by the Silver & Gold newspaper had come to an end and "Buffaloes" was the winning entry. For the final game of the '34 season, a group of students paid $25 to rent a buffalo calf along with a real cowboy as his keeper. The calf was the son of Killer, a famed bison at Trails End Ranch in Fort Collins. It took the cowboy and four students to keep the calf under control on the sidelines, a 7-0 win at the University of Denver on Thanksgiving Day.

Prior to 1934, CU athletic teams usually were referred to as the "Silver and Gold," but other nicknames teams were sometimes called included Silver Helmets, Yellow Jackets, Hornets, Arapahoes, Big Horns, Grizzlies and Frontiersmen. The student newspaper decided to sponsor a national contest in the summer of 1934, with a $5 prize to go to the author of the winning selection. Entries, over 1,000 in all, arrived from almost every state in the union. Athletic Director Harry Carlson, graduate manager Walter Franklin and Kenneth Bundy of the Silver and Gold were the judges.

Local articles first reported that Claude Bates of New Madrid, Mo., and James Proffitt of Cincinnati, Ohio, were co-winners for the prize as both submitted "Buffaloes" as their entry. But 10 days later, the newspaper declared Boulder resident Andrew Dickson the winner, after a follow-up revealed his submission of "Buffaloes" had actually arrived several days before those of the original winners. Through the years, synonyms which quickly came into use included "Bisons," "Bufs," "Thundering Herd," "Stampeding Herd," "Golden Avalanche," and "Golden Buffaloes."

Live buffaloes made appearances at CU games on and off through the years, usually in a pen on the field or sometimes driven around in a cage; in the 1940s, the school kept a baby buffalo in a special pen at the University Riding Academy. The first named buffalo was "Mr. Chips," who appeared for the first time at the 1957 CU Days kickoff rally, as supporter Mahlon White donated him to the school, and it was cared for by a men's honorary.

A few years passed between a live mascot on the sideline and the tradition Colorado fans have come to know so well. In 1966, John Lowery, the father of a CU freshman from Lubbock, Texas, donated to the school a six-month old buffalo calf from Sedgewick, Colo., and first appeared on Oct. 1, 1966 when the Buffs defeated Kansas State, 10-0.

For a while, she was billed as "Rraalph," but the origin of the name is in some doubt. Some say it was given by the student body after sounds she allegedly made while running and snorting; others say it was named for Ralph Jay Wallace, the junior class president at the time; and the original handlers will tell a third version. Regardless, an astute fan soon discovered that the buffalo was in fact a female, thus the name alteration to Ralphie.

The initial tradition was for CU's five sophomore class officers to run the buffalo around the stadium in a full loop. They would pick her up from caretaker C.D. "Buddy" Hays, who kept her at the Green Mountain Riding Stables during the season at Hidden Valley Ranch in the off season. The officers would run her for two hours in the morning to tire her a bit to keep her under control by the time the game started. At the conclusion of the run, the fans would break into the "Buffalo Stomp," which would literally shake the stadium in deafening fashion as the team took the field. But CU officials soon had the tradition stopped because of the actual physical damage it was causing.

Around that same time, head coach Eddie Crowder was approached with the idea the charging buffalo running out on the field before the game with the team behind right her. Crowder thought it was a great idea, and the debut of this great tradition took place on Sept. 16, 1967, and was celebrated with a 27-7 win over Baylor and the tradition was here to stay. The five sophomores appointed themselves as the board of directors of a fundraising effort to bring Ralphie to the '67 Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston, raising the necessary money through selling stock. (Eventually, those who had training in working with a wild animal eventually replaced the sophomores.)

Ralphie attended every CU home football game for 13 years (including all bowls), and retired at the end of the 1978 season. CU's first Ralphie achieved nationally celebrity status, and was even kidnapped in 1970 by some Air Force Academy students as well as being named the school's 1971 Homecoming Queen at the height of the anti-establishment era.

In 1976, The Bank of Boulder and its president Steve Bosley, proposed to Crowder they would do a fundraiser to send Ralphie I to the Orange Bowl Game with Ohio State.

When a reporter asked Bosley how Ralphie would travel to Miami, he explained that the information was top secret since CU was concerned that Ohio State students would try to kidnap (or “buffalo-nap”) Ralphie. The story of the potential “buffalo-napping” made newspapers nationwide, featuring a picture of Ralphie in full charge with her handlers. The story stimulated over $25,000 in donations. Ralphie’s trip to the Orange Bowl cost $2,500, and the balance was put into a fund for Ralphie’s future care.

In 1978, when Ralphie became ill, Bosley organized a search headed by Buddy Hays, who discovered a calf named Moon, short for Moonshine, which was owned by Boulder native Lyn Russell Holt. Holt grew up raising mainly domestic animals, but was an accomplished bull rider in area rodeos who loved buffalo. Bosley, The Bank of Boulder, and bank director Robert Confer bought Moonshine from Holt and donated her to CU. But the name Ralphie had become so popular that former athletic director Eddie Crowder made it permanent.

Ralphie II made her first appearance at CU’s final home game of the 1978 season. At age 12, after serving the Buffs for 10 years, she passed away on Sept. 19, 1987, following a 31-17 CU win over Stanford.

Ralphie III, donated by the C-Club, was pressed into action earlier than anticipated, as she had been in training for the 1988 season. Originally named “Tequila,” she made her debut on Nov. 7, 1987, when the Buffs beat Missouri, 27-10. After over 10 years of service, she passed away in January 1998, at the age of 13.

Ralphie IV was donated to the university by media and sports entrepreneur Ted Turner in 1998. Born in April 1997 on the Flying D Ranch in Gallatin Gateway, Montana, which is a part of Turner Ranches, she was named “Rowdy” by ranch hands. She was separated from her mother when she was about a month old and was literally found in the jaws of a coyote with bite marks around her neck. She survived the attack and was bottle-fed by the hands for four months. She was released back to the herd but wouldn’t bond with them, so the ranch hands took her back in and fed her grasses and grain. It was then that she was donated to CU as a yearling early in the spring of 1998.

Ralphies IV and V together in November 2007

John Parker, who trained and housed both Ralphie II and III and supervised the early training of Ralphie IV, retired after 12 years of service as caretaker in May 2000. His assistant, Ted Davis, assumed the program duties for the next year, while long-time CU supporters Dale and Lynn Johnson housed Ralphie for the following season.

In 2001, two former Ralphie Handlers and CU graduates, Ben Frei and Kevin Priola, took over as volunteer directors of the program. Together they coordinated the selection and managing of up to 15 student handlers along with all aspects of training. The overall program was managed from 1994-2013 by Gail Pederson, the CU Athletic Department’s Chief of Staff.

Ralphie IV made her debut against Colorado State at Mile High Stadium in Denver on September 5, 1998. She appeared at six bowl games and four Big 12 Championship games. In November 2007, “Ralphie’s Salute To A New Era” was held, where Ralphie IV was semi-retired and a 14-month old Ralphie V was officially introduced to the public. Ralphie IV’s last game was the 2008 season opener, as she led CU on to the field one last time, again versus CSU in Denver. She died on March 19, 2017, due to liver failure just one month shy of turning 20.

Ralphie V, known as “Blackout,” (she was the darkest calf in the herd), also from a Ted Turner Ranch, the Vermejo Park Ranch in New Mexico, was donated to the university in January 2007 as a 325-pound, four-month old calf. She made her debut on April 19, 2008 at CU’s annual spring game (which drew a record 17,800 spectators) and her regular season debut five months later on Sept. 6 at Folsom Field. She will be 11 years old this September and has reached full maturity, weighs in at approximately 1,200 pounds and as with all buffalo, can reach speeds up to 25 miles per hour (which she reached during her run around Folsom Field).

The Ralphie Live Mascot Program as it is formally known is currently under the direction of program manager John Graves, longtime coach Ben Frei and assistant coach Taylor Stratton, all of whom were handlers when they were CU students.

RALPHIE STATS: The five Ralphies have led the Buffaloes on to the field for 342 games (not including spring games): 288 home games, 24 bowl games, 17 Rocky Mountain Showdowns in Denver, nine regular season road games and four Big 12 Championship games.

NOTE: In 2016, President Barack Obama signed into law a bill that declared the bison as the official “National Mammal of the United States.”

Mike MacIntyre is now in his sixth season as the head football coach at the University of Colorado, as he was named the 25th to the position in the school's history on December 10, 2012. He was hired at CU after leading San Jose State to its first 10-win season in 25 years; in his fourth year at CU, he led the Buffaloes to their first 10-win season in 15 seasons.

MacIntyre, 53, is 41-59 in seven seasons as a collegiate head coach, 25-38 in five at Colorado. Each of his first four CU teams made gigantic strides, but his 2016 team (10-4) earned him eight National Coach of the Year honors from the Associated Press, Walter Camp, Bobby Dodd, ESPN/Home Depot, FWAA/Eddie Robinson, American Football Coaches Association (AFCA), SB Nation and Scout.com, as well as a finalist for the Bear Bryant and Maxwell Club awards. He also earned the AFCA Region 5 Coach of the Year honor and the group's inaugural Comeback Coach of the Year Award. The Colorado Sports Hall of Fame presented him with its "King of the Hill" honor for all sports within the state for 2016.

His fifth CU team in 2017 posted a 5-7 record, opening with three straight wins before going 2-7 in Pac-12 play. The team was in sort of a transitional year after losing several key players off its 2016 Pac-12 South champion team, including six players on defense that wound up on NFL rosters. Three of the league losses were by a combined 18 points (including three- and four-point setbacks).

The 2016 Buffaloes tied with five others for the most improved in the nation overall (+5½) and the most improved all-time in Pac-12 Conference league games (+7). He also earned Pac-12 Coach of the Year honors as Colorado won the league's South Division with an 8-1 mark and earned its first appearance in the conference's championship game. The Buffaloes returned to the nation's Top 25 for the first time in 11 years, climbing as high as No. 9 in both the Associated Press and USA Today/Coaches polls (and No. 8 in the College Football Playoff Standings). The Buffs were ranked No. 10 in the CFP's final standings, and finished No. 15 in the coaches and No. 17 in the AP polls, the first time CU made the final rankings since 2002.

The team had been making significant improvement from one year to the next, most notably closing games stronger in 2016 than it had been after losing eight league games by one score over the 2014-15 seasons. In its sixth year in the Pac-12, the Buffs finally picked up their first wins over Arizona State, Oregon, Stanford and UCLA.

His second Buffalo team set over 100 offensive records and started to close the gap in talent and performance with their Pac-12 brethren despite a 2-10 record in 2014, and in 2015, it was the defense's turn, showing improvement by as many as 50 spots nationally in many major defensive areas as the team would finish 4-9. The biggest jump came in points allowed per game, slicing off 11.5 per from the previous year, the fifth-best improvement in all of Division I/FBS.

But that team, like the 2014 squad, had some struggles closing out many games, a typical sign of youth needing to develop. Those late game woes may have cost the Buffs four wins in each of the last two seasons, so signs that CU is pulling closer to even with their Pac-12 counterparts is evidenced at every turn.

In his first year in Boulder (2013), he guided the Buffaloes to a 4-8 record, matching the number of wins in the program for the previous two seasons. There was measured improvement across the board, as evidenced by the team improving in over two dozen statistical categories despite playing the nation's seventh toughest schedule, which included five 10-win teams.

With a 41-27 win over Colorado State in the '13 season opener, he became just the second head coach since 1932 at Colorado to win his first game, joining Rick Neuheisel in 1995 as the only pair to do so among the 15 different men to lead the program in that time frame. He also had to face the daunting task of rallying his team after a devastating flood hit Boulder, forcing the cancellation of a game, which led to two consecutive bye weeks after the Buffs started out 2-0.

The team improved in 29 major statistical categories, in most cases rather dramatically, and set a record for the fewest fumbles in a season with just 14 while reducing penalties dramatically (ending the season with just 10 over the final four games, a 50-year program low). His second CU team broke that fumbles mark with just 12.

He coached San Jose State to a 10-2 record in 2012, with a final regular season ranking of No. 24 in the Associated Press and USA Today/ESPN Coaches polls as well as in the final BCS Standings. The Spartans earned a berth in the Military Bowl where it defeated Bowling Green, 29-20, and finished No. 21 in the national polls (the win, per NCAA policy, is not credited to him since he did not coach SJSU in the bowl).

For his accomplishments at San Jose, he was the recipient of the 2012 Fellowship of Christian Athletes National Coach of the Year. The award is presented to a coach who exemplifies Christian principles and who is involved in the FCA, in addition to success and performance of that coach's team.

He assumed the SJSU position in December 2009, compiling a 16-21 record with the Spartans; he took over a team that had gone 2-10 in 2009, but began instilling a different culture despite a 1-12 record his first season in San Jose. His second Spartan team went 5-7, but closed the year with thrilling wins over Navy and Fresno State. His SJSU teams thus won 12 of his last 14 games there.

San Jose State's most impressive wins in his final year there came over San Diego State, Navy, BYU and Louisiana Tech, teams that otherwise combined to go 30-12 in 2012. Tech in particular was an offensive powerhouse (led the nation in scoring, second in total offense and fourth in passing), but their coaches felt MacIntyre and his staff put together the best plan to disrupt its high-octane offense of any of its opponents, including Texas A&M. The only losses were to Stanford (20-17 in the season opener, as the Cardinal won on a fourth quarter field goal) and to Utah State.

The 2012 season under MacIntyre is one of the best in San Jose State's nearly 120-year football history. In recording their first 10-win season since 1987, the Spartans did it with a highly-productive offense that scored 423 points, a defense that ranked among the national leaders in many statistical categories and reliable special teams.

His third Spartan team saw a school-record 16 SJSU players earn All-Western Athletic Conference honors, which came in a year that 36 school and conference records either were tied or broken.

MacIntyre's San Jose State teams performed in the classroom as well. In 2011, the school had a record number of Academic All-WAC team members – 13 – while defensive end Travis Johnson became the Spartans' first player in 30 years to get Academic All-America recognition. In addition, San Jose State's Academic Progress Rate (APR) score was 981, second best in the WAC.

Before his 2010 head coaching debut, MacIntyre instituted a comprehensive recruiting plan and initiated a "Summer Bridge" program for his first recruiting class to provide his newcomers a smooth transition into life as a college football player (he installed the same program at Colorado). Facing five nationally-ranked teams early in the season, the Spartans rebuilt themselves repeatedly, and were positioned late for victory in four of their final five games before finishing with a 1-12 record.

Under MacIntyre, the 2011 Spartans produced the fourth-best turnaround in their football history with a 4½-game improvement, exhibiting resiliency and resourcefulness to find a winning way: four of the team's five wins came in the game's final minute. The opportunistic Spartans were the co-national leaders with 20 fumble recoveries, tied for fourth in turnovers gained (33), were disciplined as the second least penalized team in the Football Bowl Subdivision and ranked in the top 25 in passing offense (23rd) for the first time in eight years. After that season, San Jose State was so pleased with the direction of the program that they extended MacIntyre's contract through 2017.

A veteran coach of 28 seasons, MacIntyre arrived at San Jose State after two years as the defensive coordinator at Duke University, where he was reunited with head coach David Cutcliffe from earlier in his coaching days. Those Blue Devil defenses were among Duke's best statistically over a 20-year span, and in 2009, Duke's five wins were the most in a season by the Blue Devils since 1994. The American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) named him its 2009 FBS Assistant Coach of the Year.

Prior to returning to college ball, MacIntyre spent five seasons in the National Football League with the New York Jets (2007) and Dallas Cowboys (2003-06) coaching defensive backs. Working for legendary coach Bill Parcells, the Cowboys returned to the NFL playoffs in 2003 and again in 2006 after missing out on postseason competition during the 2000 through 2002 seasons.

MacIntyre has coached on both sides of the line, spending four years at Ole Miss (1999-2002) where he started as the wide receivers coach for two seasons and the defensive secondary coach in his final two years. The Rebels posted a 29-19 record in that time with bowl appearances in the 1999 and 2002 Independence Bowls and the 2000 Music City Bowl. The 2001 Rebels ranked fifth nationally in pass defense, allowing just 161.3 yards per game.

At Mississippi, among his recruits were two high profile student-athletes that one could sign to letters-of-intent, quarterback Eli Manning and linebacker Patrick Willis. And along his coaching trail, he has mentored many current and former NFL players including recently retired former Dallas and Cincinnati safety Roy Williams, a five-time Pro Bowl player. At Dallas, he also tutored Terrence Newman, the former Kansas State cornerback who longtime CU fans certainly remember.

He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at the University of Georgia, working two years (1990-91) in that capacity. He then coached one year as the defensive coordinator at Davidson (1992), four years at Tennessee Martin (1993-96) and two seasons at Temple (1997-98); while with the Owls, he coached under former CU assistant coach Ron Dickerson and then Bobby Wallace, and in '98 helped coach Temple to a 28-24 upset of No. 14 Virginia Tech. He then joined Cutcliffe's staff at Ole Miss the following season.

A 1989 graduate of Georgia Tech, he lettered twice (1987-88) at free safety and punt returner for legendary head coach Bobby Ross. Prior to becoming a Yellow Jacket, MacIntyre played two seasons (1984-85) at Vanderbilt for his father, George, the head coach of the Commodores from 1979-85. The elder MacIntyre, who passed away in January 2016 at the age of 76, was the national coach of the year in 1982 when Vandy beat Alabama on its way to an 8-4 record. It was very special to Mike MacIntyre that he was able to earn the Bobby Dodd Award for 2016 that his father won in 1982.

MacIntyre earned a bachelor's degree in Business Management from Georgia Tech and his master's in Education with an emphasis on Sports Management from Georgia in 1991.

He originally agreed to a five-year deal with an annual salary of $2 million plus incentives (January 1, 2013 through December 31, 2017); in February 2014, CU's Board of Regents approved a one-year extension through the end of 2018. He was extended three more seasons through 2021 in January 2017, with his total package over the five years increased to $16.25 million.

He was born George Michael MacIntyre on March 14, 1965, in Miami, Fla., and is married to the former Trisha Rowan; the couple has three children, Jennifer, Jay and Jonston; Jay is a junior wide receiver on the CU football team while Jonston is a sophomore quarterback at Chapman College, where he also plays basketball. As previously stated, he is very active with the Fellowship of Christian Athletes as well as being an AFCA/Jason Foundation Ambassador, assisting the organization in spreading awareness of the problem of youth suicide.

A longtime proponent of the Be the Match Registry dating back to his time in San Jose, he has personally been responsible for almost 2,000 registrations which have led to saving eight lives (the organization matches donors for bone marrow and stem cells). In March 2018, representatives of the Be the Match presented MacIntyre with the Rod Carew Award for his work and dedication to its mission.

WHAT THEY SAID ABOUT MIKE MACINTYRE

ELI MANNING, New York Giants Quarterback

MacIntyre recruited Manning to Mississippi while on the Rebels' staff.

"As good a coach as Mike MacIntyre is, he is an even better person. He recruited me to Ole Miss with a little help from my mother and father, and I was fortunate enough to work with him on both sides of the ball.

"He coached our wide receivers my freshman year, so I worked closely with him on our passing game, and then for the next two years I got to throw against his secondary every day in practice when he coached the defensive backs, which was invaluable in my preparation.

"He's a great coach and a great recruiter, and he will not be outworked. I wish Mike all the best at CU."

PATRICK WILLIS, San Francisco 49ers Linebacker

MacIntyre recruited Willis to Mississippi while on the Rebels' staff.

"Coach MacIntyre is a great guy, a guy who knows how to recruit. A guy who knows how to get guys to play, get guys on one accord. He proved that at San Jose State this year, leading them to a great season. I'm really happy for him and I wish him the best of luck at Colorado."

DAVID CUTCLIFFE, Duke Head Football Coach

MacIntyre worked for Cutcliffe at both Mississippi and Duke.

"Congratulations to Coach MacIntyre and his family – the University of Colorado has hired an excellent coach and an even finer man.

"Obviously our history together runs deep, and I couldn't be happier for him, Trisha and their children. Plain and simple, Coach MacIntyre knows how to coach the game of football. It's in his blood. He understands the importance of the well-rounded student-athlete as well as the football program's place in the community.

"His success in three years at San Jose State is well-documented and his work as an assistant coach on both the collegiate and professional levels speaks for itself. But on top of all of his coaching excellence – and there is a great deal of that – Coach MacIntyre is a tremendous person."

MARV SUNDERLAND, Tennessee Titans Scout

MacIntyre worked with Sunderland when both were with the New York Jets

"He's highly organized, a very good teacher, and a disciplinarian, but not in a nasty way, he commands it through respect. He's a very people-oriented type of person who will be a great recruiter for the University of Colorado. This man is a class guy."

DUKE IHENACHO, Former Denver Bronco Defensive Back

MacIntyre coached Ihenacho at San Jose State

"That's my guy, Coach Mac. I'm trying to get him to the scrimmage tomorrow, but I'm not sure how busy he is. CU has a good coach. They have a very passionate coach obviously. I think they got somebody that cares for the players and cares about the program. I can't say [anything] but nice things and great things about Coach Mac because I played under him and he benefitted me. Coach Mac is a great guy and he is going to get that program on the right track."

THE ASSISTANT COACHES

D.J. ELIOT

Defensive Coordinator/Outside Linebackers

D.J. Eliot is in his second season as the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at Colorado, as he joined the Buffalo staff on January 19, 2017. He now overall has 19 years of coaching experience in the collegiate ranks.

Eliot, 41, joined the Colorado staff from the University of Kentucky, where he was the Wildcats' defensive coordinator and linebackers coach for four seasons (2013-16). He helped coach UK to the 2016 TaxSlayer Bowl, the first postseason appearance for Kentucky since 2010.

In his first game as CU's D-coordinator, his scheme helped the Buffs defeat Colorado State, 17-3; the Rams had scored 58 points a week earlier against Oregon State. Since the defensive coordinator role evolved in the late 1960s, that tied for the fewest points that CU allowed in the first game of a new DC. And with a 37-3 win over Texas State in week two, the six points were the fourth-fewest the Buffs have allowed in the first two games of a season in the post-World War II Era.

At his previous two coaching stops, Kentucky and Florida State, he coached eight players who were drafted in the National Football League, including two first round picks. Linebacker Bud Dupree was a 2015 first round selection of the Pittsburgh Steelers, the first Kentucky first-rounder in 12 years, and defensive end Bjoern Werner from Florida State, who was selected by Indianapolis in 2013.

(He has coached two conference defensive players of the year and first-team All-Americans, Werner (the 2012 Atlantic Coast winner) and linebacker Nick Bunting at Tulsa, the 2006 Conference USA defensive POY.)

Overall at Kentucky, he coached 11 Wildcats who earned All-SEC recognition and in three of his four years with the school one of his linebackers recorded over 100 tackles in a season. Avery Williams, currently on the Tennessee Titans roster, recorded 102 stops in 2013, Josh Forrest, now with the Los Angeles Rams, posted 110 in 2014, a figure that ranked No. 3 in the SEC that season, while Jordan Jones had 109 in Eliot's final year with UK (Jones earned second-team All-SEC honors, also logging 14 tackles for loss that included four sacks).

At Kentucky, the Wildcats set a new school record for defensive touchdowns scored in a season with six in 2014; UK recorded 23 takeaways that year. UK jumped 45 places in the total defense rankings from 2013 to 2014 under Eliot, finishing in the top half of the nation in that statistic. In 2015, UK ranked 28th in the FBS in passing defense by giving up only 198.1 yards per game, and in 2016, sophomore safety Mike Edwards finished the regular season leading all SEC defensive backs in tackles (93) while tying for the team lead in interceptions with three, two coming against No. 11 Louisville and Heisman Trophy winner Lamar Jackson in the Cats' 41-38 victory.

His presence at Florida State helped lead a revival of FSU's defense. The year prior to his arrival, the Seminoles ranked 108th in total defense and rushing defense. However, by 2012, FSU ranked second nationally in total defense (254.1 yards per game) and sixth in scoring defense (14.7 points per game).

In his three seasons at Florida State (2010-12), the 'Noles went 31-10 and he helped FSU tie for the national lead in sacks with 48 his first year there. In his second season FSU limited opponents to just 2.35 yards per carry, which led the nation in that category. His defensive ends on the 2012 team, Werner and Cornelius Carradine, combined for and 31 tackles for losses, including 24 sacks, when FSU finished 12-2.

In his second of three seasons at Rice (2007-09), he helped the Owls go 10-3 and win the 2008 Texas Bowl, the programs first bowl win since 1950 and first 10-win season since 1949.

Eliot got his start in coaching along the Rocky Mountain Front Range at his alma mater, Wyoming, as a graduate assistant in 1999. From there he went to the University of Houston as a graduate assistant for two years before landing in a similar position at Miami for the 2002 season; the Hurricanes went 12-0 and were ranked No. 1 at the end of the regular season before falling 31-24 in double overtime to Ohio State in the BCS National Championship Game.

He spent two years in Division I-AA (FCS), coaching the linebackers at Texas State University (San Marcos). He helped lead a defensive turnaround (34.8 to 20.3 points per game, as well as 395 to 314 yards allowed). In 2005, the Bobcats went 11-3, reaching the semifinals of the I-AA playoffs.

Eliot lettered at linebacker at the University of Wyoming for coach Dana Dimel and graduated with a bachelor's degree in Natural Science in 1999. He earned his Master's degree in Education from the University of Houston in 2002.

He was born August 14, 1976 in Stillwater, Okla., and grew up in nearby Edmond, graduating from Edmond Memorial High School, where he lettered in football and basketball. He and his wife, the former Mikel Marsh, have one son, Dawson, and three daughters, Drue, Page and Reace. His favorite hobby outside of football is spending time and playing with his children. His first name is Darin.

AT-A-GLANCE—He has coached in 139 Division I-A (FBS) games as a full-time coach, including six bowl games (2006 Armed Forces, 2008 Texas, 2010 Chick-fil-A, 2011 Champ Sports, 2013 Orange, 2016 TaxSlayer). At Texas State, he coached in 25 Division I-AA (FCS) games, including three playoff contests. As a graduate assistant at three FBS schools, he was involved in 46 additional games and coached in the 2002 Fiesta/BCS National Championship game for Miami against Ohio State.

KLAYTON ADAMS

Co-Offensive Coordinator/Offensive Line

Klayton Adams is in his sixth year on the Colorado staff, his third as the offensive line coach and his first as a co-offensive coordinator. He coached the running backs and tight ends in his first three seasons in Boulder after joining new head coach Mike MacIntyre's staff on January 1, 2013.

Adams, 35, came to CU from San Jose State, where he coached the tight ends under MacIntyre for two seasons. Though he never directly coached the running backs before coming to Colorado, at San Jose he effectively integrated the tight ends into several hybrid roles and had run game coordination experience in his background. At SJSU, he coached two-time John Mackey Award watch list member Ryan Otten to honorable mention All-American honors.

He transitioned smoothly into coaching the offensive line, as the 2016 group allowed the team to post its highest average per rush in 10 seasons (4.12), blocked for its first 1,000-yard runner in seven years (Phillip Lindsay, 1,189 yards) and cut down the overall sacks allowed by 13 from the previous season (41 to 28, with just 14½ of those allowed by the O-line). The linemen were flagged for just 23 penalties in 13 games. Lindsay again rushed for over 1,000 yards (1,474) in 2017, becoming the first player in CU history to accomplish that feat in back-to-back seasons.

As running back coach, in his first year in Boulder the Buffs enjoyed modest increases in yards per attempt and per game, but of the team's 14 total fumbles, itself a school record, his players at both positions just had one of those (down from eight in 2012). Then in 2014, the running backs had all of four fumbles of CU's 12 (another school low), and for the first time in its history, the Buffaloes had four different players rush for over 300 yards (actually 390). In the same time, the tight ends have proved to be solid blockers and have improved as the season progressed.

In 2015, six different players rushed for at least 200 yards, just the fourth time that occurred in school history and for the first time since 1989, when the Buffs ran an option offense. And once again, the backs held on to ball, suffering just six fumbles for the 13-game season.

He joined the San Jose State staff in April 2011 after two seasons at Sacramento State, his first full-time Division I (FCS) coaching experience. He was the Hornets' offensive tackles and tight ends coach his first year there in 2009, and then was promoted to the offensive line coach in 2010. Continuing his rapid rise, he was set to serve as Sacramento State's offensive coordinator and offensive line coach before he was hired by MacIntyre at SJSU.

While at Sacramento State, he coached three players to All-Big Sky Conference honors. His 2010 offensive linemen paved the way for the school's best ground attack over a five-season span averaging 170.4 yards per game.

He graduated from Boise State in 2005 with a bachelor's degree in Mass Communication with an emphasis in Journalism. He lettered twice at center for Coach Dan Hawkins on the 2003 and 2004 Bronco Western Athletic Conference championship teams that had a combined 24-2 record and won the 2003 Fort Worth Bowl and played in the 2004 Liberty Bowl. BSU finished 13-1 his junior year, ranked No. 16 in the final Associated Press poll, and was 11-1 his senior year (No. 12) when he was a second-team All-WAC selection.

He began his coaching career at Boise State in 2005 as a student assistant under Hawkins, who would become CU's head coach the following year. In 2006, Adams was the Broncos' offensive graduate assistant working primarily with the offensive line. He moved on to Western Washington University for the 2007 and 2008 seasons as the offensive line coach and run game coordinator.

He was born February 13, 1983 in Sacramento, Calif., he graduated from Sheldon High School (Elk Grove, Calif.), where he lettered in football, wrestling and track and field. He is married to the former Stefani Panenka, and the couple has three young daughters, Mya (8), Emmy (6) and Harper (3).

AT-A-GLANCE—He has coached in 88 Division I-A (FBS) games as a full-time coach, and has coached in four bowl games (2005 MPC Computer, 2007 Fiesta, 2012 Military, 2016 Alamo).

DARRIN CHIAVERINI Co-Offensive Coordinator/Wide Receivers/Recruiting Coordinator

Darrin Chiaverini is in his third year as the co-offensive coordinator and wide receivers coach at Colorado, joining the Buffalo staff on January 1, 2016 from Texas Tech University, where he spent the previous two seasons on the Red Raiders' staff.

Chiaverini, 40, also assumed the role of recruiting coordinator in returning to his alma mater where he lettered four times under coach Rick Neuheisel from 1995-98. He accepted his new roles on December 15, 2015, but remained with Tech for its bowl game.

In 2016, his first season on the CU staff, he helped guide the Buffalo offense to one of its best years overall in recent memory. Colorado averaged 446.3 yards per game, its best figure in 20 seasons, with the school's fourth-best conversion rate in the red zone in school history dating back to 1957 at 89.5 percent (51-of-57, with 37 touchdowns). His receiving corps hauled in 199 catches for 2,724 yards (13.7 per) with 19 touchdowns that season, and over the course of his two years, have 408 receptions for 5,454 yards and 33 scores.

Chiaverini spent the 2014-15 seasons as the Red Raiders' special teams coordinator and outside receivers coach. At Tech, he recruited the Dallas, Houston and the Southern California areas, and one of his players, Jakeem Grant, earned second-team All-America honors at kick returner for the 2015 season.

One of new head coach Rick Neuheisel's first commitments in Colorado's 1995 recruiting class, Chiaverini earned four letters from 1995-98 and served as one of the team captains his senior season. He caught 97 passes for 1,199 yards and six touchdowns, averaging 12.4 yards per reception in his career, exiting at the time as CU's seventh all-time receiver (he remains in the top 15 in both catches and yards). He led the team as a senior with 52 catches for 630 yards and five scores.

He was a member of three CU bowl champion teams (Cotton, Holiday and Aloha), making an additional 10 catches for 190 yards and two touchdowns, one a 72-yard bomb from his best friend, quarterback Mike Moschetti against Oregon in the '98 Aloha Bowl.

He was a fifth-round selection by the Cleveland Browns in the 1999 National Football League Draft, and went on to set the club's rookie receiving record with 44 catches for 487 yards and four touchdowns. He spent four years in the NFL, also playing for Dallas and Atlanta; he would conclude his NFL career with 62 catches for 662 yards and seven scores. He then finished his professional playing days with the Austin Wranglers in the Arena Football League.

Chiaverini then turned his attention to coaching, tutoring the receivers at Mt. San Antonio College in 2007 and was promoted to co-offensive coordinator in 2008. In 2009, he rejoined his college coach, Neuheisel, as the assistant special teams coach at UCLA. He helped pilot one of the top units in the Pac-10 and the Bruins captured the Eagle Bank Bowl with a 30-21 win over Temple.

He returned to the junior college ranks for the next four seasons (2010-13) at Riverside (Calif.) City College, where he was the associated head coach, co-offensive and special teams coordinator in addition to being in charge of recruiting. Riverside was 40-5 in the four years there and produced 15 Division I players, three of whom would head to his next stop, Texas Tech.

His special teams units at Riverside from 2010-13 were some of the best in all of the junior college ranks with an impressive 22 blocked kicks in four seasons. Chiaverini coached the top punt returner in the state of California in 2011 and 2012, while Riverside's offense led California in scoring in 2011 and in total offense in 2013.

He was one of 30 coaches across the country selected to participate in the 2015 NFL and NCAA Coaches Academy. Initiated in 2011, it is a collaborative effort between NCAA Leadership Development and NFL Player Engagement to positively influence diversity numbers in the college game and as a way for talented young football coaches to get exposure.

Chiaverini earned his bachelor's degree in Communications from CU in 1999, and earned his master's degree in Human Performance and Sports Sciences from New Mexico Highlands University in 2007.

He was born on October 12, 1977 in Orange, Calif., and graduated from Corona (Calif.) High School where he was a USA Today honorable mention All-American in football and an All-County performer in baseball. He is married to the former Shannon Burchfield, and the couple has two children, Curtis (19), a redshirt freshman wide receiver for the Buffaloes, and Kaylie (16).

AT-A-GLANCE—He has coached in 64 Division I-A (FBS) games as a full-time coach, and has coached in three bowl games (2009 Eagle Bank, 2015 Texas, 2016 Alamo).

ShaDON BROWN

Defensive Passing Game Coordinator / Safeties

ShaDon Brown is in his second season as an assistant coach on Mike MacIntyre's staff, as he was hired on January 30, 2017 to coach the entire secondary. In January 2018, he was promoted to defensive passing game coordinator while exclusively coaching the safeties.

In his first season in Boulder, the Buffaloes only allowed opposing quarterbacks to complete 55.8 percent of their passes, which ranked in a tie for the fourth lowest opposing completion percentage in the Pac-12. Junior Isaiah Oliver was one of the top corners in the nation, earning first-team All-Pac-12 honors and was a second round selection by the Atlanta Falcons in the 2018 National Football League draft.

Brown, 38, came to CU after spending the 2016 season coaching the cornerbacks at Army, where the Black Knights' secondary was one of the top units in the nation. Army ranked sixth in the nation in passing defense allowing just 170.2 yards per game, as well as being 11th in interceptions (17) and 17th in a pass efficiency defense (115.12 rating).

Army, which ran a 3-4 defensive scheme (like CU), ranked fourth in the nation in total defense by allowing just 291.5 yards per game during an 8-5 season that saw the Black Knights win the 2016 Heart of Dallas Bowl in overtime over North Texas, 38-31. That was Army's first bowl appearance and winning season since 2010, and perhaps even bigger, his corners help limit Navy to 89 passing yards and 201 overall in a 21-17 win over the Midshipmen, Army's first win over its archrival since 2001.

Brown had a large impact on Army's turnaround (2-10 in '15) to winning a bowl game, aiding improvements from 47th in the NCAA in total defense to fourth (and from 48th in passing defense to sixth). And the success Army's secondary found came with Brown working with true freshman for most of the season, after the Knights lost four veteran cornerbacks either before or early in the season and thus made a go of it with true freshman starting most of the year.

In his five seasons (2011-15) at Wofford (S.C.) College, he spent the first four as cornerbacks coach before switching to the safeties in his final year there. Brown was also the special teams coordinator during the 2013-14 seasons and was promoted to recruiting coordinator in the spring of 2015. He coached three all-conference corners at Wofford, including Blake Wylie who in 2012 was earned third-team All-American honors.

In the summer of 2015, he participated in the NFL's program for minority coaches by interning with the Super Bowl 50 runner-up Carolina Panthers, where he worked with the defensive backs.

Before joining the Wofford staff, Brown was a coach in the Kentucky high school ranks. From 2008-10 he was head coach at Rowan County High School, where he led the Vikings to the 2010 Class 4A District 8 Championship, the school's first title since 1982. He was named the Kentucky Class 4A District 8 Coach of the Year for that season, and 10 of his players all went on to play college football. He was an assistant coach at Boyle County High for the 2007 season.

As a player himself, Brown started at linebacker for Campbellsville (Ky.) University, an NAIA school that in 2001 won a school record 10 games, reached the NAIA quarterfinals for the first time and finished the season ranked No. 10. He served as a team captain as a senior in 2002.

After graduating in 2002 with a bachelor's degree in Physical Education, he started his coaching career in 2003 as a graduate assistant helping tutor the linebackers at the University of the Cumberlands (Williamsburg, Ky.). After one year, he was promoted to the full-time assistant coach for the inside linebackers for the 2004-05 seasons, helping lead the Patriot football team to a ranking as high as No. 5 in the nation. In 2006 he returned to his alma mater (Campbellsville) as the inside linebackers coach for one season.

A native of Danville, Ky., he graduated from Danville High School where he lettered in football under a legendary area coach, Sam Harp (276 wins and seven state titles in a 25-year career; Brown credits Harp with developing the drive in him to pursue a career in coaching). He and his wife, Rhonda, have a daughter, Shaelyn, and two sons, Braylon and Keenan.

AT-A-GLANCE—He has coached in 25 Division I-A (FBS) games as a full-time coach, and has coached in one bowl game (2016 Heart of Dallas). He also coached in 58 I-AA (FCS) games at Wofford, including three FCS playoff games, for a total of 83 collegiate games.

ASHLEY AMBROSE

Cornerbacks

Ashley Ambrose is in his first season of his second stint as cornerbacks coach at Colorado, hired on January 18, 2018 in returning to where he had worked three seasons under then-head coach Dan Hawkins from 2008-10.

Ambrose, 48, brings a wealth of experience to the Buffalo staff, as he is now a veteran collegiate coach which has followed a long and distinguished career in pro football, including being honored as the 1996 AFC Defensive Back of the Year.

He returned to CU from Boise State, where he had served as its defensive backs coach for the 2016 and 2017 seasons. In his nine years coaching in college has mentored 10 defensive backs that have earned some level of all-conference honors. Among the DBs that he has guided to all-conference honors came in 2010, CU's Jimmy Smith, a first-team All-Big 12 selection and Jalil Brown, an honorable mention All-Big 12 performer. Smith was taken 27th overall in the first round by the Baltimore Ravens in the 2011 NFL Draft while Brown was selected in the fourth round by the Kansas City Chiefs.

In his two seasons at Boise State, cornerback Tyler Horton drew first-team All-Mountain West honors in 2017 while safety Kekoa Nawahine (2017), safety Chancellor James (2016) and corner Jonathan Moxey (2016) all garnered second-team honors playing under Ambrose.

In 2015 he coached the cornerbacks at Texas State, held the same position at Idaho in 2014 and from 2011-12, was the secondary coach at California. Ambrose spent the 2013 season as an intern with the New Orleans Saints in the NFL, where he began his coaching career in 2006 as an intern with the Atlanta Falcons.

In March 2008, he initially joined the CU staff as its defensive technical intern; he actually was being groomed to become the receivers coach by Hawkins until the defensive backs position opened up when Greg Brown left for a coordinator's job at Arizona. Ambrose was thus promoted to cornerback coach on February 12, 2010.

Ambrose starred collegiately at Mississippi Valley State and was selected by Indianapolis in the second round (29th pick overall) of the 1992 NFL draft. He would go on to become a 13-year veteran in the league, playing four seasons with the Colts (1992-95), three with Cincinnati (1996-98), three with New Orleans (1999, 2003-04) and three with Atlanta (2000-02). He earned All-Pro honors with the Bengals in 1996, when he was also the AFC Defensive Back of the Year. During his career, he had 42 interceptions, returning three for touchdowns, and also had 178 pass deflections to go with 514 tackles (464 solo).

In 1996, he was named All-Pro and the American Football Conference's Defensive Back of the Year after recording a career-best eight interceptions (second-most in the league) with the Bengals.

The NFL started tracking career pass deflections in 1994; he had 173 of his overall total in the final 168 games of his career, with that average of 1.03 per game ranking him fourth overall in the NFL between 1994 and 2009, and just one of eight players to average one or more per game. After 192 games (which included 141 starts), he retired from professional football after the 2004 season, and started to enjoy his retirement. But he would get right back into football a year later, spending the 2006 season as an intern coach with the Atlanta Falcons.

Ambrose earned his degree in Industrial Technology in 1992 from MVSU, where he lettered four years at cornerback. He had 17 interceptions, 40 pass deflections and 110 tackles during his college career, when he also had seven kick returns for touchdowns (four punt, three kickoff).

He has long been active in community service, as he developed the "Ashley Ambrose All-A's Club" that rewarded high school football players who excelled academically. He participated in VH-1's Save the Music program and in the NFL United Way Hometown Huddles Campaign among many things he did as a professional, which included donating hundreds of tickets to scholar-athletes.

A native of New Orleans, he graduated from Alcee Fortier High School in 1988, where he lettered in football, basketball and track. He is the father of two children, Aisha (18) and A.J. (16).

AT-A-GLANCE—He has coached in 87 Division I-A (FBS) games as a full-time coach, and has coached in three bowl games (2011 Holiday, 2016 Cactus, 2017 Las Vegas).

GARY BERNARDI

Tight Ends & H-Backs

Gary Bernardi is in his sixth season at Colorado, as he came with head coach Mike MacIntyre from San Jose State and officially joined the staff on January 1, 2013. He is in his third year as the coach of the tight ends and the H-backs after tutoring the offensive line for his first three seasons in Boulder.

Bernardi, 63, is a veteran of 37 seasons in the Division I-A (FBS) ranks (38 including one year in I-AA/FCS), and is no stranger to the Pac-12, as he previously spent a combined 24 years at Arizona, Southern California and UCLA. He's coached in 429 games on college football's top level, a number that includes 14 bowl games, five of which were the granddaddy of them all, the Rose.

In his first two years at Colorado, the offensive line improved over the course of both seasons, with the five linemen in the game credited with allowing only 28 quarterbacks sacks in 999 passing plays (or one every 36 plays; and that number was just 11 in 545 for the 2014 season, or one every 49.5 plays). In 2014, CU's running backs averaged over four yards per carry (4.11) for the first time since 2006. His 2015 group suffered an inordinate amount of injuries, as only two players started every game, Alex Kelley at center and Stephane Nembot at tackle.

Throughout his professional career, he has been involved with winning programs and successful head coaches, establishing a reputation as a sharp recruiter and developer of all-star offensive linemen, tight ends and wide receivers. Several of his players have been afforded All-American honors and over 20 of his players have gone on to play professional football. He worked on the staffs of several notable coaches, including Larry Smith, Terry Donahue, Bob Toledo and Mike Sanford.

One of the veteran offensive line coaches in the nation, with the exception of just three seasons in his career, he's always coached the entire offensive line or at least the offensive tackles. He coached the line in his three seasons at San Jose State, where he landed after coaching five years at UNLV, where he coached the entire line and the tight ends, in addition to serving as the Rebels' recruiting coordinator.

It was Larry Smith who gave him his start in the collegiate ranks, hiring him at Arizona as the Wildcats' tackles and tight ends coach in 1980, a position he would hold the next five seasons. He then coached the wide receivers for the 1985 season before returning to tutor the tackles and tight ends in 1986. When Smith was hired as Southern California's head coach ahead of the 1987 season, he accompanied him to Los Angeles. For the next six seasons, he coached the Trojan tackles and tight ends, including Boulder's Tony Boselli, in addition to handling the special teams coordinator duties.

Bernardi then moved crosstown to UCLA in 1994, where he would spend the next 10 seasons under three different head coaches, responsible for the offensive line and tight ends in addition to being the Bruins recruiting coordinator. In-between his positions at USC and UCLA, he was the head coach at Burroughs High (Burbank) in 1993.

Bernardi was offensive line coach and recruiting coordinator at Northern Arizona for the 2004 season, his lone season in the FCS ranks before Sanford hired him at UNLV.

He graduated from Cal State Northridge with a bachelor's degree in Physical Education in 1976, and earned his teaching credential from Southern California College. He started coaching in 1973 before his 19th birthday at Bell-Jeff High (Burbank, Calif.). After two seasons there, he moved on to his alma mater, Monroe High (North Hills, Calif.), as an assistant for one season (1975), before heading to Fountain Valley (Calif.) High for four seasons (1976-79).

Bernardi has been active in community service outside of coaching. He was a member of the ALS (Lou Gehrig's disease) Association Los Angeles chapter when he was coaching at UCLA, assisting in its fundraising efforts. On two occasions, he represented the ALS Association in Washington, D.C., meeting with United States senators and congressmen.

He was born September 24, 1954 in Burbank, Calif., and graduated from Monroe High School where he lettered in football and was an All-League receiver. He is married to the former Leigh Nasby, who worked as a Stanford Hospital registered nurse the three years they were in the Bay Area. They are the parents of three grown children, Marina and twins Briana and Joe. Marina works for a medical equipment company (BD) in San Antonio. Briana lettered in softball (catcher) at UNLV, where she earned her undergraduate and master's degrees, while Joe lettered in football (center) at Fresno State and is now the offensive line coach at San Jose State. His brother, Rob, was the long-time athletic director at Nicholls State University (2000-2016) and is not a senior associate AD at Tulane.

AT-A-GLANCE—He has coached in 429 Division I-A (FBS) games as a full-time coach, and has coached in 14 bowl games (1985 Sun, 1986 Aloha, 1988 Rose, 1989 Rose, 1990 Sun, 1992 Freedom, 1995 Aloha, 1997 Cotton, 1998 Rose, 2000 Sun, 2002 Las Vegas, 2003 Silicon Valley, 2012 Military, 2016 Alamo). He has also coached in 11 FCS games for a total of 439 collegiate games.

KWAHN DRAKE

Defensive Line

Kwahn Drake is in his first season as the defensive line coach, working with both the ends and the tackles, as he joined Mike MacIntyre's University of Colorado staff on January 24, 2018.

He came to Colorado after serving as the defensive line coach for the 2017 season at Eastern Illinois University. On the fast track as a rising star in the profession, EIU head coach Kim Dameron had promoted Drake to co-defensive coordinator following the season. The Panthers finished 6-5, with a 5-3 record in Ohio Valley Conference play for third place and including a win over a ranked Tennessee State team.

At EIU, under Drake's tutelage, David Johnson earned second-team All-OVC honors for a second consecutive season. Under Drake's tutelage, he finished his senior season with 51 tackles, 9.5 tackles for a loss which included three-and-a-half quarterback sacks. He ranked 11th in the OVC in sacks and 12th in tackles for a loss.

Prior to his one-year stint at EIU, Drake spent the 2016 season as an offensive analyst for the University of Memphis under head coach Mike Norvell. The Tigers finished 8-5 and earned an invitation to the Boca Raton Bowl. The offense was the second most-prolific in program history, amassing 6,028 yards of offense and scoring 57 touchdowns and 505 points, all the second-highest numbers in school annals. The Tigers' 3,957 passing yards and 303 completions both were the third-most for a season in school history, with 34 touchdown passes a school best.

He got his start in coaching in 2008 as a student assistant at his alma mater, Nicholls State, where he assisted with the defensive line and scouting reports. In 2009, he served as the defensive line and special teams coach for St. James (La.) High school, where it finished as the District 8-3A co-champions.

He then moved on New Orleans' St. Augustine High School as defensive line coach for two years (2011-12). The Purple Knights claimed the District 10-4A championship in 2011 and finished as District 10-5A co-Champions in 2012. He was also the recruiting coordinator and academic advisor, and saw 25 of his players receiving football scholarships at NCAA Division I colleges during his time at St. Augustine.

His first taste in the collegiate coaching ranks came as graduate assistant at Tulane in 2012; he was named the full-time defensive line coach for the 2014-15 seasons, the latter of which saw his players help Tulane rank 12th in the FBS in tackles for a loss per game. In 2012, Drake assisted the Green Wave defensive unit that ranked 22nd in the nation in total defense (352.1), 17th against the rush (123.7) and 18th in scoring (21.4).

He received his bachelor's degree in Business Administration with a concentration in computer information systems from Nicholls State in 2009. He earned his master's degree in Liberal Arts from Tulane in 2013.

A New Orleans native, he graduated from Destrehan (La.) High School where he lettered in football, basketball and track. Drake had spent most of his life in the Central Time Zone and noted that the farthest west he had ever been in the United States was when he interviewed for the CU position.

AT-A-GLANCE—He has coached in 24 Division I-A (FBS) games as a full-time coach, and with 11 more on the FCS level, he's coached in a total of 35 collegiate games.

ROSS ELS

Inside Linebackers

Ross Els is in his second season coaching Colorado's inside linebackers, as he joined the Buffalo staff on February 24, 2017, also bringing extensive special teams coaching experience to the program.

Els, 52, is a 28-year veteran in the collegiate coaching ranks (he coached his 200th game on the FBS level in 2017), and arrived on campus in time for the team's second spring practice. He came to Colorado from Purdue University, where he served as the Boilermakers' defensive coordinator in 2016 under head coach Darrell Hazell.

Els has the bulk of his experience as an assistant coach working with the linebackers, and all but one of his 28 years devoted on the defensive side of the ball. He spent four years at the University of Nebraska from 2011-14 under coach Bo Pellini, his first season as linebackers coach with the responsibilities of coordinating both special teams and recruiting added to his duties for the last three years. One of his top players while he was with the Huskers was Lavonte David, a finalist for the Butkus Award and the 2011 Big Ten Linebacker of the Year, as well as a semifinalist for the Chuck Bednarik Award and the Lott Trophy. He was a second round selection by Tampa Bay in the 2012 National Football League Draft.

In 2017, he coached CU's top two tacklers, Drew Lewis (119 tackles) and Rick Gamboa (117), the school's first pair to make 100-plus stops since 2006 and just the second linebacker due to accomplish the feat since 1994.

In 2012, he coached Nebraska's leading tackler, Will Compton, who record 110 total stops, six of which were for losses including three quarterback sacks. That aided a 10-win season and a berth in the Big Ten's championship game.

Nebraska was 37-16 in his four years on its staff, including four bowl appearances: Capital One (2012 and 2013), TaxSlayer Gator (2014) and Holiday (2014). In-between his Nebraska and Purdue appointments, he spent the 2015 season as an assistant coach at his son's high school, Lincoln (Neb.) Southwest.

Prior to Nebraska, he was the linebackers coach for six seasons, working under a former NU graduate in Frank Solich. In his third season there, he was named the Bobcats' special teams coordinator, and in his final year there (2010), Solich promoted him to assistant head coach. He coached four All-Mid-American Conference linebackers, in addition helping OU to two MAC East Division titles and three bowl appearances:

In 2010, Ohio's defense ranked 20th nationally and second in the MAC in rushing defense. Els' special teams were also a key part of Ohio's

8-5 season that culminated with a trip to the New Orleans Bowl. The Bobcats ranked first in the 14-team MAC in net punting, third in punt returns and fifth in kickoff returns. In 2009, he tutored linebacker Noah Keller, who led the MAC with 155 tackles en route to earning honorable mention All-America honors. He also coached punt returner LaVon Brazil to second-team All-America honors that season, while placekicker Matt Weller was named a Freshman All-American after kicking a school record 21 field goals.

He coached in Division I (now the FBS) for the first time when he spent four years at New Mexico State University, first tutoring the safeties and special teams for the 2001 and 2002 seasons, and then the linebackers along with a promotion to defensive coordinator in 2003 and 2004. He worked under Tony Samuel, another former Nebraska player and assistant coach, during his time in Las Cruces.

Els was the head coach at Hastings (Neb.) College from 1997-2000, where he was the quarterbacks coach in 1995 and the defensive coordinator and secondary coach in 1996. As Hastings' head coach, Els compiled a 32-9 record, including NAIA playoff appearances in 1998 and 1999.

A 1988 graduate of the University of Nebraska-Omaha, where he majored in Management Information Systems and lettered four years as a safety. He got his start in coaching as a graduate assistant at Northern Iowa, where he earned his Master's degree in Physical Education in 1999; that's where he began his coaching career a decade earlier as a graduate assistant (in 1989), working with the linebackers and secondary.

He then returned to his alma mater, UNO, for his first full-time position in the ranks, coaching the secondary for four seasons (1990-93).

He was born August 14, 1965 in Lincoln, Neb., and graduated from Lincoln Northeast High where he lettered in football, basketball and baseball. He is married to the former Jane Ketterer, and the couple has two daughters, Julie and Taylor (a junior on the volleyball team at Northern Colorado), and a son, Bo (a junior wide receiver at Morningside College in Sioux City, Iowa).

AT-A-GLANCE—He has coached in 200 Division I-A (FBS) games as a full-time coach, and has coached in seven bowl games (2006 GMAC, 2009 Little Caesars, 2010 New Orleans, 2012 Capital One, 2013 Capital One, 2014 Gator/TaxSlayer, 2014 Holiday).

DARIAN HAGAN

Running Backs

Darian Hagan, one of the names synonymous with Colorado's rise to glory in the late 1980s, is in his 14th season overall on the CU football staff, now in the third season of his second stint as the school's running back coach, a position he held for five years last decade.

Hagan, 48, spent the first three seasons on Mike MacIntyre's staff as the director of player development for the Buffaloes (2013-15), as he shifted into that role from one as the director of player personnel (2011-12) under head coach Jon Embree. He worked five seasons (2006-10) as running backs coach for head coach Dan Hawkins, as he was one of two the Irish in an Orange Bowl rematch to give CU its first national title in football. CU was 28-5-2 with him as the starting quarterback for three seasons, including a 20-0-1 mark in Big Eight Conference games as he led the Buffs to three straight league titles in 1989, 1990 and 1991. His 28-5-2 record as a starter (82.9 winning percentage) is the 37th best in college football history.

In 1989, he became just the sixth player in NCAA history at the time to run and pass for over 1,000 yards in the same season, finishing, as just a sophomore, fifth in the balloting for the Heisman Trophy. He established the school record for total offense with 5,808 yards (broken three years later by Kordell Stewart), and is one of two players ever at CU to amass over 2,000 yards both rushing and passing along with Bobby Anderson. He was a two-time all-Big Eight performer, and the league's offensive player of the year for 1989 when he also was afforded various All-America honors. He still holds several CU records and was the school's male athlete-of-the-year for the 1991-92 academic year.

In 2002, he was a member of the fourth class to be inducted into CU's Athletic Hall of Fame, and his jersey (No. 3) is one of several to have been honored. The Colorado Sports Hall of Fame finally recognized his achievements as well, inducting him into its prestigious group in the Class of 2014.

Hagan played for Toronto, Las Vegas and Edmonton over the course of five seasons in the Canadian Football League, mostly as a defensive back and special teams performer. He returned to CU to earn his diploma just prior to his last professional season, and graduated with a bachelor's degree in sociology in May 1996. He was hired later that year (December 1) as the Alumni C Club Director, a position he held for 16 months until leaving for an incredible opportunity in private business.

In the summer of 2015, he served as an assistant under former CU head coach Dan Hawkins for the champion Team USA in the Federation of American Football (IFAF) World Championship in Canton, Ohio.

He was born February 1, 1970 in Lynwood, Calif., and graduated from Los Angeles' Locke High School in 1988, where he lettered in football, basketball, baseball and track. He was drafted in two sports, football (by San Francisco in the fourth round in the 1992 NFL Draft) and baseball (selected as a shortstop by both Seattle and Toronto). He is married (Donna), and is the father of two sons, Darian, Jr., who played defensive back at California, and the late DeV Vaughn (who passed away on December 6, 2010 at the age of 19), and a daughter, Danielle.

AT-A-GLANCE—He has coached in 100 Division I-A (FBS) games as a full-time coach, and has coached in three bowl games (2005 Champs Sports, 2007 Independence, 2016 Alamo).

assistant coaches retained by Hawkins when he was named to the position in December 2005.

He was named an offensive assistant coach on Gary Barnett's staff on February 9, 2005, and worked with the skill position players on offense in the spring and fall in his first year as a full-time collegiate assistant.

A popular coach with his players yet with a stern touch, he was coaching true freshman Rodney Stewart on the way to a 1,000-yard season in 2008 until a season-ending injury at Texas A&M sidelined him in the ninth game of the year. Stewart's 622 yards were the third most by a CU freshman in school history. In 2010, Stewart hit the plateau and then some, rushing for 1,318 yards and in position to threaten many of the school's all-time rushing marks. In 2007, Hagan tutored Hugh Charles to a 1,000-yard year including the Independence Bowl; he went on to have a successful career in the Canadian Football League.

He coached his third thousand-yard rusher for the Buffaloes in 2016, when Phillip Lindsay recorded 1,189 yards in the regular season, the first to reach the mark since Stewart did so six years earlier. When Lindsay rushed for 1,474 yards in 2017, he became the first player in CU history to run for 1,000 or more yards in consecutive seasons.

Hagan made a difference in his first season (2006) mentoring the running backs, as CU had three 500-plus yard rushers for just the 10th time in its history. He also played a role in the development of quarterback Bernard Jackson, as Hagan's own skills of blending the run and the pass rubbed off on the Buff junior in his first year as a starter.

He had a brief taste of coaching in the spring of 2004 as he subbed as secondary coach when the staff was minus a full-time assistant. Otherwise, he was the defensive technical intern for the '04 season, assuming that role in February of that year. It marked the third time he has made the University of Colorado his destination of choice.

He starred at quarterback for the Buffaloes between 1988 and 1991, leading the school to its first national championship, and following his professional playing career, returned to CU in the mid-1990s to work as the Alumni C Club Director.

Hagan left CU in the spring of 1998 to work as an area sales manager for the Transit Marketing Group. Three months into his new position, he was promoted to Southeast Regional Sales Manager. He remained in that position for over five years until deciding to pursue his dream as a coach and return to his alma mater for the third time. By working as a technical intern, he learned the intricacies of the profession in a hands-on role in his desire to coach; when a temporary vacancy opened on the staff, he was "activated" as a coach to work with the defensive backs and it added to his penchant for the profession.

Arguably the best all-around athlete in the history of the CU football program, he was an integral part of CU's run at two national championships in 1989 and 1990. The Buffs were 11-1 in 1989, losing to Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl, but went 11-1-1 in 1990 with a win over

KURT ROPER

Quarterbacks

Kurt Roper is in his first season as the quarterbacks coach at the University of Colorado, as he was hired for the position on January 3, 2018 by his long-time associate, Mike MacIntyre. He brings 19 years of coaching experience with him to CU, including 16 tutoring the signal callers, who many say is the game's most important position.

Roper, 46, also has nine years of experience as an offensive coordinator, coming at two Southeastern and one Atlantic Coast conference programs. In the two seasons prior to his hiring to Colorado, he was the co-offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at South Carolina (2015-16). Earlier in his career, he worked with MacIntyre for six years when the two were coaching together at Mississippi (1999 through the 2002 seasons) and at Duke (2008-09).

Including three years as a graduate assistant at Tennessee, when the Volunteers appeared in three bowl games (1996-98), he spent 15 of his first 22 years of coaching in the Southeastern Conference; he's coached as a full-timer in 11 bowls and 14 overall including his time as a GA.

Roper's most famous pupil was during his six-years as the quarterbacks coach at Ole Miss (1999-2004), All-America quarterback Eli Manning, the 2003 SEC Player of the Year and first overall pick by the New York Giants in the 2004 NFL Draft. After winning the Maxwell and Johnny Unitas Golden Arm Awards in 2003 while setting 47 school records at Ole Miss, Manning has gone on to win two Super Bowls, was twice named the Super Bowl MVP and is a four-time Pro Bowl selection.

Another one of his quarterbacks, Thaddeus Lewis at Duke, spent six years in the NFL after a record-breaking career in Roper's offense at Duke where he was the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach from 2008-13. Lewis finished his career as Duke's all-time leader in pass attempts, pass completions, passing yards and passing touchdowns. He joined Phillip Rivers as just the second player in ACC history to throw for over 10,000 yards.

In 2013, Roper's last of his six seasons at Duke, the Blue Devils enjoyed a record-setting campaign as they won a program-best 10 games en route to capturing the ACC's Coastal Division championship. His offense set the school record for total touchdowns (60), while becoming the first squad in Blue Devil history to score over 20 rushing and passing touchdowns in the same season.

Under Roper's guidance, Anthony Boone finished his career as the Duke's winningest quarterback with 19 victories, Brandon Connette became Duke's all-time leader in rushing touchdowns, while wide receiver Jamison Crowder established school single-season records for receptions (108) and receiving yards (1,301). Quarterback Sean Renfree was selected to the prestigious AFCA Good Works Team before going on to be a seventh round draft pick of the Atlanta Falcons in 2013.

After leaving Duke, he was the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at the University of Florida for the 2014 season before moving on to the NFL for one season. He had a year-long stint with the Cleveland Browns as a senior offensive assistant coach, but soon would return to the collegiate ranks with South Carolina. There, he helped lead the Gamecocks to a pair of bowl appearances.

After working one year in the sports video department at Mississippi State, Roper began his coaching trek in 1996 as a graduate assistant at Tennessee under head coach Phillip Fulmer, working with the defensive and special teams' units. He then was hired by David Cutcliffe as the quarterbacks coach at Mississippi, the first of two six-year stints he would work under Cutcliffe's direction, the other being Duke.

After his six years in Oxford with the Rebels, he went to Kentucky for the 2005 season as quarterbacks coach, where his senior, Andre' Woodson, went on to be a sixth round draft pick of the New York Giants.

He returned to Tennessee for two seasons (2006-07), where he coached the running backs. During that span, the Vols won 19 games, earned a pair of Outback Bowl berths and captured the SEC Eastern Division championship. In 2007, Tennessee's rushing attack was led by Arian Foster, who gained 1,193 yards on 245 carries, while scoring 12 touchdowns on the ground. Foster went on to lead the NFL in rushing yards in 2010 and rushing touchdowns in 2010 and 2012. Another one of his running backs at UT, Montario Hardesty, went on to be a second round draft pick of the Cleveland Browns.

A native of Ames, Iowa, Roper was a three-year letterman as a quarterback and defensive back from 1992-94 at Rice University, where he earned his bachelor's degree in 1995 and a master's degree (in sports administration) from Tennessee in 1998.

Roper and his wife, Britt, have one daughter, Reese, and one son, Luke. His brother, Zac, is the associate head coach, offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Duke. He is the son of Bobby Roper, who was an All-South-west Conference (SWC) football player for Arkansas in 1965.

AT-A-GLANCE—He has coached in 223 Division I-A (FBS) games as a full-time coach, and has coached in 11 bowl games (1999 Independence, 2000 Music City, 2002 Independence, 2004 Cotton, 2007 Outback, 2008 Outback, 2012 Belk, 2013 Chick-fil-A, 2015 Birmingham, 2016 Birmingham, 2017 Outback). In his one year in the NFL (2015), Cleveland was 3-13.

DREW WILSON

Director of Football Strength & Conditioning

Drew Wilson is in his third year as the director of football strength and conditioning at the University of Colorado, officially joining the Buffalo staff on January 4, 2016.

Wilson, 40, coordinates all aspects of training and development of the football team and manages a staff of three full-time assistants dedicated solely to the football program.

He is a veteran who brought with him to CU over a decade of experience working with Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS) programs in strength and conditioning. Wilson joined the CU staff from the University of Maryland, where he spent the previous five years (2011-15) as the Terrapins' director of strength and conditioning.

Wilson had the same responsibilities at Maryland under its then-head coach Randy Edsall, where his duties also included working with the training staff in the design of both prehabilitation and rehabilitation programs for the student-athletes in injury prevention and healing. During his time there, Maryland transitioned from the Atlantic Coast Conference into the Big Ten, and he was credited with improving the Terps interior lines on both sides of the ball. He was also the liaison for the program to the National Football League.

He has attained several certifications with the respected national organizations in his profession. Wilson is a registered strength and conditioning coach (RSCC) through the National Strength and Conditioning Association; a strength and conditioning coach certified (SCCC) through the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association; he is certified as a Level 1 coach by the United States Weightlifting Association; and is also certified in the Functional Movement Screen (FMS).

Prior to his time at Maryland, he had been at the University of Connecticut for five years (2006-10) with Edsall, working primarily with the Huskies' football program as the assistant strength and conditioning coach. UConn was invited to a bowl each of his last four seasons there. He also worked one year with the women's lacrosse team.

He has a little familiarity with the Buffaloes, as he was an assistant strength and conditioning coach at the University of Kansas from January 2005 to May 2006 when both schools were members of the Big 12 Conference. Prior to his stint at KU, he spent five months at Florida State University assisting with football, baseball and the track and field programs.

A 2000 graduate of King's College, earning his bachelor's degree in Criminal Justice & Sociology, he lettered in football. He was a preseason All-American and earned first-team All-Mid-Atlantic Conference honors at inside linebacker as a senior in 1999, when he was a team co-captain.

He was on the Dean's List for five semesters at King's, which is located in Wilkes Barre, Pa.

He earned his master's degree in Exercise & Applied Science, with emphasis in Strength and Conditioning, from Springfield (Mass.) College in 2004. He had his first experience coaching while at Springfield, serving as an intern for the 2001-02 academic year. He was then named a graduate assistant strength and conditioning coach at the school, a position he would hold until he received his master's. During that time, he also fulfilled two summer internships, at Maryland (2003) and at Auburn University (2004).

He was born July 11, 1978 in Levittown, Pa., but grew up in nearby Yardley, both in suburbs of Trenton, N.J. He is married to the former Marguerite Widdoes and the couple has a daughter, Makaela, and two sons, Andrew Jr., and Isaac.

FOOTBALL SUPPORT STAFF

BRYAN MCGINNIS
Director of Football Operations

Bryan McGinnis is in his sixth year as the director of football operations at the University of Colorado, having joined Mike MacIntyre's new Buffalo staff on January 2, 2013. In his position, he coordinates many facets for the football program, including team travel arrangements, itineraries and scheduling.

McGinnis, 37, served in the same capacity under MacIntyre for two seasons at San Jose State University, and thus accepted the invitation to follow him to Boulder. A life-long resident of the San Francisco Bay area, this marks his first time he has ever lived outside of Northern California.

Prior to being promoted to being in charge of San Jose State's football operations, he spent six years on the Spartans' coaching staff, working a variety of positions as an operations assistant in recruiting, equipment and video services. He also was a student assistant working with the defense, the linebackers in particular, the 2005 through 2007 seasons, and then switched sides, working as a graduate assistant on offense (running backs) for the 2008 and 2010 season; in-between, in 2009 he was the staff's operations assistant.

At San Jose, he was on the staffs of two teams that earned bowl invitations: the Spartans defeated New Mexico, 20-12, in the 2006 New Mexico Bowl (their first bowl since 1990) and beat Bowling Green, 29-20, in the 2012 Military Bowl. Those are the only two bowl games SJSU has ever played outside the state of California.

McGinnis played wide receiver for two years (2000-01) at Cabrillo College in Aptos, and then got into coaching, beginning his career at his alma mater, Harbor High School, where he spent two years as the school's offensive coordinator and wide receivers coach. In 2003, he joined the San Francisco 49ers staff as an intern in the player personnel department.

He then returned to school to finish his degree, graduating from San Jose State with Bachelor's in Kinesiology in 2007. While working with football, he took several graduate courses in Hospitality, Tourism and Recreation Management.

He was born June 22, 1981 in Santa Cruz, Calif., and graduated from Harbor High School there, lettering in football and track. He is a certified speed training coach by SAC (Speed, Agility & Conditioning USA/Canada). He is married to the former Vrinda Murphy, who is a behavior therapist for children with autism; the couple has two daughters, Emily Margaret (4) and Maddalene Grace (1).

ADAM TOYAMA
Director of Football Recruiting

Adam Toyama is in his sixth year as the director of football recruiting at the University of Colorado, having joined Mike MacIntyre's new Buffalo staff on January 2, 2013.

Toyama, 36, joined the Colorado staff from San Jose State University, where he was the coordinator of football relations for the 2011 and 2012 seasons under MacIntyre; he was offered a promotion to direct all aspects of recruiting and thus accepted his invitation to follow him to Boulder.

Prior to joining MacIntyre at San Jose State, he was a recruiting and operations assistant at UNLV for two seasons under head coaches Mike Sanford (2009) and Bobby Hauck (2010). Before taking the UNLV job, he worked in facilities operations at Stanford.

Toyama earned his Bachelor's degree in Health, Exercise and Lifestyle Management from the University of Hawai'i in 2004, and went on to earn a Master's in Sports Management from the University of San Francisco in 2007. While earning his graduate degree, he spent over a year as an operations intern with the National Football League's San Francisco 49ers and for the 2006 season, he worked in suite sales and client relations for the Oakland Raiders.

He was born July 24, 1982 in Honolulu, Hawai'i, and graduated from the St. Louis School there, where he earned letters in volleyball and a sport unique to the islands, canoe paddling. He is married to the former Emmeline Yu.

KATIE BASON
Director of Football Academics

Katie Bason is in her sixth year as the director of football academics at the University of Colorado, having joined Mike MacIntyre's new Buffalo staff on January 7, 2013.

Bason, 35, joined the Colorado staff from San Jose State, where she spent the previous two years (2011-12) as the academic learning specialist for the football program under MacIntyre. When MacIntyre accepted the CU job, he built in the newly created position of director of academics and offered it to her. Prior to working specifically with the Spartans' football program, she spent a year as a learning specialist for the athletic department.

Prior to her three years at SJSU, she worked seven years with her alma mater, Wake Forest University, her main emphasis working with at-risk student athletes on improving study habits and skills. She also worked as a high school teacher in Charlotte and Winston-Salem, N.C., her courses including English, world history, civics and economics. She also held various operations positions for the Teach for America branch office in Charlotte.

Bason graduated from Wake Forest with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Education in 2005, where she was a member of the Dean's List. As a student at WFU, she was a manager for the Demon Deacons men's basketball team.

She was born June 29, 1983 in Martinsville, Va., and graduated from Carlisle High School there, where she lettered in football and baseball; she was the only girl on the varsity baseball team, and was for four years. She played for the Chicago Storm women's baseball team (the 2002 Roy Hobbess National Champions) as well as the 2002 U-21 U.S. women's national team.

BRAD FORSYTH
Director of Player Personnel

Brad Forsyth is in his third year as CU's director of player of personnel, as he joined Mike MacIntyre's staff on August 22, 2016.

Forsyth, 49, came to Colorado after over two decades of working as an area scout for the National Football League, spending 21 seasons doing so for the Buffalo Bills (1994-2014) and the Miami Dolphins. He was a constant attendee in CU's Fred Casotti Press Box. He started with the Bills as an administrative assistant in 1993.

He graduated from Illinois Wesleyan in 1990 with a bachelor's degree in Business Administration and Management. A four-year letterman at the school under Coach Norm Eash, he set school records that stood for over 20 years in season (62.9) and career (62.1) completion percentage. As a senior in 1990, he ranked second in the nation in passing efficiency and was the Titans' offensive most valuable player both as a junior and senior, when he also served as a team captain. After earning his undergraduate degree, he spent two seasons (1991-92) as a graduate assistant coach at IWU.

He earned his Master's degree in Sport and Fitness Administration/Management from Illinois State in 1993.

He was born October 1, 1968 in Spokane, Wash., and graduated from Paxton (Ill.) High School, where he earned a combined 10 letters in football, basketball and track. He is the father of two daughters, Kaedyn (14) and Kamryn (12).

DANIEL Da PRATO
Director of Quality Control/Offense

Daniel Da Prato is in his third year as the director of quality control for the offense, having joined the CU staff on April 1, 2016. He has 14 years of Division I coaching experience and in that time has mentored three All-Americans and 23 All-Conference performers.

For the Buffaloes he assists the offensive coaching staff in its planning and implementation of the weekly practice and game plans. He is also heavily involved in game planning for the special team units, with his specific area of concentration on punt block and kickoff return.

Colorado has produced three different All-Pac-12 receivers in Da Prato's tenure at Colorado and on special teams the Buffs blocked its first punt in eight seasons in 2017 and in 2016 Isaiah Oliver's 68-yard punt return for a touchdown was the first at CU in 11 years.

Da Prato, 36, has also filled in as a replacement coach on the recruiting trail in December and January 2017 and in January 2018. His recruiting areas centered in Dallas-Fort Worth, Las Vegas, Northern California, Southern California, Seattle and the Kansas Junior Colleges.

He came to Colorado from Montana State, where he spent three seasons (2013-15) as the special teams coordinator and tight ends coach. He coached a pair of All-Americans while in Bozeman; TE Beau Sandland was a second-team AP FCS All-American in 2015 and Shawn Johnson was a third-team selection of The Sports Network in 2013. Johnson that year averaged 31.0 yards on 22 kickoff returns, returning one 100 yards and another 99 yards, both for touchdowns. He also averaged 13.9 yards per punt return, with one TD, finishing fourth nationally in kick returns and fifth in punt returns.

Da Prato spent the 2007-12 seasons at Sacramento State, where he coached the receivers all six years and added coaching the special teams the last three seasons (2010-12). He was on the staff of the Hornets when they visited Folsom Field in 2012 and upset the Buffaloes, 30-28, with a game-winning field goal as time ran out.

In 2008, he guided wide receiver Tony Washington to third-team All-America honors by The Sports Network. Washington, who only played two seasons at Sacramento State, is one of just 11 players in school history to catch over 100 passes in a career. He averaged 73.61 receiving yards per game, ranking third in Hornet history. Washington set a new school single-season record with 83 receptions in 2008 and his 1,279 receiving yards that year are the second-most ever by a Hornet.

Da Prato began his coaching career at his alma mater, the University of Louisiana-Monroe, where he served as the graduate assistant on offense for the 2004-05 seasons; he then was promoted to the director of operations and recruiting coordinator in 2006. He earned two degree from UL-Monroe, his bachelor's in Health & Human Performance in 2003, and his Master's in Education, with emphasis in Instructional Technology, in 2004.

He began his college football career at New Mexico Highlands University in 2000, where he spent one year as the starting quarterback. He then transferred to Chabot (Calif.) Junior College where he started (QB) for the 2001 season and earned honorable mention All-Conference honors. Da Prato then concluded his career at UL-Monroe, where he earned two letters, also at quarterback. He was an Academic All-Conference team member at ULM. As a junior in 2002, ULM opened at Mississippi, where he started at quarterback and played against a secondary coached by Mike MacIntyre.

He was born Oct. 2, 1981 in Sacramento, Calif., and graduated from Fred C. Beyer High School in Modesto, Calif., where he lettered in football, basketball and track (he was an All-District and All-League performer at quarterback on the gridiron). His hobbies include playing golf and hiking. He is married to the former Giovanna Arrondo.

MATT THOMPSON

Director of Quality Control/Special Teams

Matt Thompson is in his third year as the director of quality control for the special teams, having joined the Colorado staff on April 1, 2016.

He came to CU from just down the road in Broomfield, where he ran the Elite Kicking Academy, which trained high school, college and National Football League free agents (specialized coaching for placekickers and punters). He conducted the academy from 2007-10 and 2013-15, as in-between he was a video assistant working with the coaching staff at Colorado under head coach Jon Embree for the 2011-12 seasons. He also had worked in the construction business while running the kicking academy.

Thompson, 36, earned his bachelor's degree in 2005 in Business-Marketing from Fort Lewis College (Durango, Colo.). He began his college days at Tulane University, where he was on the team for spring drills and fall camp in 2001. He then transferred to Fort Lewis, where he played on the 2001 team, mainly handling kickoff chores but did make good on both of his extra point attempts.

He personally trained with kicking guru Doug Blevins for two years in Virginia, and then had a brief career in Arena Football, playing with the Odessa Roughnecks and the Pueblo Pistols.

He was born November 8, 1981 in Joplin, Mo., and graduated from Centaurus High School in Lafayette, Colo., where he lettered in football and baseball. His hobbies include golf, spending time with family and playing with his dog, Ruby. A distant relative is actor Randolph Mantooth (Emergency, several soap operas) his grandfather's cousin. He is married to the former Lindsay Christopher, and the couple has a daughter, Lily Ann, who will be 2 this November.

DALMIN GIBSON

Graduate Assistant (Defense)

Dalmin Gibson is in his second year on the Colorado football staff, having joined the program in June 2017 as a graduate assistant working with the defense (mainly the inside linebackers).

Gibson, 26, began his coaching career at his alma mater, Dickinson State (N.D.) University, as a student coach while he completed his degree. He was assigned his position in college – outside linebacker – to coach. He was a four-year letterman at DSU at outside linebacker, starting his senior year in 2013.

As a student coach, he also provided assistance to the defensive coordinator and head coach in a variety of areas, including providing a breakdown of opponent tendencies on offense and special teams. He was also involved in recruiting and coordinating recruitment weekends. After he earned his degree, he moved on to Wayne State College where as a graduate assistant, he worked with the defense and in particular the cornerbacks. After one season there, he returned to alma mater as a full-time assistant coaching the cornerbacks and special teams in 2016 and into early 2017 before coming to CU.

He graduated from Dickinson State in 2014 with a bachelor's degree in Kinesiology and Exercise Science. He received his Master's in Sports Management from Chadron State College in 2016.

He was born in Rapid City, S.D., and graduated from Harding County High School in Buffalo, S.D., where he lettered in football and basketball. His hobbies include most outdoor activities, including boating.

JACK HARRIS

Graduate Assistant (Offense)

Jack Harris is in his first year on the Colorado football staff, having returned to his alma mater in the summer of 2018 as a graduate assistant working with the offense.

Harris, 27, returns to Colorado by way of Central Michigan, where he was a graduate assistant working with the offensive line for the 2017 season. The previous year (2016), he was the tight ends and inside linebackers coach for Western State in Gunnison.

He was a two-year starter for the Buffaloes, having started all 12 games

NATE TAYE

Director of Quality Control/Defense

Nate Taye is in his sixth year on the Colorado staff, his third as the director of quality control for the defense as he was promoted to the position in the spring of 2016. He previously had worked as the assistant director of quality control since August 1, 2015, and prior to that appointment, he had served two years as a defensive graduate assistant coach, as he first joined the CU staff on June 3, 2013.

His primary role as a graduate assistant was coaching the nickelbacks, in addition to assisting former defensive coordinator Kent Baer with the linebackers as well as having general overall duties with the entire defense.

Taye, 28, joined CU from the San Jose State football staff, where he was a student assistant his junior and senior years. At SJSU, he also helped Baer with an assortment of duties including breaking down video, working with the scout team and other daily activities. He graduated from SJSU with a degree in Political Science in May 2013 and was a member of the Dean's List.

He was playing Jaycee football but wanted to pursue a career in a coaching, so he approached Mike MacIntyre at San Jose about volunteering and eventually earned a student assistant position.

He was born May 16, 1990 and grew up in San Jose, Calif., graduating from Prospect High School in nearby Saratoga, where he lettered in football, basketball and track. His hobbies include movies and video games.

at left offensive tackle as a senior, when he played the second-most snaps on offense and the fourth-most on the team overall (799). Selected as one of six CU captains by his teammates, he earned first-team All-Colorado honors from the state's chapter of the National Football Foundation and shared the team's Offensive Trench Award. He also played every snap (56) on the FG/PAT unit on special teams.

As a junior in 2012, he started 11 games, six at right guard and five at right tackle, finally getting some consistent playing time after missing the bulk of the 2011 season (his sophomore campaign) with a nasty ankle injury.

Harris graduated with a double major in Anthropology and Sociology from Colorado in May 2013. Following graduation, he moved to Bakersfield, Calif., where he was working in the oil fields in the area for two years.

He was born May 11, 1991 in Littleton, Colo., and graduated from Chaparral High School in nearby Parker, Colo., where he lettered in football and basketball; he was a high school All-American as an offensive lineman and was also named first-team All-Colorado and All-State (5A) by both the Denver Post and Rocky Mountain News. His hobbies include fishing and camping. He is married to the former Jessica Ermish. A cousin, M.J. Flaum, was an offensive lineman at Nebraska, and a grandfather, John Boice, played for the Chicago Bears as a tight end/defensive end.

As a senior team captain, he earned first-team All-Colorado honors from the state's chapter of the National Football Foundation, was named CU's Defensive Trench Award winner and played in the East-West Shrine game. For the season, he was in on 46 tackles (36 solo), with 11 for losses including four quarterback sacks; he had seven tackles for zero gain, meaning he had 18 total stops at or behind the line of scrimmage. He was second in the nation in forced fumbles with five, and he also batted down four passes in 739 snaps of action. He was one of 27 players on the final watch list for the Ted Hendricks Award (defensive end of the year), and was one of 76 players on the official preseason watch list for the Bednarik Award.

He was born May 30, 1992 in Long Beach, Calif., and graduated from Rocky Mountain High School in Fort Collins where he played baseball and basketball. A cousin is Osi Umenyiora, the second round choice of the New York Giants in the 2003 NFL Draft; in 10 seasons with the Giants, he appeared in two Pro Bowls and was a member of the 2008 Super Bowl champion team; he spent the last two seasons with the Atlanta Falcons. Another cousin, Charles Saseun, was a sprinter at Cal-Berkeley.

PETER TUITUPOU Graduate Assistant (Offense)

Peter Tuitupou is in his third year on the Colorado football staff, having joined the program in the spring of 2016 as a graduate assistant working with the offense.

Tuitupou, 30, came to CU from private business, as he was working as a sales manager for a solar company in California for two years. Previously, he spent the 2013 season with Pittsburgh in the National Football League after signing with the Steelers as an undrafted free agent.

He graduated with his bachelor's degree in Communication Studies from San Jose State University in 2012, where he lettered twice at tight end for coach Mike MacIntyre, who was the Spartans' coach at the time. He was primarily a blocker in SJSU's offensive scheme, catching 14 passes for 183 yards (13.1 per) in his career, which also saw him be named twice to the Academic All-Western Athletic Conference team. He played in San Jose State's 29-21 win over Bowling Green in the Military Bowl as a senior.

He played two seasons at Snow Junior College (2007-08), where he was named a first-team JC All-American as a sophomore when he caught 21 passes for 251 yards (11.9 per) and four touchdowns. He then left school to serve his two-year Mormon Mission in Panama.

He was born on February 21, 1988 in Chicago, and graduated from Mountain View High School in Orem, Utah, where he lettered in football (tight end/defensive end), basketball and track; he was an All-State performer at tight end as a senior. Two older brothers also played college football, Tony at Brigham Young and David, also at San Jose State (defensive end). His hobbies include basketball, swimming and most outdoor sports. He is married to the former Seriah Lotulelei, and the couple has four young children, all four and under: daughter Kalolaine and sons Soni, Tevita and Kalai. His wife's first cousin is Star Lotulelei, who played college football at Utah and is a defensive tackle with the Carolina Panthers of the National Football League.

CHIDERA UZO-DIRIBE Graduate Assistant (Defense)

Chidera Uzo-Diribe is in his fourth year on the Colorado football staff, his third as a graduate assistant working with the defense. He initially joined the staff as a recruiting intern, named to the position on July 13, 2015 and in the process, returned to his alma mater.

Uzo-Diribe, 26, was a four-year letterman at defensive end for the Buffaloes, and graduated from CU in December 2014 with a bachelor's degree in Communication. He finished his career tied for sixth in quarterback sacks (20), tied for 17th in tackles for loss (31) and second in forced fumbles (10); his percentage of solo tackles (99) to overall tackles (118), or 83.9 percent, is the highest in CU history.

He signed with the New Orleans Saints as a free agent, and was one of the last to be waived during their training camp.

SCOTT UNREIN Operations & Recruiting Assistant

Scott Unrein is in his seventh year on the University of Colorado football staff as the operations and recruiting assistant, named to the position in July 2012.

In August 2017, he was named to the "30 under 30" team of rising stars in college football by 247Sports, as he was nominated as CU's "jack-of-all-trades life saver" for the football program, as he does a little bit of everything in his split roles between operations and recruiting.

His primary duties include overseeing the parents program, assisting with on-campus recruiting and daily football operations, including the team's social media coordinator. He also advances all football road trips and works with hotel staff in coordinating all aspects of the team's stay in opponent cities.

Unrein, 30, joined the football staff basically from the other side of Folsom Field, as he worked as an intern for coach Roy Edwards with the CU men's golf team for the 2010-11 season. His role with the team included helping to facilitate and organize the 2011 NCAA Men's Regional Championships that the Buffaloes hosted at Colorado National Golf Club in Erie, Colo.

He graduated from CU in 2011 with a bachelor's degree in Business Administration with an emphasis in Marketing. He also earned his Business of Sports Certificate in 2010.

He was born on August 31, 1988 in Sterling, Colo., and graduated from Rocky Mountain High School in Fort Collins where he played baseball and basketball. His hobbies include basketball, golf and hiking. He is married to the former Lauren Fowler, who is CU's Assistant Director of Student-Athlete Leadership and Career Development.

JUSTIN GEYER Assistant Strength & Conditioning Coach

Justin Geyer is in his third year as an assistant strength and conditioning coach, joining the department on April 1, 2016. He works primarily with Colorado's football program.

Geyer, 31, came to Colorado from Arkansas State University, where he spent the previous year-and-a-half as the Red Wolves assistant director of strength and conditioning. Previously, he was the assistant football strength and conditioning coach at the University of Maryland from 2013-15. He began his career in the field as a volunteer coach at the University of Mississippi in 2012.

He graduated from the College of Mount St. Joseph in 2010 with a bachelor's degree in Athletic Training. He earned three letters playing linebacker and safety, starting for two seasons for the Lions. He was named to the Academic All-Heartland Conference team. He earned his Master's degree in Exercise Science from Springfield College in 2013.

He was born May 20, 1987 in Hamilton, Ohio, and graduated from Badin High School there, where he lettered in football. His hobbies include weightlifting and playing with his dog.

TERRANCE MOTLEY

Assistant Strength & Conditioning Coach

Terrance Motley is in his second year as an assistant strength and conditioning coach, joining the athletic department on February 1, 2017. He works primarily with Colorado's football program.

Motley, 28, joined the Colorado staff from the University of Louisiana at Lafayette, where he was a graduate assistant on the Ragin' Cajuns strength staff for a year-and-a-half (August 2015 until his CU appointment). He was the assistant coach for the football program and served as the head strength coach for the men's and women's tennis teams.

He is certified by both USA Weightlifting (Level I in sports performance) and by the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA) as a strength and conditioning specialist.

Prior to his joining the ULL program, he spent three months as an intern at Louisiana State University, where he assisted in strength & conditioning program implementation with the Tiger football, volleyball and baseball teams.

He graduated from BYU in 2015 with a bachelor's degree in Exercise and Wellness. He played one year of football (offensive line in 2011) and lettered two years in rugby (2013-14). He also worked as a intern in the Cougars' strength and conditioning department, where he assisted in exercise program design and implementation for BYU football and rugby.

While at Louisiana-Lafayette, Motley earned his Master of Science degree in Kinesiology, finishing up in 2017.

He was born December 29, 1989 in Provo, Utah, and graduated from Albuquerque's Cibola High School where he lettered in football and track and field (throws). His hobbies include weightlifting. He is fluent in Italian, and served his two-year Mormon mission for the LDS Church in Milan from February 2009 through February 2011. He is married to the former Katelyn Kerr, and the couple has two children, son Kai (3) and daughter Irie (1).

CODY STOUT

Assistant Strength & Conditioning Coach

Cody Stout is in his first year as an assistant strength and conditioning coach, joining the department on December 1, 2017. He works primarily with Colorado's football program.

Stout came to CU from the University of Southern Mississippi where he was responsible for the development of the strength and condition program of the Golden Eagles' baseball team while assisting with the football staff in 2017. He was also in charge of the graduate assistant career development program at Southern Miss.

In 2015 and 2016 he worked at Arkansas State as an assistant director of strength and conditioning and helped lead the Red Wolves football team to a pair of Sun Belt Conference championships.

Other past strength and conditioning experience comes from his first stint at Southern Miss, where he was a graduate assistant coach from 2014-15, and in the spring 2014 semester he was a volunteer intern at LSU. At Southern Miss, he was responsible for the development of the strength and conditioning program for the baseball team while assisting with football and at LSU he worked with the football, baseball, women's soccer and women's volleyball program.

During the 2013 season he worked at the University of Missouri as a volunteer intern athletic performance coach where he assisted the strength and conditioning staff in the training of the Tigers' football team. He additionally was responsible for the daily maintenance of the training facility under Rusty Burney, Assistant AD for Athletic Performance.

Stout earned a Bachelor of Science Degree in Exercise Science from the University of Indianapolis in 2014 and his Master of Science in Exercise Science from the University of Southern Mississippi in 2015.

He holds certifications from the National Strength and Conditioning Association (Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist), USA Weightlifting (Level 1 Sports Performance Coach Certification) and the American Red Cross (First Aid).

Stout played on the defensive line at the University of Indianapolis in 2010 and 2011 under head coach Bob Bartolomeo. He is a native of Rockville, Ind. and graduate of Rockville High School.

ERIK AUNESE

Recruiting Assistant

Erik Aunese is in his fourth year on the University of Colorado staff as a football recruiting assistant, named to the position on August 1, 2015, after working the previous two years as a student assistant in the football office.

Aunese, 26, was hired as a student assistant just prior to coach Mike MacIntyre's first fall camp at CU in August 2013.

He attended Fort Lewis College (Durango, Colo.) as a freshman on a partial scholarship in 2010; he returned to his native California where he played two years on the defensive line at Palomar Junior College under coach Joe Early. He earned his A.A. degree at Palomar in 2013; while working as an intern at Colorado, he took on-line classes with Colorado Mesa University (Grand Junction, Colo.) to finish off his bachelor's degree, earning his diploma in Sports Management in August 2016.

He was born on June 30, 1992 in Oceanside, Calif., and graduated from Mission Hills High School (San Marcos, Calif.), where he played football (fullback and defensive line); he attended MHHS for three years after going to Vista High School his freshman year. His hobbies include playing basketball and spending time with his extended family. An uncle, the late Sal Aunese, CU's starting quarterback in the 1987-88 seasons who passed away from stomach cancer on Sept. 23, 1989.

Recruiting Assistant

Corey Hall is in his third year on the University of Colorado staff as a football recruiting assistant, named to the position on June 6, 2016.

Hall, 24, had worked two-plus years as a student assistant working in the football office until he was promoted after graduating from CU with a B.S. degree in Business Administration with an emphasis in marketing. He was on the Dean's List for the Leeds Business School in both 2013 and 2015, and completed the exclusive Business of Sports Program the summer prior to his junior year.

He was born on November 21, 1993 in Golden, Colo., and graduated from Golden High School where he was an all-conference performer in football and lacrosse (he earned three letters in each). His hobbies include boating, snowboarding and biking.

MICHAEL SLIFE

Recruiting Assistant

Michael Slife is in his second year on the University of Colorado staff as a football recruiting assistant, joining the staff in June 2017.

Slife came to CU from just down the road, where he was the outside linebacker coach at the Colorado School of Mines from 2015 until he moved to Boulder. The Orediggers were the 2016 Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference champions and boasted the Harlan Hill Award winner in quarterback Justin Dvorak.

He previously spent the 2015 National Football League season working with the Cleveland Browns, working in the club's player personnel department. He also spent four years (2011-14) as an intern and a scout with Ourlads Scouting Services.

A native of Cleveland, Ohio, he lettered in football and lacrosse as a prep at St. Ignatius. He is married (Allison).

MAGGIE STILL

Social Media Coordinator

Maggie Still is in her first year as the social media coordinator for football, having transferred over from sports information, where she was an assistant SID for women's golf, track and field and tennis. She also assisted the digital department as a social media coordinator.

She graduated from CU with a degree in Broadcast News and a certificate in Digital Media in 2013. While at CU, she was a student assistant in the sports information office for two years.

After graduating from CU, Still worked for the University of Nebraska's athletic department as a media relations assistant and in house digital reporter. She produced event features, facility tours and social media campaigns while also serving as the sport contact for the Big Ten Champion women's gymnastics program. After two years working at Nebraska, she moved into a role for the University of Oklahoma's athletic department as the assistant director of digital media. She handled all social media efforts and strategy for the Big 12 Champion football program as well as the men's basketball team that reached the Final Four. She was credited with raising the social media standards and branding for all sports. Still also created social media campaigns for Heisman contender Baker Mayfield and Wooden Award winner Buddy Hield. A Texas native, Still currently resides in Broomfield. She enjoys college football, country music and cooking.

SHERYL VOTH

Assistant to the Head Coach

Sheryl Voth is in her fourth year of her second stint with the Colorado football program, as she is the assistant to head coach Mike MacIntyre, moving into the role in April 2015.

She had been working in the CU's athletics facility department for the previous two years, after she spent two years as the assistant to head football coach Jon Embree for the 2011 and 2012 seasons. She shifted into that position literally from down the hall in the Dal Ward Athletic Center, as she worked in the Herbst Academic Center.

Prior to working in athletics, she was employed on the CU-Boulder campus as an administrative assistant in the Registrar's Office. Before returning to the work force in 2008, she was fortunate to be able to stay at home with her three children, Tyler, Shelby, and Shaylynn. She has always been actively involved with volunteering, especially at her children's schools. Before raising her children, she worked for Safeway for many years managing the bakery at one of the Boulder stores.

A native of Boulder, she graduated from Fairview High School, and attended the University of Colorado. The former Sheryl Bonnes, when she was in sixth grade, she became one of the first girls in Boulder to play on a boys' Little League baseball team.

A professional cake decorator and instructor, her hobbies include waterskiing, particularly at Lake Powell, snow skiing, hiking and biking. She has also coached youth basketball, mentoring the YMCA girls' team in Boulder since 1999. A long-time fan of CU athletics and basketball in particular, she has had season tickets since the 80's.

JEAN ONAGA

Administrative Assistant

Jean Onaga is in her 33rd year with the Colorado football program as the administrative assistant to the assistant coaches, handling all secretarial duties for both the offensive and defensive coordinators and each staff. She also assists the director of football operations and director of recruiting in administrative duties.

Onaga, who is currently the third-longest tenured employee in all of the athletic department, also coordinates all football office volunteers regarding security for spring and fall practices. She facilitates program activities and events including all pro scout visits year-round and the school's annual pro timing day every March. She also coordinated former events such as the coaches' clinic and passing tournament camp, and still assists with registration for various football camps.

She joined the football staff in January 1986 and is the longest continuous employee in the football department; only three current employees have been associated with the entire athletic department longer than her. She has worked with six CU head coaches: Bill McCartney, Rick Neuheisel, Gary Barnett, Dan Hawkins, Jon Embree and now Mike MacIntyre.

For her years of service, Jean was recognized as an honorary member of the Alumni C Club by the Board of Directors during CU-Missouri game on November 3, 2007.

Originally from Honolulu, Hawaii, Jean and her husband Loren moved to Boulder in 1985. She graduated from McKinley High School and graduated from Kapiolani Community College with a degree in business.

SUPPORT PROGRAM STAFF

(Biographies for those who have considerable daily interaction with the program.)

LAURA ANDERSON

Associate AD/Performance Nutrition

Laura Anderson is in her fifth year as a member of the University of Colorado athletic staff, having first joined the program in August 2014 as the department's first-ever dietitian. She was promoted to the associate athletic director for performance nutrition on August 1, 2018.

Anderson, 39, came to CU from the 10th Group Special Forces in Colorado Springs, where she was the performance dietitian for the Tactical Human Optimization, Rapid Rehabilitation & Recovery Program for just under four years (November 2010-August 2014). Among her many responsibilities was to provide individual and group performance nutrition counseling to enhance the health and performance of the Active Duty Special Forces tactical athlete, assisting with menu development, and education material for both food service staff and customers and directing nutritional care activities for active duty soldiers, including those with complex medical and nutritional needs. In 2012, she received the Commander's Award For Civilian Service 10th Special Forces.

She previously has spent nearly three years (January 2008-November 2010) as a sport dietitian with the United States Olympic Committee, working with a wide diversity of male and female athletes for both winter and summer sports. Her duties ranged from performing assorted tests on the athletes to conducting educational seminars to even include the coaching staffs. She was also the official "team baker" for the men's and women's alpine ski teams at the 2010 Vancouver Winter Olympics.

Anderson also has worked in various other positions along the Colorado Front Range as a program dietitian, a nutrition services dietitian and as a dietitian/strength and conditioning specialist.

She earned her bachelor's degree in Health and Exercise Science from the University of Wisconsin-LaCrosse in 2001, and received her master's degree in Interdisciplinary Health and Exercise Science and Nutrition from Colorado State University in 2004. She also performed two internships (Exercise Physiology at St. Andrews War Memorial Hospital in Brisbane, Australia, in 2001; Dietetic at James A. Haley Veterans Hospital in Tampa, Fla., in 2005).

A registered dietitian with the American Dietetic Association, she is also board certified as a specialist in sports nutrition, by the American College of Sports Medicine (ACSM) as a health and fitness instructor and by ISAK (International Society for Advancement in Kinanthropometry); she is also certified in CPR and first aid.

She is a member of the American Dietetic Association and the Colorado

Dietetic Association, and an affiliate with SCAN (Sports, Cardiovascular and Wellness Nutrition), Weight Management and CPSDA (College, Professional, Sports Dietitian Association).

A native of Richland Center, Wis., and graduated from Richland Center High School, where she lettered four years each in softball and volleyball. Her hobbies include biking (mountain and road), rock climbing, trail running and cooking. She is married to Chris Alstrin, and as she says, the couple has one "crazy" dog (Lexi, a pointer lab).

CHRIS BADER

Counselor & Sports Psychologist

Dr. Christopher (Chris) Bader is entering his seventh year as the counseling and sport psychologist for the University of Colorado athletic department, joining the program in August 2012.

Bader, 41, provides mental health services including clinical, assessment and individual and team consultation to the student-athletes and coaches at CU. In addition, he works with incoming student-athletes in their adjustment to their new environment and in preparation for their matriculation through CU. Other areas of responsibility include serving on several department and university-wide committees: DA Task Force, Leadership Development Program, Continuum of Care, Diversity & Inclusion and the Alcohol and Other Drug Team.

Prior to coming to CU, for six years (2007-12) he was on staff in the Psychological Resources for Student-Athletes office at the University of Oklahoma. Bader is licensed as a psychologist (LP) in the states of Oklahoma (inactive) and Colorado. He currently holds the title of Certified Consultant through the Association for Applied Sport Psychology (CC-AASP), and he is a member of the United States Olympic Committee Sport Psychology Registry.

He earned his bachelor's degree in Psychology at Louisiana State University in 1998, where he was a member and president of the Rugby Football Club. Also at LSU, Bader was a member and president of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia Fraternity, a member of the Golden Band from Tigerland (tenor saxophone), and a member of LSU's Student Government Association.

Bader continued his education in Louisiana earning his Master's degree in Psychology with an emphasis in psych neuroendocrinology at the University of Louisiana at Lafayette. While earning his Master's degree, he discovered the field of sport psychology and chose to attend the University of North Texas, where he earned his Ph.D. in Counseling Psychology with an emphasis in Sport Psychology. He completed his pre-doctoral internship through the Oklahoma Health Consortium with a primary rotation in the OU athletics department. He stayed on at PROS in various capacities for four years following his internship.

He enjoys teaching at both the undergraduate and graduate levels and regularly attends and participates in national and international professional conferences. He is active in the American Psychological Association (APA) and the Association for Applied Sport Psychology (AASP), including recently being named the Communication Coordinator for Division 47 of APA. His professional interests include diversity and inclusion, leadership development, athletic administration, men's issues and student-athlete development and transition.

He was born Sept. 15, 1976 in Charlotte, N.C., and graduated from Christian Brothers High School in Memphis, Tenn., where he was a member of concert band (saxophone). His hobbies include watching sports (in particular college football), and recently has taken up hiking in Colorado's high country. He is married to the former LaTisha Braddock, and the couple has a daughter, Adella (3).

TYLER BALTIERRAS

Director of Football Equipment

Tyler Baltierras is in his seventh year as a member of the University of Colorado equipment staff, his sixth as a full-time employee as he was hired on April 8, 2013. He was promoted to the director of football equipment on July 1, 2016 after working three years as the top assistant under director J.T. Galloway.

Baltierras, 30, joined the department as an intern in the equipment office in the summer of 2012, initially working with just the football program. Once hired full-time, his duties expanded; he still worked with football, but added the spirit squads to his duties, along with managing the needs of several areas within the athletic department, including academics, alumni, marketing, the Buff Club and Buffalo Sports Properties.

A 2012 graduate of the Metro State University in Denver, where he earned his Bachelor of Science degree in Health Professions, with an emphasis on Recreation Management. While a student at Metro, he worked as a student equipment manager for the Buffaloes, starting as a sophomore and doing so through his senior year.

He was born November 11, 1987 in Boulder, and graduated from Monarch High School (Louisville, Colo.), where he earned two letters playing baseball (outfield). His hobbies include golfing, working out and collecting sneakers (he has over 80 pair).

LANCE CARL

Associate AD/Business Development

Lance Carl, who participated in one of the key plays on the football field as a player for the University of Colorado in the mid-1980s, returned to his alma mater for the fourth time in his career when he was named to a newly created position, associate athletic director for business development on November 5, 2013.

Carl, 52, is also the sports supervisor for the football program, as he has daily interactions with head coach Mike MacIntyre, the assistant coaches, support personnel and the student-athletes. He has long been active and on the board of directors with Buffs4Life, an organization of former CU athletes that help former Buffs in need.

He is completing his fifth year in the largely external role which encompasses business development, community partnerships and as serves as the coordinator for non-game day events. His duties include working build strategic community partnerships, improve the department's engagement with local community entities and work to attract non-game day event business to CU's athletic facilities. He has developed over two dozen key partnerships to date, as he is working to change the image and perception about athletics and its interactions in the business world. He also was the point-person working with AEG Rocky Mountain to bring the first concerts to Folsom Field in 15 years when Dead & Company played the stadium in July 2016 (and who has since returned twice for additional shows).

He rejoined the CU staff after spending the last six years with the Colorado Department of Higher Education, where he was a director for student motivational outreach. He was a direct liaison to all middle and high schools throughout the state, as well as for parents and administrators. He developed the Umbrella of Success motivational presentation and delivered that message to 160,000 students, parents and administrators during that time.

As a junior split end in 1986, he led the team in receiving with nine catches for 171 yards and two touchdowns, as with the Buffaloes in their second year of running the wishbone offense under coach Bill McCartney, Colorado didn't throw the ball all that often.

But one of those scores was as big as they come, a 52-yard reception from O.C. Oliver on a perfectly executed halfback option that answered a Nebraska field goal and put CU ahead, 17-7, on the first play of the fourth quarter. That helped keep the third-ranked Huskers at an arm's length and the Buffaloes went on to win, 20-10, in a game referred to as "the turning point" for the school under McCartney.

He graduated from CU in 1991 with a Bachelor's of Arts degree in Sociology; he had first returned to CU to finish his degree after signing as a free agent with the Washington Redskins and returning to his native Iowa.

Carl then came back to CU as a graduate assistant coach under Rick Neuheisel for the 1996 season. He also spent four years as a regional scout for the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League.

He was born September 13, 1965 in Burlington, Iowa, and graduated from Fort Madison (Iowa) High School, where he was a four-sport letterman (12 letters total) in football, basketball, baseball and track. His hobbies include coaching his kid's sports teams, golf, hiking and mountain biking; he was an assistant coach of the North Boulder Wildcats team that reached the Little League World Series in 2015. He married to the former Jennifer Mysonhimer, also a CU graduate, she worked as a teaching assistant on campus and in the Herbst Academic Center when Carl was a grad assistant. The couple has three children, sons Savoy (20) and Jackson (15) and daughter Alana (8).

JASON DEPAEPE

Senior Associate AD/Internal Operations

Jason DePaepe is in his first year as the senior associate athletic director for internal operations, having been promoted to the position on August 1, 2018. He is in his 19th year overall at the University of Colorado.

DePaepe, 44, had served over four years (2013-18) as the associate athletic director for facilities and game day operations, promoted to that post in February 2013, as he coordinated game day management and operations, specifically for football and CU's other outside sport programs, were added to his responsibilities in September 2014.

In addition to overseeing all staff members who coordinate the facility and maintenance needs for Folsom Field, the Dal Ward Athletic Center, the Champions Center, Balch Fieldhouse, Prentup Field, Potts Field, the Indoor Practice Facility (IPF), Kittredge Lacrosse Field, and the South Campus Tennis Facility, he now oversees human resources and the stadium's concessionaire, Levy.

DePaepe had worked as the athletic turf manager for 12 years prior to his first promotion, responsible for all maintenance, renovation, upkeep and painting and design of Folsom Field's natural grass surface as well as the athletic practice fields located just north of Boulder Creek and Prentup Field, home to CU's women's soccer team. He originally joined CU in June 2000 as an assistant turf manager and was promoted to the head position in February 2001. He is considered by many to be one of the best in his field, and he still oversees all of CU's field operations.

The Sports Turf Managers Association (STMA) honored DePaepe and his staff in January 2003, when the organization recognized Folsom Field's turf with the Football Field of the Year Award for the college/university division. STMA has over 2,400 members, so the award, especially in just the fourth season since Folsom returned to natural grass, was quite an honor.

In 2008, he oversaw the complex replacement of SportGrass on the Folsom Field floor with a natural Kentucky blue grass.

He came to CU from the Baltimore Ravens, where he was the assistant field manager for a year. Prior to that, he was employed at Iowa State, where he graduated from in 1999 with Bachelor's degree in Horticulture and Turf Grass Management. He worked two years at ISU as a student turf manager.

He was born May 4, 1974 in Minot, N.D., and graduated from Waterloo (Iowa) West, where he lettered in baseball and basketball. His hobbies include golf and basketball. He is married to the former Kristen Sorensen, one-time CU's director of special events, and the couple has two daughters, Brielle (5) and Evelyn (3).

JAMIE GUY

Director of Sports Video

Jamie Guy is in his 15th year as CU's director of sports video and his 18th year overall on the Colorado staff, as he joined the department in August 2001. He was promoted to his current position in the fall of 2004 after working just over three years as the assistant director.

Guy, 43, came to CU from the Chicago Enforcers of the now-defunct XFL, where he worked the lone season of the league's existence.

In CU's first year in the Pac-12 Conference (2011-12), he was named the Pac-12 Video Coordinator of the Year as selected by a majority vote of his peers. He was twice selected as the video coordinator of the year in the Big 12 Conference, first in 2005-06 and again in 2009-10. The awards are coordinated and voted by members of the Collegiate Sports Video Association; members of each conference select the winner for their respective leagues, and the recipients are placed on the national ballot for the overall CSVA award, the Bob Matey National Video Coordinator of the Year.

As talented as there is in the profession, Guy has coordinated the production of several video shorts showcasing in particular, the CU football program. Along with his former assistant John Snelson, the two were honored twice with Heartland Chapter of the National Academy of Television Arts & Sciences (NATA) Emmy awards, first in 2014 for their work called "Seasons," the story of a dream and the lifetime experience of being a Colorado Buffalo, and then again for 2015 for the series entitled, "Forward." The duo was also nominated in 2015 for their "Forever" video, his personal favorite because of the time, execution and passion that went into creating it (an all-encompassing look at what it means to be a Colorado Buffalo, on and off the field, as well as in 2016 for "The Rise," which documented CU's first Pac-12 South Division title and return to the postseason. "Forever" did win the 2015 FootballScoop FBS Video of the Year honor.

He graduated from the University of Cincinnati in 1998 with a bachelor's degree in general studies. As a student, he worked in the Bearcats' sports video office for four years. Prior to entering the sports video profession, he worked as an electrician's apprentice and as a staff manager at Fitworks Fitness.

Born March 18, 1975 in Cincinnati, Ohio, he graduated from Lawrence Central High School (Indianapolis, Ind.) in 1994, where he lettered in track and football. His hobbies include collecting football memorabilia and playing the guitar. He is married to the former Kimberly Ernst.

ADAM HOLLIDAY

Head Football Trainer

Adam Holliday is in his ninth year in the sports medicine department at the University of Colorado, his fourth as the head athletic trainer for the football program. He was promoted to the position prior to spring practice in February 2015 after serving five years as the top assistant trainer for the program (with associate status the last two years), along with coordinating the needs of the women's golf team.

Holliday, 87, is in his second tour of duty with the department, as he had previously spent the 2004-05 academic year in Boulder as the professional intern under former head trainer Steve Willard, working with the football and men's and women's tennis teams. He returned to CU from the University of Texas, where he spent three years as the assistant athletic trainer for the Longhorns' football squad.

A 2002 graduate of the University of Kansas where he earned his Bachelor of Science degree in Sports Science, he worked three years as a student athletic trainer for the Jayhawks. His first full-time position in athletic training came at Loris High School in Myrtle Beach, S.C., the year before being named an intern at CU. After his time in Boulder, he moved on to the University of Minnesota where he was a graduate assistant trainer for two years while earning his Master's in Sports Management in 2007.

He was born March 28, 1980 in Johnson, Kan., and graduated from Stanton County (Kan.) High School where he lettered in football and basketball. He is married to the former Marissa Carrizales, who is CU's trainer for the volleyball program. His hobbies include golf, skiing, snowboarding and hiking/camping in the mountains.

JOHN GRAVES

Ralphie Program Manager

John Graves is in his fourth year as the Ralphie Live Mascot Program Manager, having assumed the position in July 2015. He was promoted from the assistant director position which he had held since April 2010.

Graves, 31, is more than familiar with the program, as he served as a Ralphie Handler for his sophomore through senior years (2007-09); he won the Handlers' "Rookie of the Year" Award in 2007.

He holds Humane Handling certifications for both cattle and horses, as well as a Humane Livestock Transportation certification. He also has been working with the National Bison Association to develop similar standards for buffalo (bison). He also holds an ISSA Strength and Conditioning Certification - Level 2, is a USA Weightlifting Sports Performance Coach - Level 1, and is certified in First Aid, AED and CPR. Graves also does extensive work with both the National Bison Association and the Rocky Mountain Buffalo Association.

He earned his bachelor's degree in Science in Business Administration from CU in December 2009, and his master's in Agriculture from Colorado State University in May 2016.

He was born January 6, 1987 in Salisbury, Md., and graduated from Aurora (Colo.) Grandview High School where he lettered in football, hockey and lacrosse. His hobbies include camping, mountain hiking and running. He is married to the former Jennifer Gray, who also works at the university as the financial aid communications coordinator.

GREG HUTCHINS

Assistant Equipment Manager

Greg Hutchins is in his second year as the assistant equipment manager for football, returning to his alma mater as a full-time employee on July 19, 2017.

Hutchins, 24, worked as undergraduate for three-plus years in CU's equipment office under both J.T. Galloway and Tyler Baltierras beginning in January 2013. After graduating with a bachelor's degree in Business (Operations Management) in May 2016, he worked as a season equipment intern with the National Football League's Seattle Seahawks. There, he was reunited with former Buff wide receiver Paul Richardson as the Seahawks won the NFC West Division and won the wildcard game.

He was born September 10, 1993 in Colorado Springs, and graduated from Berthoud (Colo.) High School where he earned 11 letters in three sports: football, basketball and track. His hobbies include golfing, hiking and playing basketball, in addition to calling himself a "forever learner." Growing up, he lived three years in northern England, and he is fluent in Italian.

KRIS LIVINGSTON

Senior Associate AD/Student Success

Kris Livingston is in her 22nd year at the University of Colorado, her first as a senior associate athletic director for student success, promoted to the position on August 1, 2018; she held the similar position as an associate AD since 2014 after being promoted to an assistant athletic director in 2010.

Included in her role is overseeing all of CU's academic support services for her 12th year as well as CU's leadership and career development and diversity and inclusion programs. Located in the Herbst Academic Center, her area provides year-round academic support to all of CU's approximately 350 student-athletes; she was an assistant director for the unit until being named its director on May 24, 2007. She also in the past performed sports administrator duties for CU's soccer and skiing programs.

Former football coach Dan Hawkins credited her organization and philosophy about academics as one of the strongest factors for the football team's back-to-back record years for grade point average for the 2008-09 and 2009-10 school years. And under head coaches Jon Embree and Mike MacIntyre, football has continued to set record GPA figures and graduation rates, as have several others among CU's 17 intercollegiate programs and the entire athletic program overall.

She joined the CU staff in May 1997, hired by then-women's basketball head coach Ceal Barry to be the program's first-ever Director of Basketball Operations. She spent eight seasons in that position until Barry's retirement from coaching in March of 2005.

Livingston came to Boulder from Littleton, Colo., where she was a senior consultant at USA Group Noel-Levitz, an educational consulting firm that is hired by colleges to help recruit and retain students. Prior to that, Livingston spent eight years at Iowa State University as an assistant women's basketball coach (1984-89), admissions counselor (1989-91) and telecounseling coordinator (1991-92).

She earned her bachelor's degree in Sociology from Miami University (Oxford, Ohio) in May 1983, where she was a four-year letterwinner on Miami's women's basketball team and earned first-team All-Mid-American Conference and first-team Academic All-MAC honors. In August 1997, she was inducted into Miami's Hall of Fame, only the second women's basketball player to be so honored.

Livingston earned her master's degree in Sport and Exercise Science with an emphasis in Sport Administration from the University of Northern Colorado in August 2009.

A native of Toledo, Ohio, she graduated from Lake High School in Millbury, Ohio, in 1979. A three-sport athlete, she was an inaugural member of her high school Hall of Fame in 1983. She is married to Dr. Kelly Causey.

MEDFORD MOORER

Associate Director/Academics

Medford Moorer is in his eighth year as an associate director and academic coordinator in the Herbst Academic Center, having joined the athletic department staff on August 1, 2011 from across campus, where he had been working in administration as the graduate coordinator in the Civil Engineering department for the previous five years.

His main sport responsibilities are with the football (offensive players and specialists) and the women's tennis teams, as well as heading up the department's diversity and inclusion efforts.

Prior to returning to his alma mater in 2006, Moorer, 37, worked one year at Texas A&M as an assistant in academics. That followed two years as a teacher for a charter school in metro Denver, his first full-time position after he completed his college football career for the Buffaloes.

He graduated from CU with a degree in Sociology in August 2003. As a junior, he was the recipient of the Clancy A. Herbst Student-Athlete Achievement Award, presented to the Buff who overcame personal, academic and/or emotional difficulties to success academically while participating in athletics.

He was a four-year letterman in football at Colorado, leading the team in tackles with 111 his senior year in 2003, when he earned second-team All-Big 12 Conference honors from the league coaches. He won three postseason team awards that year, the Hang Tough Award (overcoming the most adversity); the Dave Jones Award (outstanding defensive player); and the Buffalo Heart Award (selected by "the fans behind the bench"). In the postseason, he played in the Hula Bowl. As a sophomore, he had a big play in CU's 39-37 win over Texas in the Big 12 Championship game, returning an interception 64 yards for a touchdown that gave CU a 29-10 lead late in the first half. His 256 career tackles are still the 27th most in school history.

He was born November 28, 1980 in Los Angeles, and graduated from the city's Locke High School, where was an All-City and All-League performer in football and also lettered in basketball and track. He is married to the former Mandy (Ament), and the couple has two children, son Marshall (7) and daughter Malia Ann (5).

ERIC PELLONI

Assistant Director/BufVision

Eric Pelloni is in his 13th year as the assistant director of BufVision, although he has been involved in CU Athletics for the better part of 18 years. He was hired full-time on August 1, 2006 after working on a contractual basis since August 2001.

Pelloni, 45, assists with the video packages for CU's video display boards and has been on the BufVision game day crew for 16 seasons. Pelloni also helps coordinate streaming and technical issues between CU Athletics and Pac-12 Enterprises.

When CU overhauled its official athletic website, CUBuffs.com, in 2003, Pelloni was hired on a part-time basis to create video content and coordinate streaming live events. He has created the majority of the graphic work and assisted in the designing of the website, and has also designed several media guide covers.

Pelloni was also the associate producer of "The Buffalo Stampede" coaches show which aired weekly on FSN Rocky Mountain until ending with Colorado's transition over to the Pac-12 Networks agreement. In 2016, he won a Telly Award for his production work for the 2015 Pac-12 Conference's women's golf championship that was held at Boulder Country Club.

Prior to his full-time appointment at CU, Pelloni worked as a freelance video editor/graphic artist in the Denver area, creating video content for both broadcast and non-broadcast applications for a number of clients including Qwest Communications, Coors, XCEL Energy and the United Way of New York City.

He graduated from Metropolitan State College of Denver in 1998, majoring in Technical Communication with a minor in Speech Communication. He taught as an adjunct professor in the technical communications department at Metro State for the 2003-04 school year.

He was born November 21, 1972 in Detroit, Mich., and graduated from Broomfield (Colo.) High School, where he lettered in golf, which remains one of his favorite hobbies. He is married to the former Gabbie Perkins, who is CU's Assistant Athletic Director for Olympic Sports Operations; the couple has a son, E.J. (Edwin James, 4) and a daughter (Sophia, 2).

DAVID PLATI

Associate AD/Sports Information

David Plati is in his 35th year as the athletic department's director of sports information, and his 41st year overall in CU's Sports Information Office. He was promoted to assistant athletic director for media relations on July 1, 1988, and attained associate athletic director status in August 2005.

Plati, 58, was named the 13th full-time sports information director in CU history on July 24, 1984, after serving for three years as the assistant SID. The youngest SID in the nation at the time of his hiring, he previously worked as a student assistant and statistician after coming to CU as a freshman in 1978. Only six people have served in the role since 1952, with Plati's tenure in the position the longest in school annals; he was recognized in 2009 with the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) Quarter Century of Service award.

Overall, only three others have been employed full-time by CU athletics longer than Plati: track coach Frank Potts (41 years), athletic director/baseball coach Harry Carlson (38 years) and associate AD, business and ticket manager Jon Burianek (38 years).

His primary responsibilities are with the football, skiing and men's golf programs, though he oversees the sports information efforts for all sports, and at one time or another has personally handled nine sports during his CU career. He has easily worked or covered over 2,150 CU events: 455 football games including a string of 410 in a row that ended in 2017 due to a minor health issue, at the time the second-longest active streak by any SID in the nation. Plati also coordinates the CU Athletic Hall of Fame selection process annually and also is the point of contact for football scheduling among his broad range of duties.

He has coordinated numerous successful promotional campaigns and public relations programs for student-athletes and coaches. Plati has written two books on CU football, the first about the school's 1990 national championship, and the second published in 2008, Colorado Football Vault, a coffee table style book with an awesome collection of photographs and reproduced keepsakes. In 2005, the Denver Buff Club recognized him as its "MVB" choice (Most Valuable Buff).

The Football Writers Association of America has recognized CU's sports information office eight times during his tenure, three times for an outstanding press box operation (1987, 1992, 1997; schools were eligible only every five years), and now five times with the FWAA's Super 11 award (2010, 2013, 2014, 2016, 2017) for all-encompassing efforts with the nation's football media.

Plati is also an adjunct instructor in CU's College of Media, Communication and Information (CMCI), teaching a sports media relations class for the last 17 years. Since April 2001, he has been CU's representative on the board of directors of the Colorado Chapter of the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame, and in 2006, he became a member of the District 7 Screening Committee for the Hall. In 2009, he was appointed to the board of the Colorado Golf Hall of Fame, and in 2010, he was named to the board of the Colorado Music Hall of Fame.

In 2015, Plati was a recipient of the Robert L. Stearns Award, presented to current members of the CU-Boulder faculty and staff for extraordinary achievement or service to the university. In 2009, celebrating his 30th year covering CU golf, the team instituted a "David Plati Mr. Buffalo Award" honoring the player for his dedication and commitment to the program. The NFF/Colorado chapter presented him with the 2018 Keith Jensen Award for service to the organization.

While attending CU, Plati served four years as the information director for the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference. He also worked for the Colorado Golf Association and for the Rocky Mountain News.

He spent his senior year in college (1982) as the public relations director with the triple-A Denver Bears Baseball Club of the American Association. He has been a member of the Denver Broncos statistics crew since 1980, creating and maintaining miscellaneous stats (he received game balls from the NFL team for their back-to-back Super Bowl wins in the 90s). He has worked 392 Bronco games through the 2017 season, and among the many innovative numbers he is credited with first charting was "scoring percentage inside-the-20," which is now commonly known as the red zone. In the 1980s, he worked as a statistician for TBS for NBA telecasts, creating a wave of now commonplace statistics, and continues to work freelance for several networks, both television and radio, in a similar capacity. In 2004, he was appointed by major league baseball to serve as one of two official scorers for the Colorado Rockies baseball team, and has scored over 300 games.

Plati was the Hula Bowl's director of game week communications for four years (1995-98). He has also worked five BCS National Championship games (2002-06-09-10-13 seasons), all four College Football Playoff title games (2014-15-16-17 seasons), seven Rose and two Fiesta bowls for a grand total of 41 postseason bowl games when including CU's 19.

He has worked as the media relations liaison for the Bolder Boulder 10K since 1987, and also served as the media relations assistant for the Colorado Open Golf Tournament for 12 years (1980-91). He was the media coordinator for the 1985, 1989 and 1996 NCAA West Regionals, and was the local media coordinator and NCAA liaison for the 1990 Final Four, all in Denver.

He graduated with a bachelor's degree in public relations, along with a minor in geography, from CU in December 1982. He was a member of the journalism student council and wrote for The Campus Press.

Born April 19, 1960 in New Rochelle, N.Y., Plati graduated from Woodlands High School (Hartsdale, N.Y.) in 1978, where he lettered in football and golf (and was also the school's SID his senior year). In 1984, he was awarded an "Honorary C" for his service to Colorado athletics. An avid golfer, he won the 2005 Rocky Mountain Golf Writers Association fourth annual tournament.

One of his proudest moments in his CU career came when late golf coach Mark Simpson asked him to present him for induction at Simpson's Golf Coaches Hall of Fame induction ceremony in January, 2005. He is also an avid concert goer, having attended some 360-plus in his lifetime (led by 37 Jimmy Buffett performances), and one of his hobbies is memorizing song lyrics. His younger brother (Mark, a top music engineer) was nominated for two Grammy Awards with David Bowie in 1998 (he was a guitarist in Bowie's band for five years), and also engineered the Song-of-the-Year for 1997 (Shawn Colvin's "Sunny Came Home)."

KEVIN PROCHASKA

Associate Director/Compliance

Kevin Prochaska is in his seventh year as the associate director of compliance with the University of Colorado Athletic Department. In his duties he is responsible for the compliance needs of football as well as assisting with all other sports.

Prior to arriving at Colorado, he spent two years (2010-12) as the director of compliance and CHAMPS life skills at Miami (Ohio) University. Prochaska was also an adjunct professor at Miami, teaching a course for freshmen student-athletes.

Prochaska earned his bachelor's degree in Criminal Justice from the University of Wisconsin at Platteville in 2003. He earned his J.D. degree (juris doctor) from Marquette University Law School in 2009. While at Marquette, he served as a compliance intern in the athletic department for the 2008-09 school year, and served in a similar role at Northern Illinois University in 2009 before graduating. He accepted a position as a compliance coordinator at Ohio State University for the 2009-10 academic year.

He was born in Prairie du Chien, Wis., and graduated from Prairie du Chien High School where he lettered in football and golf. His hobbies include attending sporting events and concerts as well as traveling and playing golf. Prochaska and his wife, Jessica, are the parents of a daughter, Avery, and a son, Thomas.

MIGUEL RUEDA

Senior Associate AD/Health & Performance

Miguel Rueda is in 13th year in the CU athletic department, his first as a senior associate athletic director for health and performance; he had been the associate AD over the same area since being promoted to the position in February 2015. Also the head athletic trainer, he previously had served nine-plus years solely in that role after he was hired on August 1, 2006, just days ahead of football camp.

In his role, he oversees the entire training staff as well as serves as the school's liaison with the CU Sports Medicine and Performance Center, housed in the athletic department's Champions Center. He also oversees the strength and conditioning and sports nutrition areas as well as CU's sports psychologist and works closely with campus on research initiatives.

Rueda, 46, is the second-longest tenured trainer in CU's athletic history now in his 12th year in that capacity, behind only a 14-year run by Dave Burton, who held the position from 1985-99; one other had served in the role for eight years, and three others for seven.

He is also CU's institutional representative for the Pac-12's student health conference, and in that role, he organizes the annual meeting for all sports medicine officials from each league school.

He came to CU from Fresno State University, where he has been the Director of Sports Medicine since February 2001. At FSU, his primary responsibilities were the care and prevention of injuries for the football program and overseeing all areas of the Fresno State Sports Medicine Program. He has similar duties at Colorado, as he coordinates the needs and staffing for CU's 16 intercollegiate varsity programs.

With CU's move to the Pac-12 Conference, he was named the Education Director for the Pac-12 annual sports medicine meeting, a role he performed in the 2011-12 academic year and will continue to serve in for at least the 2012-13 year as well.

Ironically, his first football game as Fresno State's head trainer was in Boulder, as the Bulldogs played the Buffaloes in the Jim Thorpe Association Classic on August 26, 2001; FSU won the game, 24-22, and went on to climb into the nation's top 10, until getting knocked off by Boise State, then coached by CU's future coach, Dan Hawkins.

Rueda previously had worked two years (1995-97) as a graduate assistant trainer for the Bulldogs while earning his master's degree in exercise physiology.

He had rejoined the Fresno State staff from Towson University, where he served as an assistant athletic trainer from 1998 to 2001; he was the head trainer for football. Prior to Towson, Rueda spent time with the Miami Dolphins of the National Football League in 1997-98 and with Holy Cross in 1994-95. He also has extensive teaching experience, instructing classes ranging from sports medicine administration to basic athletic training courses over the past 10 years.

He received his undergraduate degree in athletic training from Boston University in 1994, and his master's degree from Fresno State in 1997. Rueda is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association, the College Athletic Trainers Society and has American Red Cross CPR and First Aid certification.

He was born November 17, 1971 in San Francisco, graduating from the city's Jay Eugene McAteer High School where he lettered in cross country and track. He and his wife, Andrea, have two sons, Gabriel and Christopher, and a daughter, Isabella.

CURTIS SNYDER
Assistant AD/Sports Information

Curtis Snyder is in his 20th year as a member of the University of Colorado athletic department, his first as an assistant athletic director in the sports information office, his third stint in the SID area. He had worked the previous three years as CU's director of digital strategy after rejoining the Buffalo staff on December 1, 2008 after a five-and-a-half year absence. He shares the duties for football with the associate AD and once again heads up the SID responsibilities for CU's ski team.

He spent the previous seven-plus years (2008-15) as the associate sports information director, in addition to managing special projects and digital media. He was the secondary sports information contact for football for six seasons (2009-14) and was the primary SID for CU's renowned national championship ski program for eight years (2009-16). In August 2012, he was given the additional duties of overseeing overall strategy and execution of CUBuffs.com and social media (Facebook, Twitter, etc.), and still has some responsibilities in this area.

Snyder, 43, was the championship director for the 2016 and 2018 NCAA Skiing Championships that CU hosted in Steamboat Springs, and has served as the webmaster for the Rocky Mountain Intercollegiate Ski Association (RMISA) since 2008.

He returned to CU from Duke University, where he served as the director of Internet operations from 2003-08, managing the day-to-day operations of GoDuke.com and had various SID duties for the football and men's basketball programs. He accompanied the basketball team during the postseason, during which time the Blue Devils captured two ACC Championships and a berth in the 2004 Final Four in San Antonio. He also traveled with the women's basketball team to the 2006 Final Four in Boston.

He previously served four years as a student assistant in CU's athletic media relations office (it's then name) from 1994-98 and then five years as a full-time assistant SID and as well as the Internet managing editor from 1998-2003. As a student, Snyder worked with the volleyball and men's basketball programs and was presented with the Athletic Director's medal for service to the department.

In his first stint at CU, he worked at various times as the primary contact for the men's basketball, volleyball and men's and women's tennis programs while also being named the Internet coordinator and eventually Internet managing editor, overseeing the official website, CUBuffs.com.

He also currently serves as a back-up statistician for the NBA's Denver Nuggets and has worked with the AVP (professional beach volleyball tour). He has been an active member of the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) and served on the technology committee for five years (2007-11).

Born Sept. 2, 1975, in Boulder, he graduated from Boulder High School in 1994, where he was a fourth-generation student and lettered three times in basketball. His grandmother graduated from CU in 1929, his grandfather was recruited to CU by Frank Potts to be a decathlete and also to play basketball and football and his father, mother and sister all attended CU. He is married to the former Kami Carmann, a four-time letterwinner and two-time captain of the women's basketball team at CU who was a sports anchor and reporter for Fox 31 (KDVR-TV) in Denver for several years until joining CU's Buff Club staff in August 2018. The couple resides in Erie and has three children, twins Lucy and Samuel (8) and Cooper (5).

DERIC SWANSON
Executive Director of BuffVision

Deric Swanson is in his 20th year as the executive director of BuffVision, coordinating all aspects of production involving the video display boards at Folsom Field and the CU Events Center, both upgraded earlier this decade to a near $10 million operation for both facilities combined. He is the only director the area has ever had since it was created in 1999.

Swanson, 44, is easily considered one of the best in his field and came to CU from the National Hockey League's Colorado Avalanche, where he had worked for a brief time as the manager of game entertainment and video production. He had previously worked three-plus seasons with the Colorado Rockies Baseball Club, first as a stadium camera operator, and then as video production coordinator, including the 1998 Major League Baseball All-Star Game at Coors Field.

In 2003, BuffVision won the Golden Matrix Award for "Best Overall Video Display" in the University Division at the Information Display and Entertainment Association (IDEA) conference in Atlanta.

The following year, BuffVision was awarded two distinctions, one for the 2004 Aurora Awards, a Platinum Best of Show statue for In-Game Entertainment Graphics/Design, and a Telly Award for The Buffalo Stampede, CU's coaches' show. In 2006 and 2007, BuffVision won three more Telly Awards for Swanson's production, including two for the "Ralphie on Campus" institutional spot and another for The Buffalo Stampede, and in 2013 earned another Telly for a production involving CU's men's basketball team and the Navy Seals.

He is a 1996 graduate of Colorado State University, earning his bachelor's degree in technical journalism and broadcasting. He graduated Magna Cum Laude and was recognized as CSU's outstanding graduate in journalism.

He was born May 24, 1974 in Oakland, Calif., and attended two high schools. His father was stationed in the Azores, Portugal, and he spent two years at Lajes High School, where he lettered in football, soccer, volleyball and basketball. After moving to Colorado, he graduated from Liberty High School in Colorado Springs, where he lettered in football. He played volleyball on CSU's club team for three years. His hobbies include hiking and biking; he has now competed in 15 IronMan events (through August 2017), including a personal best of 11 hours and 29 minutes in Tempe, Ariz., in 2009.

He is the father of two sons, Gavin (10) and Dane (7).

CEAL BARRY Deputy Athletic Director/SWA

Ceal Barry is in her first year as CU's Deputy Athletic Director, the first in the school's history, as she was named to the position on August 1, 2018. She is also in her 13th year as the department's senior woman's administrator (commonly known as SWA).

In her 36th year overall at CU, Barry had served as the senior associate athletic director for internal operations for five years, having assumed that role in the spring of 2014. In her new role, she oversees all sports administrators (of which she is the one for women's basketball), CU's Sports Governance Center and special projects, in addition as serving as the liaison to CU's Office of Inclusion, Equity and Compliance (OIEC). She is also in her second year as a member of the NCAA's Division Women's Basketball Committee.

Barry, CU's legendary women's basketball head coach for 22 seasons, was honored for her accomplishments in the sport on June 9, 2018, when she was officially inducted into the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame.

She served as interim athletic director for a little over two months prior to George being named to the position, assuming that role on June 3, 2013.

Only four others have been employed full-time by CU athletics longer than Barry: track coach Frank Potts (41 years), athletic director/baseball coach Harry Carlson and associate AD/business and ticket manager Jon Burianek (both 38 years) and current associate AD/sports information David Plati (also in his 36th year, but started three months earlier). And as far as coaching is concerned, only Potts, Les Fowler (golf, 29), Mark Simpson (golf, 29), Richard Rokos (skiing, 28) Frank Prentup (baseball, 24) and Dick Gray (tennis, 23) and have logged more seasons as a head coach than Barry at Colorado.

Barry, 62, began the administrative chapter of her illustrious career as the associate athletic director for student services on April 1, 2005, just one month after completing her storied 22-year coaching career (1983-05). Barry retired having coached the most games, matches or tournaments (669) and the sixth most seasons of any sport in Colorado athletic history. Her 427 victories are also the most by any coach at the school.

Despite leaving the coaching ranks, Barry remains active and dedicated to the sport she has devoted so much time too. She served as chair of the NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Issues Committee for the 2010-11 season. In April 2010, she served as the chair of the search committee that brought back former Buffalo Linda Lappe to lead the CU women's basketball team.

Barry took over a regionally successful program from one of her would-be mentors, the late Russell "Sox" Walseth, as former athletic director Eddie Crowder hired her as the fifth head coach in CU women's basketball history on April 12, 1983. But her charge was to lead the then-Lady Buffs into the Big Eight Conference, which officially started league play her rookie season as coach and was considered the next level from the old Intermountain Conference in which CU had competed in since the sport attained varsity status in 1974.

Barry's pedigree, a four-year letterwinner at Kentucky and an 83-42 record in four seasons as head coach at Cincinnati convinced Crowder that she was the right woman for the job. Twenty-two years and four U.S. presidents later, a 427-242 record, 12 NCAA tournament appearances, including six times in the Sweet 16 and three times in the Elite Eight, 13 20-win seasons, four conference championships and assorted coach of the year honors for five different seasons has proved she was more than just the right person, she is a legend.

She became just the 24th coach in women's NCAA history to reach 500 career wins-hitting the plateau in February 2004-and her all-time record of 510-284 and .642 winning percentage remain among the all-time best. Her teams posted a 191-134 record in conference play, as 13 of her teams finished first, second or third in the league standings for the regular season. Off the court, Barry has graduated all but two four-year players (well over a 95% graduation rate) and has coached 85 Academic All-Conference student-athletes.

Prior to the formation of the Big 12 Conference in 1996, Barry was the Big Eight Coach of the Year four times (1989-'93, '94, '95) and the District V Coach of the Year in 1993 and '95. The 1995 squad posted a school record 30 wins and came within a whisper of advancing to the Final Four. She led her teams to four regular season Big Eight titles and five postseason tournament titles, the last in the inaugural Big 12 Tournament in 1997.

When the 1997 tournament title placed Barry's name in the inaugural Big 12 record book it was a fitting transition for a coach whose name will forever be etched into the history of the Big Eight. In her 13 seasons she was 184-96 when leading the Buffs against Big Eight foes. Barry won more regular-season games (118), league titles (4), tournament titles (4), coach of the year honors (4) and coached more newcomers of the year (4) than any other league coach, while tying for the most NCAA tournament appearances with seven.

Barry's Buffs had three wins over then-defending national champions with the most shocking coming in 1993 in Colorado's first-ever Sweet 16 appearance, an 80-67 win over Stanford in the NCAA West Regional semifinal in Missoula, Mont.

Following her second consecutive Big Eight title in 1994, the United States Basketball Writers Association and Basketball Times Magazine named Barry National Coach of the Year. On the local level, she was inducted into the Colorado Sportswomen Hall of Fame the same year. Twice, Barry has had her name on the finalist list for the Naismith Award for Coaching, those honors coming in the last three seasons.

While those awards signified her on the court successes, Barry's favorite accolade in her decorated career came in 2003 when she was presented with the CU Alumni Association's Robert Stearns Award in recognition of one's extraordinary contributions to the university. Making the award even more special, she was nominated by that season's senior captains Linda Lappe, Sabrina Scott and Diana Spencer.

Her dedication to the student-athlete was also put on center stage in 1995 when she was presented with one of the Women's Basketball Coaches Association's highest honors, the Carol Eckman Award. That honor is presented to a coach who exemplifies sportsmanship, commitment to the student-athlete, integrity, ethical behavior and dedication to the purpose. The award was made more special when presented to Barry by her friend and colleague, Carol Callan, also the color commentator on CU radio broadcasts.

Barry's impressive resume has also given her the chance to see the world, coaching the likes of the R. Williams Jones Cup Team, which toured Taiwan in 1988, to coaching the Big 12 All-Stars on a tour of Europe following the 2001 season. While her coaching travels have taken her abroad, the highlight was her stint as an assistant coach for the 1996 United States Olympic Basketball team that won the gold medal. The appointment was her seventh USA Basketball nod since 1987 as she worked with Stanford head coach Tara VanDerveer in coaching the red, white and blue to victory.

She was head coach of the 2004 U.S. Junior World Championships Qualifying Team, which went undefeated en route to the gold medal.

Barry was inducted into the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame in 2006 and the University of Colorado Athletic Hall of Fame in 2010. In January 2011, she became the third recipient of the University of Kentucky's Susan B. Feamster Trailblazer Award. Barry, who earned her bachelor's degree in accounting from UK in 1977, was part of the school's first class of women's basketball players to receive an athletic scholarship, lettering four times under coaches Feamster and Debbie Yow.

She was born April 1, 1955 in Louisville, Ky., and graduated from Assumption High School in Louisville, where she lettered in basketball, volleyball and field hockey. She followed her bachelor's degree from Kentucky with her master's in education from Cincinnati in 1979. At Kentucky, she also lettered three times in field hockey in addition to her accomplishments as a basketball player.

MATT BIGGERS Associate AD / Chief Marketing Officer

Matt Biggers is in his seventh year as the associate athletic director of external affairs and chief marketing officer, having joined the University of Colorado athletic staff on July 5, 2012. He is also the sports administrator for CU's women's volleyball program.

Biggers, 46, came to Colorado after spending a combined 18 years with two teams in the National Basketball Association.

At Colorado, he oversees marketing and promotions, ticket operations, community outreach, BuffVision and digital and database marketing while also coordinating efforts with Buffalo Sports Properties (BSP) in addition to being the department's liaison to the Pac-12 Network.

Prior to coming to CU, he was the senior vice president of marketing and communications for the New Orleans Hornets. He was hired by the Hornets in 2007 as the vice president of marketing and communications, before being promoted the following year. Biggers oversaw the organization's marketing, advertising, branding, creative services, events, game operations, media relations and broadcasting.

Biggers' most demanding professional challenge undoubtedly came in "The Big Easy." In his first year in New Orleans, the Hornets set a club record for their time in New Orleans for most sellouts in a season (2007-08), and then broke that record the following season. But reaching and surpassing those marks was not easy.

When the Hornets returned to New Orleans after a two-year displacement to Oklahoma City following Hurricane Katrina, the season ticket base was fewer than 5,000. Biggers spearheaded drives that took season ticket sales to over 10,000 in 2008-09 - the largest increase in the NBA. He received the Hornets' "Coach of The Year" award in 2009, an acknowledgement from the team's senior executive peers given to the organizational leader who best exemplifies his/her team's mission and values.

Also under trying circumstances, the Hornets were challenged to reach the 10,000 season ticket mark again in the 2011-12 campaign. The NBA was dealing with a work stoppage and the New Orleans franchise was seeking to secure local ownership, a long-term lease agreement with the state and was facing the imminent departure of star point guard Chris Paul to the Los Angeles Clippers. Instrumental in that drive was the campaign "I'm In." The campaign included a "100 Events In 100 Days" initiative and proved to be a surprising success in the community, with the Hornets accomplishing the improbable and reaching their 10,000 season ticket goal.

Biggers' first NBA experience came with the Orlando Magic and RDV Sports, where he spent 12 years and left as the director of marketing for the Magic. His responsibilities with the Magic included overseeing all of the marketing, advertising, branding, game presentation and events. While in Orlando, he also worked as an operations/marketing assistant for the Orlando Predators (Arena Football) and served on the boards of the Florida Children's Hospital and the Heart of Florida United Way Promotions Committee.

He earned a bachelor's degree in Business Administration Management from Appalachian State University in May 1994 and a Master of Science in Sport Management from Georgia Southern University in December 1995.

His previous work in collegiate athletics includes serving as a student assistant coach for the Appalachian State baseball team and as vice president of that school's men's club volleyball team. He also volunteered in sports media relations at Georgia Southern and worked as an event assistant for the Florida Citrus Bowl.

He was born on November 9, 1971 in Columbus, Ohio but moved to Florida at age 3 with his family; he graduated from Seabreeze High School (Daytona Beach), where he lettered in football and baseball. He is married to the former Robyn Winokur, and the couple has two daughters, Peyton (15) and Avery (12).

He was born August 5, 1977 in Lafayette, La., and graduated from Acadiana (La.) High School, where he lettered in both basketball and baseball. His hobbies include playing golf, the outdoors and old cars. A member of the U.S. Marine Corps, he is a board member for the Make-A-Wish Foundation for Texas/Louisiana. He is married to the former Dana Russo, and the couple have three children, sons Jude (11) and Evan (8) and daughter Evie (4).

JOSI CARLSON

Director of Special Events

Josi Carlson is in her 12th year overall working for CU athletics, her fifth as the school's director of special events as she was promoted to the position in September 2013. She is responsible for coordinating all special events for athletics, including team banquets and fan/donor luncheons, as well as managing events that are hosted in CU's Touchdown Club, Champions Club, Byron R. White Club and Rooftop Lounge.

Carlson, 36, has worked in special events for the athletic department since April 2011, helping to organize over 100 events a year as the top assistant. Prior to that, she spent two years as the director of operations for Olympic sports, overseeing the needs for the volleyball, soccer, men and women's golf and women's tennis programs. She originally joined the department as an assistant in the compliance office in June 2007 and worked two years in that position before shifting into her operations role.

Carlson graduated with her bachelor's degree in journalism from the University of Montana in 2005. Prior to receiving her degree, Carlson earned her Associate of Arts degree in 2002 from Dawson Community College in Glendive, Mont., where she was a two-time softball letterwinner.

At Dawson, Carlson excelled on the field and in the classroom; she was a 2001 and 2002 Golden Glove recipient and a Louisville Slugger third team NJCAA All-American in 2002 (first base). In the classroom, she was named a 2001-02 distinguished Academic All-American and a 2001-02 scholar-athlete All-American.

Prior to her work at CU, Carlson served as a Public Information Coordinator for the Ivy League conference office in Princeton, N.J., and was an intern in the communications department for USA Wrestling at the U.S. Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs.

Born March 9, 1982 in Minneapolis, Minn., she graduated from Sentinel High School in Missoula, Mont., where she lettered in basketball, softball and volleyball. Her hobbies include golf, hiking and snowboarding.

EMILY CANOVA

Assistant AD/Special Projects

Emily Canova is in her fifth year as the assistant athletic director for special projects, as she was promoted into the position in June 2014. She is also in her first year as the sports administrator for CU's men's and women's ski programs.

She played a key role in the construction of CU's new Champions Center, serving as the liaison with Populous (the architects), particularly in the area of interior design and managing the overall branding of the building.

Canova joined the department as a community outreach coordinator in September 2010. After six months in that position, she transitioned into CU's newly created student-athlete leadership development program, where she served as its assistant director until she was appointed as an assistant AD. However, during this time frame, she also helped develop CU's "Guiding Principles" and then worked with athletic director Rick George to coordinate the formulation of the department's strategic plan and Sustainable Excellence Initiative (SEI).

Prior to CU, she had an extensive background working in non-profits in Colorado, where she relocated after her college graduation.

She graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1991, where she earned her bachelor's degree in Exercise Science and Athletic Training; she was a member of the Dean's List. At UW, she earned three letters as a member of the varsity crew team. As a senior, she was the recipient of the school's Graves Award, presented by the rowing team to the student-athlete who makes the most significant contribution based on leadership, physical strength and mental fortitude.

Canova trained on the Olympic Development Team for crew in Lake Placid in the summer of 1989.

BEN BROUSSARD

Senior Associate AD/Buf Club

Ben Broussard is in his second year as CU's assistant vice chancellor of advancement and his first as a senior associate athletic director, joining the department on October 1, 2017.

Broussard, 41, oversees all aspects of the Buff Club, the athletic department's fundraising arm, and is also the sports administrator for the men's basketball program, which he was assigned in concert with his promotion to a senior associate AD on August 1, 2018.

The mission of the Buff Club is to secure the philanthropic funding that directly supports CU Athletics in its mission to deliver a world-class and comprehensive student-athlete experience. The organization "connects donors' passions with the vision and priorities of the department by leveraging our professional expertise in a uniquely personal way."

He has presented multiple times at national conferences, including the Southeastern, Big 12, NAADD (National Association of Athletic Development Directors) and CASE Louisiana conferences. He has been on NAADD's executive committee since 2015 and in July 2018, was elected to the organization's board of officers as its third vice president and treasurer.

As vice president for development at LSU, Broussard accomplished several major goals, including developing and implementing a marketing and sales strategy that led to the sale of over $45 million in premium seat inventory; executing a strategy that raised over $90 million philanthropically from 2014-17 for the needs of LSU; cultivating the relationship to secure a $40 million planned gift for the benefit of LSU Engineering and LSU Athletics; designing and executing the Preservation of Tiger Stadium campaign to raise over $12 million to refurbish, repair and improve LSU's legendary football home; and implementing a plan that led to his team raising over $12 million for the construction of a state of the art nutrition center for student-athletes in 18 months.

Prior to his last post at LSU, Broussard served as its director of development from 2006 to 2010, and as a development officer from 2004 to 2006.

Broussard graduated from LSU with a bachelor's degree in kinesiology in 1999 and earned his masters of science degree in 2001. As a student at LSU, he was a member of the school's club rugby team.

She was born in Montclair, N.J., but moved to Virginia when she was 10, where graduated from Langley High School in McLean. Her hobbies include biking, hiking, cycling, swimming and in general enjoying the "wonders of Colorado with her family." A competitive triathlete, she finished third in the 1996 Dansk Triathlon. She is the mother of two, son Baker (14) and daughter Alice (12).

he was a member of the track team, participating in the hurdles and relay events. While at MSU-Moorhead from 1993-95, he also lettered in the sport..

He was born August 2, 1972 in Rochester, Minn., he graduated from Manitou Springs High School (Colo.) in 1990, where he lettered in football and was an outstanding track and field athlete. He ran the 110- and 300-meter hurdles and was a member of the 4x200 and 4x400-meter relay teams that won multiple state titles in addition to the boys team championship in 1990. At one time (during the 1989 season), he held the Colorado state high school record in the 300-meter hurdle and is a former high school national champion in the 60-meter hurdles and 400-meter hurdles.

Hilliard is married to the former Abby Barendt, and the couple has two sons, Zach (22), a junior safety on the Missouri Baptist football team, and Jacob (16). He is actively involved in the College Athletic Business Management Association (CABMA) as well as a member of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA).

J.T. GALLOWAY

Associate AD/Equipment & Licensing

J.T. Galloway is in his 14th year overall in the CU athletic department, his eighth coordinating and managing all phases of CU's licensing, logos and imaging and was thus promoted to an assistant athletic director in 2010 and to associate athletic director status in 2016.

He first joined the department on April 4, 2005 as equipment manager overseeing the needs particularly for football but for all of Colorado's 16 intercollegiate sports at the time (now 17 with the addition of women's lacrosse).

Galloway, 50, continues to oversee the equipment operations, but reduced his day-to-day obligations with the Buffalo football program as he transitioned more and more into his licensing and trademark duties. In 2016, he added sports administrator duties over the men's and women's golf programs.

He became the fourth person to hit double figures in years serving as the equipment head in CU history. Lee "Silver" Akins handled the chores for 34 years (1936-69), with Bill Crowder heading the area for 17 years and Mike Smith just under 11. Galloway is a certified member of the Athletic Equipment Manager's Association (AEMA), a status he attained in 1995 upon entering the profession full-time.

He graduated with a degree in sport management in 1994 from Washington State University, where he worked all four years of his college career as a student employee in the WSU equipment room. He began his professional career as an equipment intern at the University of Virginia in the fall of 1994 and worked there six months. He then moved on to the National Football League's Atlanta Falcons, where he was an assistant equipment manager for the 1995 season.

He returned to the college ranks as the football equipment director at Wake Forest from 1996 to 1998 before heading west to Arizona where he would spend the next six seasons as the associate director of equipment.

Born John Thomas Galloway on May 10, 1968 in Columbus, Ohio, Galloway graduated Gaither High School in Tampa, Fla. A sports fanatic, he enjoys all sports, especially golf. He is married to the former Kelly Christy, a registered nurse, and the couple has two children, Katie (19) and Collin (16).

CORY HILLIARD

Senior Associate AD/Business Operations

Cory Hilliard is in his 11th year with athletic department at the University of Colorado, his first as a senior associate athletic director, promoted to that position on August 1, 2018. That came after serving eight years as the associate athletic director for business operations after he originally joined the department in March 2008 as assistant business manager.

On July 1, 2016, the chief athletic financial officer (CAFO) responsibilities were added to his title and duties, and he also serves as the sports administrator for CU's cross country and track programs.

In his position, Hilliard is responsible for the management of the administrative, financial, budget, human resources, and payroll functions for the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics and its 17 sport programs. In addition to his business operations duties, Hilliard oversees the information technology support services for the Buffaloes.

Hilliard, 46, came to CU from the University of North Dakota where he was the assistant athletic director for business operations for three years (2006-08). He earned the promotion at UND after serving five years as the assistant director for business services (2001-06).

Hilliard graduated from Minnesota State University-Moorhead in 1995 with a Bachelor's of Science degree in Health Education, and in 2006 earned his Master's degree in Business Administration from the University of North Dakota. Hilliard also attended the University of Wyoming from 1990-92 where

JILL KEEGAN

Associate AD/Compliance

Jill Keegan is in her ninth year as a member of the University of Colorado athletic department, her first as an associate athletic director for compliance. She was promoted to the latter on August 1, 2018, after serving three years as an assistant athletic director for compliance, as she was promoted to that role on June 1, 2014. She also has sports administrator duties for CU's tennis program.

She previously was the associate director for four years, initially serving as the rules education coordinator, though her role gradually expanded through the years.

She came to Colorado in October 2010 from Michigan State University where she served as the Assistant Compliance Coordinator for four years. Prior to Michigan State, Gainey was the Assistant Director of Compliance at Marshall University where she also completed her Master's degree in Sport Administration in 2006. Gainey received her bachelor's degree in Sports Marketing and management from Indiana University in 2005 where she also served as an intern in the compliance office.

A native of Owatonna, Minn, the former Jill Gainey graduated from Angola High School in Angola, Ind., in 2001, lettering in volleyball, basketball and track and field. She currently resides in Denver with her husband Brian and enjoys attending sporting events, traveling, outdoor activities and reading. Her and her husband Brian are the parents of a 1-year old son, Nolan.

PREMA KHANNA

Assistant AD/Marketing

Prema Khanna is in her 15th year as CU's director of marketing, as she was promoted to the position July 7, 2004, and in her fifth as an assistant athletic director, earning that promotion in the summer of 2013.

She is in her 17th year overall the department, having worked two years as promotions manager for the Buffaloes after joining the staff in August 2002. She is responsible for coordinating marketing efforts for football, basketball and volleyball ticket sales, as well as promotions both on and off the fields and courts, including game day atmosphere.

Khanna, 47, came to Colorado from Texas Tech, where she worked two years as the director of marketing and promotions. She got her start at Missouri, her alma mater, as a graduate assistant in 1995, and was hired full-time the following year as marketing and promotions coordinator. In 1997, she was promoted to assistant director of marketing and held that position for the next three years before moving on to Texas Tech in 2000.

She graduated from the University of Missouri with a bachelor's degree in business administration in 1995, and earned her master's degree in sports administration from MU in 1997.

Born July 29, 1971 in Haldwani, India, her family moved to Cleveland, Ohio, when she was a toddler, and then to Toronto, Ontario in second grade. She lived in Canada until she was 13, when her family established residency in Columbia, Mo. She graduated from Rock Bridge High School, where she lettered in tennis.

ERIN KREYMBORG

Alumni C Club Director

Erin Kreymborg is in her third year as the executive director of the Alumni C-Club, officially named to the position on April 1, 2016, returning to CU from right down the road in Denver, where she was employed in private business.

Kreymborg, 27, had a busy first few months in the position, as she fully updated the C-Club's Facebook page and created both Twitter and Instagram accounts to help improve communication to the membership. She also completed a four-year plan for the C-Club in CU's updated overall strategic plan.

Prior to returning to her alma mater, she worked as the public relations director for the Grizzly Rose in Denver and then was in sports marketing for Babolat, the world-wide leader in racquet sports.

As Erin Sanders (her maiden name), she lettered in tennis from 2009-13, played for the Buffs in both the Big 12 and Pac-12 conferences. Sanders played in 74 singles matches (at Nos. 1 through 6, the bulk at the No. 4 position) and 70 doubles events during her CU career. She earned two degrees from CU, a Bachelor's of Science in Journalism/News Editorial and a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology.

She was born on August 10, 1991 in Englewood, Colo., and graduated from Ponderosa High School (Parker, Colo.), where she lettered in tennis. Her hobbies still include playing tennis as well as horseback riding and running; an accomplished singer, she was a soprano in her high school choir. She is also active in CU's support organization for former athletes, Buffs4Life.

TED LEDBETTER

Assistant AD/Development

Ted Ledbetter is in his seventh year as a member of the CU athletic department, his third as an assistant athletic director for development in the Buff Club. He first joined CU in February 2012 as the director of the Buff Club and was promoted to his current position in 2016.

In his current role, Ledbetter maintains a primary focus on major gift fundraising initiatives working with donors throughout the state of Colorado and the Pacific Northwest. From 2012-2016, Ledbetter directed all aspects of the Buff Club annual giving program, including donor recognition and stewardship, development operations and premium seating at Folsom Field and the CU Events Center.

Prior to joining CU, Ledbetter spent five years in annual and major gift fundraising roles with the University of Michigan Athletic Department. At Michigan, Ledbetter was responsible for endowment and capital gift fundraising efforts throughout the Midwest and Northeast United States. He was involved in all aspects of the successful $230 million Michigan Stadium Renovation Project and coordinated the selection and renewal process for over 3600 premium seats and 81 private suites.

A native of Oklahoma City, Ledbetter graduated from Oklahoma City University in 2004 where he completed a Bachelor of Arts degree in Psychology. While at OCU, Ledbetter was a two time NAIA All-American and All-American Scholar-Athlete in baseball (2003, 2004), earning first-team Academic All-America honors as a senior. In 2004, his senior season, the OCU leftfielder was named the Rawlings NAIA National Player of the Year when he batted .504 with 20 home runs and 90 runs batted in; he led the Stars to a 73-7 record and runner-up finish in the NAIA World Series.

He was a 23rd round selection of the Florida Marlins in the 2004 Major League Baseball amateur draft (the 698th player selected overall). Ledbetter completed a Master of Education in sports administration from Wichita State University in 2007.

He is married (Anne), and the couple have three children, daughter Lucy and sons Jon Albert and Parker.

LINDSAY LEW

Assistant AD/Digital Marketing

Lindsay Lew was promoted to assistant athletic director for digital and database marketing on July 1, 2016, after serving previously for nine years as the director of strategic sales and communication since 2007. She is in her 21st year overall at Colorado, in the second of two stints working for the school.

Lew, 43, is responsible for oversight of ecommerce operations and revenue management for the CU athletic department, as well as digital advertising, email marketing, business analytics and social media components of CUBuffs.com.

She was an assistant sports information director for at CU for five years (1999-2004), before leaving in August 2004 for a marketing position with Webroot Software. She was promoted from graduate assistant SID on August 6, 1999 to an assistant's position after working the previous year as the GA in the media relations office and one year as a student assistant; she was the first woman at CU to hold the grad assistant role in the SID office, and is the first female student worker in sports information to become an assistant AD at the school.

Lew was the women's soccer SID her first three years as an assistant SID, before switching to women's basketball and men's and women's indoor and outdoor track for the final four years in her first tour of duty. She also served as media coordinator for two women's NCAA basketball sub-regionals and was the official statistician for the 1999 NCAA Women's Soccer College Cup in Palo Alto, Calif. In 2015 she served as the Tournament Director for the Pac-12 Women's Golf Championship in Boulder at Boulder Country Club.

Lew is a 1997 graduate of Trinity University in San Antonio, Texas, where she received her bachelor's degree in Communication. She returned to her native state in the fall of 1997 to begin graduate studies in the CU journalism school's Integrated Marketing Communication program. She received her master's degree in December 1998.

She was a soccer standout at Trinity, a nationally-ranked Division III program, earning all-conference honors all four years, as well as NSCAA All-Region honors as a sophomore. Lew also played collegiate golf for two years, helping Trinity to the 1995 conference championship. She also worked in the school's SID office her senior year.

Born July 23, 1975 in Denver, the former Lindsay Anhold graduated from Green Mountain High School in 1993, where she lettered in soccer, basketball and softball. She has remained active in soccer through the years, coaching in camps (including at one time for the Julie Foudy Championship camp), and is an avid golfer and runner. Her younger brother Eric is a Colorado grad, and her father Monty is a graduate of UC-Denver. She is married to Jason Lew and they have two sons, Jackson and Dylan.

DR. ERIC MCCARTY

Head Team Physician

Dr. Eric McCarty is in his 16th year working with the CU athletic program, joining the sports medicine team in July 2003. But he's certainly no stranger to the University or to Boulder.

McCarty, 53, accepted the Chief of Sports Medicine and Shoulder Surgery position in the Department of Orthopedics at CU's Health Sciences Center in Denver, where he also is an associate professor, enabling him to return to his home state where he starred as both a prep and collegian.

He returned to CU from Vanderbilt University, where he was an orthopedic surgeon, assistant professor and team physician for the Commodores' athletic teams for four years.

McCarty is the head team physician for both the University of Colorado and University of Denver athletic programs. As a board-certified orthopedic surgeon his specialized practice involves the care of collegiate athletes as well as recreational and highly competitive athletes from the community. A large part of his practice is the sports medicine care of high school athletes in the state of Colorado.

He graduated in 1988 from CU with a degree in kinesiology and a 3.75 grade point average. A four-time Academic All-Big Eight team member, the first in school history to be honored four times, he was an Academic All-American his senior year, when he reached the finalist stage for the Rhodes Scholarship. On the field, he earned first-team All-Big Eight honors as a senior, when he led the Buffaloes with 148 tackles, the fourth highest total at the time in team history. He had 237 career tackles in two years on defense, after moving over from offense where he played fullback (503 career rushing

He earned his M.D., with honors, in 1993 from the University of Colorado School of Medicine in Denver, and did his internship residency at Vanderbilt in orthopedic surgery between 1993 and 1998. Shortly thereafter, he spent a year at the internationally renowned Hospital for Special Surgery in New York City, where he received a fellowship in sports medicine and shoulder surgery. While residing in New York, he worked with the NFL's New York Giants. During this time is when he obtained his expertise in the arthroscopic and open surgical management of sports injuries to the knees and shoulders as well as a special emphasis in the management of complex shoulder problems including shoulder instability, rotator cuff tears and shoulder replacement surgery for arthritis.

Cortiva Institute from 2004-06, where she facilitated and managed a vocational school start-up for therapeutic massage training. She was also the vice president/faculty chair of the Boulder College of Massage Therapy from 1996-2003 as well as an instructor.

Poddar completed his residency in family practice at the UCHSC-Rose in Denver (he was chief resident during his third year in residency), and subsequently completed a fellowship in sports medicine at the University of Colorado, working with former CU team physician Rob Loeffler.

Born April 15, 1972 in Bombay, India, his family moved to the United States when he was a two-year old; he graduated from Clear Lake High School in Houston, where he lettered in soccer. He is married to the former Emily Aldeen. (His name is pronounced shuh-rav poe-dar.) the school's dance company. Her hobbies include skiing, hiking, traveling and going to sporting events. Her family has famous baseball lineage, most notably her father, Cal Ripken Jr., the Baseball Hall of Fame infielder who played 21 seasons in the majors, all with the Baltimore Orioles (and set the record for most consecutive games played with 2,632). An uncle, Billy Ripken, also played in the majors for 12 seasons, and a grandfather, the late Cal Ripken Sr., was a player, coach and manager in the Orioles organization for 36 years. A younger brother, Ryan, is currently in the Orioles' minor league farm system (A ball with the Delmarva Shorebirds).

RACHEL RIPKEN
Community Outreach Manager

Rachel Ripken is in her 11th year as a member of CU athletic department, dating back to when she was a freshman in school in 2008 and earning her way into several promotions since. She was named Director of Community Service on August 1, 2018, which entails most of her duties as Community Outreach Manager, which she has done since being promoted on July 1, 2016.

In her current role, she manages all of the athletic department's community outreach initiatives and popular programming such as Read with the Buffs, Chip's Kids Club and Ralphie's Kids Roundup. She manages the Ralphie live mascot program and oversees CU's spirit groups, which include cheer, dance and the costumed mascot, Chip. She also coordinates coach and student-athlete appearances and Leadership Through Service opportunities in the community.

Ripken, 28, has spent her entire professional career with the Buffaloes, as she was appointed as a marketing and promotions associate following her graduation from CU in 2012. Shortly thereafter, she was hired full-time as a community outreach coordinator.

She graduated from the University of Colorado in 2012, with a double major in History and Communication while earning a minor in Dance. She worked as a student assistant for four years in the men's basketball office under head coaches Jeff Bzdelik and Tad Boyle while earning her degree.

She was born November 22, 1989 in Baltimore, Md., and graduated from St. Paul's High School in Brooklandville, Md., where she was a member of

ALEXIS WILLIAMS
Assistant AD/Ticket Operations

Alexis Williams is in her first year as an associate athletic director for ticket operations, sales and services, having been promoted on August 1, 2018; she joined the department as an assistant AD in the same are in March 2015. She is also the sports administrator for CU's women's soccer program.

Williams, 43, came to Colorado from Theatre Under The Stars in Houston, Texas, where she was the manager of ticketing and customer service for seven-and-a-half years (November 2007-March 2015).

She previously was the assistant athletic director for ticket operations at Rice University for just over four years (September 2003-November 2007). She was promoted into that position after serving three years as the Owls' assistant ticket manager. Her first position in the business came as the assistant ticket manager at SMU in 1999.

She earned two degrees from Louisiana State University. She received her bachelor's in Mathematics in 1996 and her master's in Sports Management in 1998. At LSU, she was active in the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority and a manager for the women's basketball team.

She was born December 31, 1974 in Houston, Texas, and graduated from Houston's Bellaire High School, where she lettered in basketball (point guard). Her hobbies include playing golf, reading, travel and attending concerts and sporting events.

LETTERMAN PICTURE

Colorado has 44 lettermen returning for 2017 (41 from the 2017 team, with four others from past years); they break down into 18 on offense, 22 on defense and 4 specialists; the Buffs lose 33 lettermen off the 2017 squad (20 offense/12 defense/1 specialist). CU returns 11 starters from last season (4 offense/7 defense), losing 13 (8 offense/5 defense); two players started six games among three offensive line positions and two players started six times each at cornerback, so the starter counts on offense and defense are based off 12 players instead of the standard 11. The 2017 starters are listed in bold (six or more starts); *—denotes letters earned primarily on special teams. The breakdown:

Became the 13th freshman to start a season opener on the offensive line (12 redshirt, one true – OG Clint Moore versus Wyoming in 1991), and the first to do so since 2009 ... Athlon Sports had selected him as a fourth-team All-Pac-12 preseason team member ... Had an outstanding spring, earning the team's John Wooten Award as selected by the coaches for his outstanding work ethic ... Phil Steele's College Football selected him as a third-team preseason All-Pac-12 choice at guard.

2015 (Fr.)—Redshirted; he practiced on the offensive line (guard and center) the entire fall.

HIGH SCHOOL—He earned All-Colorado and first-team All-State honors from the Denver Post, Mile High Sports Magazine and Six Zero Strength & Fitness as a senior, when he also earned All-USA Colorado (USA Today/American Family Insurance) and made the prestigious Western 100 list compiled by the Tacoma News-Tribune (one of 18 offensive linemen it cited) ... Was a first-team All-Continental League performer his junior and senior seasons, and was second-team as a sophomore ... Considered the No. 2 overall prospect in the state of Colorado by Scout.com, which also ranked him the No. 23 offensive guard in the nation ... A three-year starter at offensive guard (right side), he did not allow a quarterback sack his junior or senior seasons, and in the latter, he did not even allow a single quarterback pressure; he also was flagged for just a single penalty and it was estimated he had 28 direct touchdown blocks leading running backs or receivers into the end zone ... Never played defense in high school ... Under coach Mark Nolan, Regis was 10-2 his senior year, 9-2 his junior season (the Continental League champions both years) and 5-6 his sophomore campaign ... Also lettered twice in baseball (first base/designated hitter); he hit five home runs as a sophomore, including a shot straight over the 410-foot centerfield fence.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in Strategic Communications at Colorado while seeking a minor in leadership studies ... He owned a 3.10 grade point average in high school ... Earned honorable mention Academic All-Colorado honors from the National Football Foundation Colorado Chapter in 2017.

PERSONAL—He was born in Parker, Colo. on Nov. 10, 1996 ... Included among his hobbies are weightlifting, bicycling and hiking ... His father (Tim Sr.) played college baseball at Penn State ... A distant family cousin, the late Phil Lynott, was the co-founder, bass guitarist and vocalist of the rock band, Thin Lizzy (which had several international hits, including Jailbreak and The Boys Are Back In Town) ... He is just the second player in at least the last 44 recruiting classes to sign with the Buffaloes from Regis. (Last name is pronounced Lin-knot)

CHANCE LYTLE, OL

6-7, 315, Fr., RS

San Antonio, Texas
(Churchill)

AT COLORADO: 2017 (Fr.)—He joined the team in January for spring drills, as he was one of two grayshirts from 2016 recruiting class ... He enrolled in school for the fall 2016 semester and payed his own way to get a jump on his college education ... Ended up taking a redshirt season, but he did dress for the Washington contest.

HIGH SCHOOL—A two-year starter at offensive tackle, he earned All-District 26-6A honors as a junior and senior; he was the San Antonio co-offensive lineman of the year and an area All-Star team selection as a senior as well ... Had a stellar senior season, as he allowed just one quarterback sack and just a handful of pressures while being called for just four penalties; he had numerous touchdown and downfield blocks for Churchill, which ran a balanced offense ... On defense, he was a backup performer on the line (usually the nose guard spot); he was in on 10 tackles along with five hurries, a forced fumble, a fumble recovery and half a sack; he was primarily used in situations against the run ... He played exclusively on offense as a junior, and was on the junior varsity as a freshman and sophomore (offensive tackle, defensive line) ... Under coach Ron Harris, Churchill was 6-5 his senior year, and the Chargers were 8-3 his junior year under coach Glenn Hill (they were knocked out of the playoffs both years by an eventual state semifinalist) ... Also lettered once in track (throws) and played two years of junior varsity basketball as a freshman and sophomore (center/power forward).

ACADEMICS—He is pursuing a Bachelor of Arts in music with a focus on voice performance ... He owned a 3.7 grade point average in high school, which includes several honors courses ... Earned second-team Academic All-State honors as a senior and was a two-time Academic All-District team member as a junior and senior.

PERSONAL—He was born in San Antonio, Texas on June 9, 1998 ... Hobbies include music – he can play four instruments: cello, violin, piano and the mandolin – and also composes music and lyrics; he appeared in two of high school annual musicals and has earned two top honors, All-Region Orchestra (violin, 2012) and All-Region Choir (2015) ... Other pastimes include swimming, playing basketball (he was on an AAU team for three years) and he has trained in boxing ... A grandfather (Morris Owens) was an Army Golden Gloves Champion, and his other grandfather (Col. Robert Litle) is in the Army Air Corps Hall of Fame as he owns numerous aviation records ... The family changed the spelling of their last name from Litle to Lytle as it was always being mispronounced. (Last name is pronounced Ly-tull)

JAY MacINTYRE, WR

5-10, 185, Sr., 3L

Boulder, Colo.
(Monarch)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—Phil Steele College Football selected him to his preseason All-Pac-12 fourth-team.

2017 (Jr.)—He played in 11 games, missing the Washington contest due to injury, and drew five starts ... Was fourth on the team with 28 receptions that went for 396 yards and two touchdowns ... Of his 28 catches, 19 were good for first downs (eight of those were earned on third/fourth-down plays) and his .679 percentage of total receptions that moved the chains was the highest figure on the team for anyone with over 10 catches ... Averaged 14.1 yards per reception, the second-highest on the team among the six players who caught 20-plus passes ... 15 of his 28 receptions went for 10-plus yards and he had eight of over 20 ... In the first six games of the season he posted 13 receptions and 11 of those earned first downs ... His highs through six games were four receptions in the Northern Colorado and UCLA contests, the 71 yards against UCLA topping the chart ... Had a season-high five receptions that went for 53 yards in the win over California and in that contest he caught a 23-yard touchdown pass in the fourth quarter ... Lindy's College Football selected him as a preseason third-team All-Pac-12 performer (as an all-purpose player).

2016 (Soph.)—He played in all 13 games plus the Alamo Bowl, including 10 starts as the fourth receiver in the four-wide set ... Also started in the 2016 Valero Alamo Bowl where he caught two passes for 22 yards ... Was fifth on the team with 30 receptions, gaining 390 yards and scoring touchdown - a 40-yard catch he hauled in just before halftime at Arizona ... Averaged 13.0 yards per catch, had seven receptions of over 20 yards and 15 of over 10 ... Developed into a go-to receiver for the Buffs on third down and of his eight receptions on a third or fourth downs, seven of the moved the chains ... Was also used as a punt returner for the Buffs during the first half of the season, returning 17 punts on the year for an average of 15.2 yards with a long of 32, which came at No. 4 Michigan and set up CU's first touchdown of the game to give the Buffs a 7-0 lead ... Had a career-high seven catches for 90 yards in the win over No. 20 Washington State when five of his seven receptions went for first downs ... Another top game came when he had six receptions for 76 yards against Idaho State - the reception total was a team-high that day (four of his six receptions came in the first quarter).

2015 (Fr.-RS)—He played in 12 games, including a pair of starts that came on the road at Arizona State and UCLA; he sat out the Washington State game with a mild hamstring strain but returned for the season finale at Utah ... For the season, he caught eight passes for 84 yards (10.5 per) and a touchdown, while returning four punts for 37 yards, or 9.3 per ... Made a big splash in CU's 48-0 win over Nicholls State: he caught three passes for 53 yards, including a 38-yard touchdown on a third-&-16 pass from Sefo Liufau in the first quarter; later in the game, he had a 31-yard punt return, the longest by a Buff since Travon Patterson returned one 45 yards against Texas Tech in 2010 ... The TD reception came on his first collegiate touch, making it even more special, as he became the 13th known Buffalo dating back to 1954 to score a touchdown the first time he touched the football ... Caught six passes for 85 yards and a touchdown in the four main spring scrimmages ... He shared the Iron Buffalo Award for the wide receivers during spring practice, which recognizes hard work, dedication, toughness and total lifting performance.

2014 (Fr.)—Redshirted; he practiced the entire fall at wide receiver and dressed for all 12 games.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned All-Colorado honors from both the Denver Post and Mile High Sports Magazine along with all-Mountain League honors ... As a junior, playing for San Jose's Valley Christian, he earned first-team All-West Catholic Athletic League honors (second-team as a sophomore, when he was Valley's sophomore of the year for all sports) ... As a senior, he rushed 80 times for 696 yards and 14 touchdowns, averaging 8.7 yards per carry with a long run of 55; he completed 32-of-54 passes for 986 yards and 12 touchdowns (with only two interceptions), a completion rate of 59.3 percent while averaging a gaudy 18.3 yards per attempt and 30.8 per completion (for a passer rating by NCAA standards of 278.6) ... He also returned eight punts for 225 yards and three touchdowns (28.2 per, long of 50); he had six kickoff returns for 320 yards and three scores (53.3 per, long of 94) ... On defense, playing cornerback, he had three interceptions, returning those for 57 yards with a touchdown (which covered 55 yards) and 16 passes broken up ... Overall, he accounted for 1,682 yards of total offense, and 1,298 all-purpose yards on 97 touches, or an average of 13.4 per play; and these numbers despite the fact that Monarch was so far ahead of its opponent in the second half, the "mercy rule" was enacted in seven of its 12 games (played with a running clock) ... He also punted six times for a 34.5 average (with a long of 66)—the only six punts Monarch had all season ... Top games included throwing four touchdown passes in the first four minutes of the game against John F. Kennedy, as MHS scored 42 first quarter points en route to a 56-6 win; in a 45-18 triumph over Wheat Ridge, he was 4-of-5 for 142 yards and a touchdown (the incompleton was a spike), rushed for 54 yards and a score, and picked off two passes, returning one for a touchdown ... As a junior at Valley Christian, he had 71 rushing attempts for 436 yards and five touchdowns, while completing 42-of-82 passes for 979 yards (11 TDs/4 INT); as a sophomore, he rushed for 228 yards and five scores on 51 tries and completed 37-of-78 passes for 550 yards and seven TDs ... He played defense when needed, either as a safety or the nickel back ... Top game as a junior came in the CIF Southern Section championship, a 51-20 win over Altos: in being named the game's MVP, he completed 7-of-8 passes for 116 yards and three touchdowns, rushed six times for 36 yards and a score, and had nine tackles and an interception on defense ... In a wild 49-42 loss to Archbishop Mitty, he rushed for 109 yards and a touchdown and passed for 100 and another score; as a sophomore in a 35-28 win over Mitty, he completed 10-of-13 passes for 161 and two TDs with a third TD rushing ... Under coach Phil Bravo, Monarch was 10-2 his senior year, the Mountain 4A champs and state semifinalist; under coach Mike Machado, Valley Christian was 8-6 his junior year, the Division 3 CIF Central Coast Section champions, and was 6-6 his sophomore year ... He lettered four times in basketball; he played his first two seasons at Valley Christian, where he scored his career-high of 29 points against Monte Vista Christian, and the last two at Monarch (averaging 15 points as a senior).

ACADEMICS—He is majoring Communications at Colorado while seeking a minor in Leadership Studies ... He owned a 3.3 grade point average in high school.

PERSONAL—He was born in Martin, Tenn. on April 9, 1995 ... Hobbies include playing video games and spending time with his family's golden retriever, Millie ... His father (Mike) is CU's head football coach, who played collegiately at Vanderbilt and Georgia Tech; his uncle (Matt MacIntyre) played football at Western Kentucky; his late grandfather (George MacIntyre) played collegiately at Miami-Florida and was a longtime college coach, including head coach at Vanderbilt, where his other grandfather (Ben Rowan) played basketball; and an aunt (Debbie Rowan) played college basketball at Lipscomb. ... Because of his father being in the coaching business, he lived in eight different states by the time he was a high school senior.

2017-IN-REVIEW

COLORADO 17 COLORADO STATE 3

SEPTEMBER 1, 2017

MILE HIGH STADIUM, DENVER

GAME 1

DENVER – An anticipated high-scoring shootout never materialized in the Rocky Mountain Showdown.

Instead, Colorado scored the first 17 points of the game, then relied on its defense for the rest of the night as the Buffs posted a 17-3 win over rival Colorado State.

The Buffs received a solid rushing effort from Phillip Lindsay (19 carries, 140 yards and one TD in his seventh career 100-yard game) and some highlight passing moments from quarterback Steven Montez (21-for-29, 202 yards, 1 TD, 2 interceptions), but it was new defensive coordinator D.J. Eliot's defense that made the difference for much of the game.

The Buffs put 17 unanswered points on the board to start the game, getting a touchdown and field goal in the first quarter, then adding another touchdown early in the second period. That was all the points the Buffs would need.

"I was really excited about how hard our guys played," CU head coach Mike MacIntyre said. "We started out fast and then we kind of stalled. We had some opportunities to score more points and let them hang around. But I was really proud of our defense and our special teams. We'll look at this tape and we'll improve."

After forcing a pair of CSU punts and one of their own, the Buffs put their first points on the board with a six-play, 94-yard drive. Montez completed four passes on the drive, including a 12-yard toss over the middle to Devin Ross on third-and-5 before Lindsay finished the march with a 45-yard burst up the middle to the end zone. Chris Graham's PAT gave CU a 7-0 lead at the 7:11 mark.

The Buffs bumped the margin to 10-0 on their next possession, driving to the CSU 22 before settling for a 39-yard James Stefanou field goal. Lindsay had two carries for 29 yards on the drive.

Colorado's defense, meanwhile, kept Rams quarterback Nick Stevens and the CSU running game in check. CU forced four CSU punts in the first quarter, and after the fourth, CU needed just four plays to put up its second touchdown of the night.

Lindsay ran for 18 yards on second down and for 7 more after a penalty. Montez then finished the drive by spinning out of the pocket under pressure, rolling to his left and motioning wide receiver Shay Fields into the end zone and unloading a perfect ball to a streaking Fields, who grabbed the catch in stride for a 31-yard touchdown pass and a 17-0 lead with 13:36 left in the second quarter.

The Rams finally got on the board on their next possession, moving from their own 25 to the CU 13, where they settled for a 31-yard Wyatt Bryan field goal.

That proved to be the end of the scoring for the evening.

The Buffs had several drives stall near midfield, and finally reached inside the CSU red zone in the fourth quarter, only to see the drive end on a missed field goal. CU also had a pair of drives ended by interceptions.

The Colorado defense, however, did its job all night. CSU reached inside the red zone only twice and came away with only a field goal. The Buffs held the Rams to just 88 yards rushing and while CSU finished 309 yards passing, 145 came in the fourth quarter as they tried to mount a comeback.

The Buffs held strong down the stretch, ending CSU's last three possessions on downs (incomplete pass), a fumble recovery by Afolabi Laguda and an interception by Trey Udoffia.

The win was CU's third straight in the series and gave Colorado an all-time 65-22-2 edge.

GAME NOTES

Colorado has won three straight season openers for the first time since 2003-04-05 (all against CSU both times) ... Buffs now lead the series 65-22-2 (11-6 in Denver, 22-8 since it was resumed in 1983) ... MacIntyre is now 3-2 in season openers at CU and is 6-1 against CSU overall (2-0 at San Jose State) ... Colorado is now 79-44-5 in 128 season openers ... CU won the coin toss and has now won 14 of the last 15 dating back to last year's opener ... The 17 points were the fewest scored by the Buffs in a season-opening win since 1970 (won 16-9 at Indiana) and the fewest by the winning team in the CU-CSU series since 2006 (CSU, 14-10 in Denver), and it is only the third time since the rivalry resumed in 1983 that the winning team didn't score at least 20 ... The 3 points the Buffaloes allowed were the fewest in a season opener since 2010 (24-3 win over CSU in Denver) and 1988 (45-3 over Fresno State in Boulder); otherwise, you have to go back to a 0-0 tie at Wisconsin in 1965 to find the last time CU allowed fewer ... It was the third time in the last 11 games that CU did not allow a touchdown, and the fewest points the Buffs have allowed in any game since a 48-0 win over Nicholls State in 2015 (the fewest by an FBS opponent since the 2010 CSU game) ... It had been eight years since CU played a game with a scoreless second half; last: at Kansas State, Oct. 24, 2009 (KSU won, 20-6) ... The attendance of 73,932 exceeded last year's (69,850) and is the most in the series since 2003 (76,219); it was the fifth-highest in the 17 games in Denver.

COLORADO 37 TEXAS STATE 3

SEPTEMBER 9, 2017

FOLSOM FIELD, BOULDER

GAME 2

BOULDER – Colorado broke open a tight game with a 17-point third-quarter outburst and went on to take a 37-3 win over a feisty Texas State squad at Folsom Field.

The Buffs improved to 2-0 with the win while Texas State dropped to 1-1.

While the game was never really in doubt, the Buffs had to grind this one out. CU took a 14-0 lead into the locker room at half, added 17 points to that total in the third quarter for a 31-3 lead, then tacked on two field goals in the fourth for the final tally.

Defensively, the Buffs were once again stellar, holding their opponent to a mere field goal for the second week in a row — the first time since 1958 that CU opened the season by holding its first two opponents without a touchdown. Led by three sacks from Leo Jackson III, Colorado recorded six sacks and a pair of takeaways, including a highlight-reel interception by cornerback Isaiah Oliver.

Offensively, Buffs quarterback Steven Montez finished strong, completing 19 of 31 attempts for 299 yards and a touchdown to go with a rushing touchdown. Running back Phillip Lindsay put in a workmanlike 26-carry, 87-yard effort that included a touchdown run; Buffs receivers Bryce Bobo (7 catches, 75 yards and a touchdown), Shay Fields (5-110) and Devin Ross (4-68) also had solid days; and James Stefanou added a perfect 3-for-3 day on his field goal tries.

But maybe the biggest play came on special teams. With the score still tied at 0-0 and CU's offense sputtering, the Buffs forced a Texas State punt near the end of the first quarter. CU's Oliver fielded the kick and returned it 4 yards before fumbling while attempting to spin out of a tackle. But Buffs true freshman Laviska Shenault Jr. was on the spot, snatching up the loose ball and racing 55 yards to the end zone for his first touchdown as a Buff on his first collegiate touch. Stefanou's ensuing PAT gave the Buffs a 7-0 lead.

From that point on, the Buffs scored by more conventional means. On their next possession following Shenault's score, Montez directed CU's longest scoring drive of the year, a 9-play, 96-yard drive that culminated with Montez carrying in from 2 yards out. The CU sophomore also completed passes of 44 yards to Fields and 28 yards to Bobo on the march.

But it wasn't until the third quarter that CU's offense finally found the consistency it had been missing. The Buffs opened the half with a 58-yard drive that produced a field goal and 17-0 lead, and two possessions later added a Lindsay 7-yard touchdown run for a 24-3 edge. Colorado then put its final touchdown of the day on the board late in the period by driving 86 yards in seven plays. Montez completed four passes on the march, including a 31-yard strike to Ross, a 16-yard toss to Lindsay and an 11-yard scoring pass to Bobo.

Defensively, the Buffs were in control most of the game, although they did dodge a bullet early. Texas State running back Anthony Taylor burst loose for a 55-yard run on the first play of the game, but the CU defense then held and a Bobcats field goal try was wide left.

After that initial thrust, the Bobcats never seriously threatened to reach the end zone, getting a 32-yard field goal in the third quarter to avoid a shutout. Oliver came up with the defensive play of the day, tipping a deep ball to himself for an interception, then returning it 41 yards to set up CU's third touchdown of the game.

Texas State gained over 50 percent of its yards on four plays (145), netting 138 on its other 61 plays.

GAME NOTES

Colorado improved to 2-0 for the second straight year (owning a 154-20 scoring edge), for the third time under Mike MacIntyre and for the 56th time in 128 seasons ... The game time of 3:01 was partially due to a reduced commercial length format the Pac-12 is experimenting with (next week, a 15-minute halftime) ... CU won the coin toss (again) and has now won 15 of the last 16 dating back to last year's opener ... In holding Texas State to a field goal, it marked the first time since 1958 that Colorado did not allow a touchdown in its first two games of the year (offensive or otherwise) ... Colorado recorded six quarterback sacks against Texas State (for 27 yards in losses), its first six-sack game since Nov. 25, 2011 at Utah ... Texas State did most of its offensive damage on four plays, as two rushes and two passes totaled 145 yards; it had 138 yards on its other 61 plays (2.3 per) ... DE Leo Jackson recorded the first multi-sack game of his career. In 26 games prior, he had just three career sacks ... Freshman WR Laviska Shenault joined an exclusive club with just 14 other members today when he scored on his first collegiate touch: he recovered an Isaiah Oliver fumble on a punt return and raced 55 yards for the score; he joined Jeremy Bloom (2002) as the lone two freshmen to have done it ... CU had a huge 116-9 edge in return yards ... The Buffs were turnover-free and has now played 79 turnover-free games dating back to 1946 owning a record of 53-22-4 in those games (7-3 under MacIntyre, 4-0 over the last two seasons).

COLORADO 41 NORTHERN COLORADO 21

FOLSOM FIELD, BOULDER

GAME 3

BOULDER — It took Colorado longer than many expected to administer the knockout punch, but the Buffaloes survived a Northern Colorado rally, then pulled away in the second half to collect a 41-21 win at Folsom Field.

It was the first meeting between the two programs since 1934.

Bufs quarterback Steven Montez established career highs in attempts (41), completions (29), yardage (357) and touchdowns (four) while running back Phillip Lindsay ran for 151 yards and a score for his eighth career 100-yard game. The victory gave CU its first 3-0 start since 2008 and just the second since 1999.

The victory also extended CU's win streak at Folsom Field to eight, the longest since a 10-game home win streak from 1993-95.

After not giving up a touchdown in their first two games, the Buffs saw that streak come to an end in a hurry. The Bears forced a CU punt on the Buffs' first possession, then turned around and marched 70 yards in six plays for a touchdown, getting a 33-yard scoring pass from Jacob Knipp to Alex Wesley to take a 7-0 lead.

But Colorado then put 28 unanswered points on the board and looked ready to blow the game wide open.

The Buffs went 75 yards in six plays to tie the score, getting a 4-yard scoring toss from Montez to Devin Ross. The Buffs caught a break on UNC's next possession, recovering a bad snap to Knipp at the UNC 5-yard line and Colorado needed just one Phillip Lindsay run to take a 14-7 lead.

CU then added two more scores in the second quarter. Montez ended an 80-yard scoring drive with a 28-yard touchdown pass to Shay Fields, then finished a 73-yard march with a 29-yard touchdown pass to Bryce Bobo.

But almost before the announced Folsom Field crowd of 44,318 could settle in for the rout, the Bears had other ideas. UNC answered CU's fourth touchdown with a 90-yard scoring drive, finishing with a 48-yard pass from Knipp to Wesley to cut Colorado's lead to 28-14 at the half.

The Bears then took the second half opening kickoff and marched 75 yards to paydirt, with Knipp throwing 27 yards to tight end Michael McCauley for the score. At that point, Colorado's one-time 21-point lead had been cut to seven, 28-21.

The Buffs, though, finally pulled momentum back to their sideline, but not before losing a fumble deep in UNC territory. On their next possession, however, they drove for a 33-yard field goal from James Stefanou to bump their margin back to double digits, 31-21.

Montez and Co. then added an insurance touchdown in the fourth quarter, driving 85 yards in 10 plays for a touchdown. Montez completed the drive with a 14-yard scoring toss to Jay MacIntyre, his fourth touchdown pass of the day. MacIntyre became the fourth CU receiver in the game to catch a touchdown pass, joining Fields, Ross and Bobo. All four starting receivers also had at least four catches, with Ross totaling eight for 143 yards and Fields eight for 69.

The Buffs completed the scoring with a late fourth quarter field goal.

Overall, CU finished with 569 yards offense — 357 in the air and 212 on the ground — and the Buffs had scoring drives that covered 75, 80, 73 and 85 yards.

Defensively, ILB Drew Lewis had nine tackles and cornerback Isaiah Oliver had an interception for the second game in a row. The Buffs also stiffened defensively after UNC's initial score in the second half, and did not allow the Bears past midfield for the rest of the game.

GAME NOTES

Colorado opened 3-0 for the 41st time in its 128-year history, but for the first time since 2008 and just the second time since opening 5-0 in 1998 (3-0 also in 2004) ... CU leads the series with UNC by a 10-2 count; this was just the fifth time in 12 games both teams scored, and the first that both did in double figures; the 62 points combined were the most ... The game time of 3:22 despite halftime being reduced to 15 minutes ... CU lost the coin toss after winning 10 in a row, but has still won 15 of the last 17 dating back to last year's opener ... Colorado gained at least 100 yards in each quarter for the first time this season and for the first time since last year's Washington State game (CU did it three times in 2016) ... The Buffaloes went 123:52 before allowing their first touchdown this season ... This marked the 41st time in school history the Buffaloes had a 100-yard rusher and 100-yard receiver in the same game (31-10 in such contests): TB Phillip Lindsay (26-151 rushing) and WR Devin Ross (8-143; receiving); and the duo was seven yards receiving short of becoming the first 150/150 in CU annals (previous closest was nine rushing yards on two occasions) ... CU's receivers nicknamed themselves the "Blackout Boyz," mainly led by the four starters: seniors Bryce Bobo, Shay Fields and Devin Ross and junior Jay MacIntyre. Those four combined for 26 catches for 342 yards (13.2 per), with four touchdowns and all 16 first downs earned in the passing game ... Though just with six career starts (and a 5-1 record), QB Steven Montez has already tied a significant CU record as he now has career 400-yard total offense games.

GAME 4 WASHINGTON 37 COLORADO 10

SEPTEMBER 23, 2017

FOLSOM FIELD, BOULDER

BOULDER — Seventh-ranked Washington handed Colorado a repeat of their Pac-12 title game from last year, methodically pounding out a 37-10 win before a soggy Folsom Field crowd of 47,666.

After a close first half, the Huskies pulled away after intermission, once again aided by an interception return for a touchdown — one of three interceptions thrown by Buffs quarterback Steven Montez, the same number of interceptions recorded by the Huskies in last year's game.

Washington, which outscored Colorado 27-3 in the second half last year for a 41-10 win, outscored the Buffs 27-3 in the second half again. The loss dropped Colorado to 3-1 on the season (0-1 Pac-12) while the Huskies improved to 4-0, 1-0.

The Buffs ended up being their own worst enemy in clutch situations. Colorado scored first, but the Huskies then put 17 unanswered points on the board off CU miscues and the UW offense wore down the Buffs defense.

Colorado drew first blood, taking the opening kickoff and marching 75 yards in 11 plays for the score. Montez completed four passes for 54 yards on the drive, including throws of 13 yards to Bryce Bobo and 22 yards to Devin Ross. Phillip Lindsay carried six times for 21 yards, including a 1-yard touchdown run. James Stefanou's PAT gave Colorado a 7-0 lead with 10:24 to go in the first quarter.

The Buffs then threatened to extend that margin after an Afolabi Laguda interception ended the Huskies' first possession. Colorado drove from its own 20 into Washington territory, but the drive stalled at the UW 40 and the Buffs punted.

Colorado got one more break on the Huskies' ensuing possession when UW kicker Tristan Vizcaino was wide right on a 32-yard field goal try.

But the Buffs' luck broke the other way on their next possession when Montez came up short on a third-down run, forcing a CU punt. The Huskies crashed protection and blocked an Alex Kinney kick, recovering at the Colorado 12.

Four plays later, the Huskies tied the game on a 1-yard Myles Gaskin run.

From that point on, the Buffs continued to create opportunities for the Huskies. On CU's next possession, Colorado drove into Washington territory before a Montez pass bounced off Lindsay's hands into those of UW's Jordan Miller. Nine plays later, the Huskies got a 25-yard go-ahead field goal for a 10-7 lead.

CU's next possession ended with a Montez interception in the end zone and UW ran out the clock to end the half.

The Huskies then methodically pulled away from the Buffs in the second half. Washington took the kickoff and marched 74 yards for a TD, with a CU penalty on a third-down incompleting keeping the drive alive. The Huskies capped the drive with a 43-yard touchdown pass from Jake Browning to Quinten Pounds for a 17-7 lead.

Colorado managed to answer with a scoring drive of its own, going 53 yards before settling for a 49-yard James Stefanou field goal to close to within 17-10. The Buffs then caught a break on UW's next possession when Vizcaino missed another field goal try.

But the Buffs then committed their biggest mistake of the night on their next possession when UW cornerback Myles Bryant broke on a Montez pass, picked it off and raced 35 yards to the end zone, giving the Huskies a 24-10 lead.

From that point on, Washington ground the Buffs down. The Huskies added a seven-play, 61-yard scoring drive early in the final period to go up 31-10, then added their final score of the night when Gaskin went 57 yards for a score midway through the fourth quarter.

GAME NOTES

This was the first time it rained during a game at Folsom Field in two years (there was light to moderate rain throughout the Oregon game on Oct. 3, 2015; just the second game with rain since 2006) ... Because of the weather and slippery conditions, CU's live buffalo mascot, Ralphie V, did not run in either half ... WR Juwann Winfree made his first career start; DL Jase Franke made his first career start at defensive end but his second overall ... Washington won its seventh straight in the series to extend its lead to 11-5-1 (CU's last win over the Huskies was in the '96 Holiday Bowl) ... The Buffs dropped to 1-1 when wearing silver helmets-black jerseys-silver pants ... The game time of 2:57 was easily the quickest of the year, matched last year's total of sub-3 hour games (1) and was the fastest since the 2013 CU-Washington game in Seattle that took 2:48 ... CU lost the coin toss after for the second consecutive game, which had not occurred since 2015 ... The Buffaloes scored for the first time in 2017 on their first possession of the game (driving 75 yards in 11 plays) ... Colorado's first kickoff return of the season (K.D. Nixon's 27-yard effort) came 201 minutes into the year; CU went on to return five kickoffs for a 22.2 average ... TB Phillip Lindsay (5-32 receiving) became CU's all-time reception leader by a running back with 96 receptions (for 783 yards, which is second); he passed Rodney Stewart (2008-11) who had 93 for 969 ... PK James Stefanou made his career-long 49 yard field goal and improved to 7-of-8 on the season; it was the fifth-longest field goal by a freshman in school history, and his 7-of-8 start ties the fourth-best beginning in field goal makes by any kicker in CU annals ... Myles Gaskin (27-202) was the first player to rush for over 200 yards against CU since Arizona's Jared Baker did so on Oct. 17, 2015 (23-207).

UCLA 27 COLORADO 23

SEPTEMBER 30, 2017

ROSE BOWL, PASADENA, CALIF.

GAME 5

PASADENA, Calif. — True to form, the Colorado-UCLA game came down to the fourth quarter in the Rose Bowl, with the Bruins hanging on for a 27-23 win.

CU dropped to 3-2 on the season and 0-2 in the Pac-12. UCLA improved to 3-2, 1-1.

The game was close throughout, as Colorado led early, then saw the Bruins rally to take the lead. UCLA held a 14-10 edge at the half after a Buffs fake field goal attempt near the end of the half resulted in an incomplete pass.

The Bruins led by as many as 11 in the second half. Colorado cut the lead to one twice, 21-20 and 24-23, but could never completely erase the deficit.

For the second week in a row, Colorado scored first. The Buffs marched 63 yards on nine plays, reaching the end zone on a 21-yard pass from Steven Montez to Phillip Lindsay for a 7-0 lead.

Montez finished with 243 yards passing (17-for-36) and one touchdown and was also CU's leading rusher with 108 yards on 15 carries. The Buffs had 191 yards on the ground.

UCLA quickly answered, driving 75 yards on the ensuing possession to tie the game at 7-7, getting a 12-yard touchdown throw from Josh Rosen to Austin Roberts. Rosen was 28-for-45 for 372 yards with one touchdown and one interception. UCLA finished with just 95 yards rushing.

Colorado took the lead again two possessions later, driving 47 yards on five plays before settling for a 33-yard James Stefanou field goal for a 10-7 lead. It was Stefanou's seventh straight field goal of the season and his eighth successful in attempt in nine tries.

The Bruins, though, took the lead for the first time on their next possession when Rosen engineered an eight-play, 75-yard drive. Rosen completed a 46-yard toss to Lasley on a flea-flicker play before Jalen Starks carried in from the 1-yard line for a 14-10 lead.

Colorado then muffed a chance to pull within one late in the half when a fake field goal produced an incomplete pass and the half ended with the Bruins holding on to their 14-10 lead.

After a CU possession that went nowhere to open the second half, UCLA quickly built its lead to 21-10, driving 58-yards in five plays with Soso Jamabo carrying in from the 2.

Colorado finally got its offense back on track. The Buffs went 75 yards for a score on their next possession, with Phillip Lindsay capping the drive with a 2-yard run to cut UCLA's lead to 21-17 with 6:59 to go in the third quarter. The big play of the drive was a Montez run for 25 yards on fourth-and-1.

The Buffs then created their first big break of the game when safety Evan Worthington intercepted a Rosen pass near the sidelines. Colorado then drove 62 yards to the UCLA 16 before settling for a 33-yard field goal to close the gap to 21-20.

UCLA extended its lead to four in the fourth quarter on a 33-yard J.J. Molson field goal before Colorado answered again, driving from the CU 29 to the UCLA 16. Stefanou kicked his third 33-yard field goal of the night to pull the Buffs to within one, 24-23, with 6:46 left in the game.

The Bruins, however, took the ensuing kickoff and methodically marched downfield, eating up yardage and clock at the same time. The Bruins used 6:15 before taking a 31-yard Molson field goal for a 27-23 lead with just 26 seconds left in the game for the final points of the night.

Colorado's last-gasp drive ended with Montez throwing incomplete in the end zone as the clock ran out.

GAME NOTES

The last four games in the series have been decided by 21 points (UCLA has won three of the four, by 11 points) ... This marked the first time CU wore all black for a road game (previously did so for a bowl, a Big 12 title game and two CSU games in Denver); the Buffs are now 3-2 when donned in all black away from Folsom (2-15 when wearing black helmets as well) ... Colorado dropped to 3-22-1 in the state of California (1-4 in Pasadena), with UCLA's series lead at 10-3 (6-1 in California) ... Alumni-city on the CU sidelines: Chris Hudson ('94 Thorpe winner), Nelson Spruce, Scotty McKnight, Stephane Nembot, Jordan Carrell and Rashidi Barnes all in attendance ... DT Lyle Tuiloma made his first career start ... Colorado won the coin toss for the third time this year and for the 16th time in 19 tries dating back to last year's season opener ... Colorado finally started the offensive line it basically practiced with for all of August camp: LT-Jeromy Irwin, LG-Gerrad Kough, C-Jonathan Huckins, RG-Tim Lynott, RT-Aaron Haigler; Irwin missed the first two games for violating team rules, Huckins the last two after being injured against Texas State ... QB Steven Montez had his second career 100-yard rushing game but this was the first time in eight starts (5-3 record) that he did not complete 50 percent of his passes ... TB Phillip Lindsay became the 17th player in school history, and the first running back, to have 100 career receptions; he landed on that number with four receptions ... S Evan Worthington made his second career interception ... PK James Stefanou (2-2 PAT, 3-3 FG) extended his streak to nine straight FG makes, tied for the second-longest in school annals.

FOLSOM FIELD, BOULDER

BOULDER — Phillip Lindsay became Colorado's all-time leader in all-purpose yards, but the Buffs had no answer on defense for Arizona quarterback Khalil Tate as the Buffs came up short, 45-42, at Folsom Field.

Lindsay ran for 281 yards and three touchdowns on a CU-record 41 carries, and also added 39 yards receiving as CU finished with 551 yards on offense. Tate, who replaced injured Brandon Dawkins early in the game, had 327 yards rushing on 14 carries — an FBS record for a quarterback — and four touchdowns, along with 142 yards passing and another score.

The game was the first time in FBS history that two players eclipsed 250 yards in rushing. Their 608 yards rushing was also an FBS record for most rushing yardage by two players.

The two teams traded scores all night, with Arizona taking a 21-14 lead at the half. The Buffs managed to stay close but could never completely close the gap.

On the 'Cats first possession after Dawkins' injury, Tate raced 58 yards to the end zone to give the Wildcats a 7-0 lead on the first play of the drive.

CU answered Arizona's first score with a 10-play, 75-yard drive. Steven Montez completed a pair of big third-down passes — the first for 39 yards to Jay MacIntyre and the second to Shay Fields for 15 — before Lindsay carried on the last four plays, including a 5-yard touchdown run to tie the game at 7-7.

Tate needed one play, a 75-yard run, to put Arizona back in the lead, 14-7, before Colorado answered again. The Buffs drove 85 yards in 19 plays for the tying score. Lindsay carried 14 times for 80 yards, including the 1-yard touchdown run.

Arizona, however, responded with a three-play, 68-yard drive. Tate had a 13-yard scoring pass to Shun Brown for a 21-14 lead, which held until the half.

After forcing a Colorado punt to open the second half, Arizona needed just 1:16 to go 70 yards for a score, with Tate scoring from 47 out and a 28-14 lead.

The Buffs answered again with another long, methodical march, driving 75 yards in 15 plays. Montez hit Bryce Bobo from 7 yards out for the score. The drive pulled the Buffs to within 28-21 with 7:13 still left in the third.

But Arizona and Tate responded by going 75 yards for another score. Tate had a 28-yard run on the drive as the Wildcats went up 35-21.

Colorado again pulled to within a touchdown. CU drove 75 yard in 10 plays, with a Montez 2-yard pass to Chris Bounds narrowing the Arizona lead to 35-28 early in the fourth.

Tate answered again. This time it was another 75-yard scoring run, his fourth rushing touchdown of the game, giving the Wildcats a 42-28 lead.

Colorado took the ensuing kickoff and marched 75 yards to its fifth touchdown of the night, capping the drive with a 39-yard Montez pass to Bounds, cutting Arizona's lead to 42-35 with 11:02 left.

Arizona then made it a two-score game again, but had to settle for a 24-yard Josh Pollack field goal for a 45-35 lead with 8:06 left.

CU then drove 75 yards again, in nine plays. Lindsay scored from 11 yards out on his 41st carry of the night. With 5:04 left in the game, the Buffs trailed by three, 45-42.

But Arizona managed to run the clock out on its next possession, with Tate running for a key conversion to extend the drive, racing 31 yards on a 3rd-and-7 to the Buff 17. The Wildcats then ran the clock out with a pair of kneeldowns with the Buffs all out of timeouts.

Tate also completed 12-of-13 passes for 154 yards, giving him 481 yards of total offense, leading UA to 10.13 yards per play (567 on 56 plays), the fourth-highest number ever against a CU team.

GAME NOTES

Tonight's attendance of 49,976 was the most for a CU-UA game at Folsom Field, besting the 48,111 back in 2011, the Buffs' first year in the Pac-12 Conference ... Colorado donned white helmets, black jerseys and white pants (dropping to 2-1 in the look) ... The Buffs are 18-8 in Family Weekend games and now lead the series with Arizona 14-6 (6-4 in Boulder, 7-3 in night games) ... This matched the highest scoring game in the series (87 points; UA won 56-31 in Tucson in 2012); both teams have scored 20 or more points in last eight games ... This tied for the third most points as well as the fourth most total offense in losing a game in CU history ... Colorado is now 188-5 all-time when scoring 38 or more points ... The teams combined for 725 rushing yards (UA 425, CU 300) ... Seniors TB Phillip Lindsay and WR Shay Fields and left indelible marks against Arizona, Lindsay finishing with the most career rushing yards against one opponent (605) and Fields the second-most career receiving yards versus one school (408) ... Lindsay had a record night, becoming CU's all-time leader in all-purpose yards (4,989), set the mark for the most carries (41), became the fifth Buff to surpass 3,000 yards rushing thanks to the fourth-most single game rushing yards (281), and tied the school mark for first downs earned in a game (17, 16 rushing) and he matched the late Rashaan Salaam's mark set against Texas in 1994 for the most by a non-quarterback. TE Chris Bounds, in making his first two TD receptions of his career, became the first CU tight end to have two in a game since Joe Klopfenstein did so against Kansas in Boulder on Oct. 22, 2005.

COLORADO 36 OREGON STATE 33

RESER STADIUM, CORVALLIS

GAME 7

COLORADO	7	7	7	15	—	36
Oregon State	10	9	7	7	—	33

CORVALLIS, Ore. — Phillip Lindsay rushed for 185 yards and two touchdowns and quarterback Steven Montez and wide receiver Bryce Bobo hooked up for three scores — with Bobo throwing one to Montez — to lead the Buffs to a 36-33 come-from-behind win at Oregon State.

The final Montez-to-Bobo score came with just 1:34 left in the game, capping a nine-play, 82-yard scoring drive that gave the Buffs their 36-33 lead.

Montez masterfully piloted the game-winning drive, completing all four of his passes for 38 yards, three for first downs, and also had an 11-yard run to earn one. Lindsay picked up 23 yards on four carries on the possession, in which the Buffs never were faced with a third down try.

Oregon State then drove into CU territory on its final possession, but a 52-yard field goal try with 10 seconds left fell short to clinch the Buffs win.

Montez finished 14-of-24 for 168 yards and two scores while Lindsay rushed 28 times for 185 yards and two scores, giving him 466 yards rushing and five touchdowns on 69 carries in his last two games.

After a lackluster first half that saw the Buffs trailing 19-14 at intermission, the Buffs finally took the lead early in the third period, sparked by an Evan Worthington interception on OSU's first possession of the half. Worthington returned the errant pass 43 yards and the Buffs needed just six plays to go 46 yards to the end zone. Montez threw 8 yards to Shay Fields and Lindsay ran 17 yards on the drive, with Lindsay scoring from 9 yards out. James Stefanou's PAT gave the Buff their first lead of the game, 21-19, with 7:07 left in the third period.

But Oregon State quickly answered, going 75 yards in six plays to regain the lead. OSU running back Ryan Nall scored from 13 yards out to give OSU to a 26-21 lead with 20 seconds left in the third period.

Colorado responded by driving 88 yards in 18 plays to regain the lead. Lindsay carried eight times for 33 yards on the drive and Montez capped the march with a 9-yard scoring toss to Bobo. Montez then threw again to Bobo for the 2-point conversion and CU led, 29-26, with 8:53 left in the game.

The Beavers, however, had one more touchdown drive in their pocket, driving 84 yards in 10 plays with Nall scoring from 4 yards out to give OSU a 33-29 lead with just 4:22 left.

That set the stage for CU's game-winning drive and the final defensive stand. Lindsay ran four times for 23 yards on the winning drive before Montez hit Bobo from 13 out for the game's final touchdown.

CU then came up with big defensive plays on OSU's final possession, forcing the Beavers to try a 52-yard field goal, which fell short.

In the first half, the Beavers scored on all five of their possessions, driving for a touchdown on their first time with the ball, then adding four field goals on their next four possessions to take a 19-14 lead at the half.

Colorado answered OSU's opening touchdown quickly, springing Lindsay loose on second down for a 74-yard touchdown run. After OSU took a 16-7 lead on three field goals, CU cut the lead to two when the Buffs went 73 yards in 10 plays for a touchdown. Montez hit Bobo with a 15-yard toss to keep the drive moving early in the march and Bobo then returned the favor later, throwing an 11-yard scoring pass to Montez. It was Bobo's second career touchdown pass (he had one to Lindsay last year at USC) and it pulled Colorado to within two, 16-14.

But the Beavers then used the last 1:36 of the half to push their lead to five, getting their fourth field goal of the half to send the Buffs into the locker room trailing 19-14. All told, OSU drove into the red zone seven times in 10 possessions, but came away with just three touchdowns and the four field goals.

GAME NOTES

Colorado tied the series at 5-5 with Oregon State, taking a 2-1 lead in Corvallis ... This was the highest scoring game in the series, topping a 36-31 OSU win in Boulder in 2013 ... This was the 42nd time in CU history the Buffs had a 100-yard rusher and receiver; the Buffs are 32-10 in those games ... When the Buffs stopped the Beavers with a 3-and-out in the third quarter, it ended a run of 15 straight possessions where the opponent drove into CU territory (with two scores from outside the 50) ... Opponents have 24 drives inside-the-20 this year, but have come away with just 10 touchdowns; OSU had three TDs and four field goals on seven trips into the red zone ... The Buffs scored in all four quarters, extending the mark to 12 in a row ... CU's scoring drive in the fourth quarter went 88 yards over 18 plays, its fourth scoring drive this season of 15 or more plays ... CU has forced one or more turnovers in 32 of its last 34 games overall (all seven games in 2017); S Evan Worthington made his third career interception, all this season, returning it 43 yards. Offensively, CU extending its streak to a school record 13 straight quarters without committing a turnover, and have gone three straight games without one for the first time in school history (had gone back-to-back five times); it was also the fourth turnover-free game this year, tying the school record set in 1989, 1993, 2006 and 2011 ... TB Phillip Lindsay (28-185 rushing), had a two-game total of 466 yards, fourth-most in back-to-back games in school history ... WR Bryce Bobo had a career-high 126 receiving yards and threw his second career TD pass ... With QB Steven Montez making a TD reception, CU quarterbacks have caught at least one pass now in seven straight seasons; including three for touchdowns ... Colorado moved to within one win from becoming the 25th school to win 700 games (all-time record of 699-497-36).

WASHINGTON STATE 28 COLORADO 0

OCTOBER 21, 2017

MARTIN STADIUM, PULLMAN

GAME 8

PULLMAN, Wash. — Colorado was held scoreless for the first time since 2012 and Washington State did just enough offensively to carve out a 28-0 win over the Buffs in a wet, cold and windy Martin Stadium.

The Buffs even changed quarterbacks at the half, bringing in redshirt freshman Sam Noyer for an ineffective Steven Montez, but the change had no significant impact.

The last time CU had been shut out was a 48-0 loss at home to Stanford in 2012, or 60 games ago. Its 174 yards total offense was the lowest output since the 2016 Pac-12 championship game, when Colorado had just 163 yards offense.

Colorado dropped to 4-4 and 1-4 in Pac-12 play while WSU improved to 7-1, 4-1.

The Buffs had their chances to seize momentum early in the game, forcing and recovering a WSU fumble near midfield on the Cougars' second possession, then taking over near midfield again after a short WSU punt and penalty.

But the Buffs offense could never find a rhythm. CU did not produce a first down until late in the first quarter, and Montez did not complete a pass until late in the second period.

Then, after experiencing their own problems in a scoreless first quarter, the Cougars finally hit stride in the second period.

Following a Montez incompleton on fourth down in WSU territory early in the second period — a play that also resulted in the ejection of Buffs left tackle Jeromy Irwin for targeting — the Cougars went 72 yards in three plays for the first score of the game. Luke Falk hit Tay Martin for a 50-yard touchdown pass and WSU took a 7-0 lead with 11:25 to go in the half.

Seven minutes later, following CU's fourth punt of the half, the Cougars struck again. Falk guided a 10-play, 81-yard march, finishing with an 18-yard touchdown pass to Brandon Arconado.

CU's offense struggled the entire half. Montez did not complete a pass until less than five minutes remained in the second quarter, and he finished the half just 4-for-13 for 21 yards. CU's Phillip Lindsay ran for 58 yards in the first half, but needed 18 carries to hit that total, and he finished with 98 yards on 29 carries.

In the second half, the Buffs turned to redshirt freshman Noyer at quarterback, but Noyer's first drive was stifled in WSU territory after a high snap left the Buffs in a second-and-28 hole. CU punted, and nine plays later, the Cougars were in the end zone again, getting a 9-yard run from Jamal Morrow for a 21-0 lead with 9:26 to go in the third period.

Both teams then traded punts for much of the remainder of the game. The Buffs reached into WSU territory on a couple of occasions, but both times were stopped on fourth down at the Cougars' 17. Colorado entered the game having successfully converted seven straight fourth-down tries, but the Buffs were just 2-for-6 in that department against the Cougars and just 1-for-17 on third down.

Washington State tacked on one more score, going 52 yards in 10 plays, capping the drive with a 5-yard Falk pass to Renard Bell to push the final margin to 28-0.

Lindsay surpassed the 1,000-yard rushing mark in the game to become the first player in CU history to have back-to-back 1,000-yard seasons (Eric Bieniemy had 1,000-yard seasons in 1988 and 1990).

Montez finished 4-for-13 for 21 yards, but did extend his streak of throws without an interception to 108. Noyer was 7-for-18 for 53 yards. Quarterback Casey Marksberry saw his first action as a Buff and completed two of three attempts for 20 yards.

GAME NOTES

Colorado's lead in the all-time series was cut to 6-5; this was the second shutout in the series: the other took place on Sept. 18, 1982 in Spokane as CU's 12-0 win was the first by first-year head coach Bill McCartney ... Colorado has lost 28 straight road games to ranked opponents (last win: 31-17 at UCLA on Sept. 21, 2002) ... The Buffs are now 0-5-2 in Pac-12 back-to-back road doubleheaders (0 wins, swept 5 times, 2 splits; 2-12 combined record) ... CU was last shutout on Nov. 3, 2012 by Stanford, 48-0 in Boulder (last shutout on road: 2010 at Missouri, 26-0); the Buffaloes had scored in 60 straight games overall, and this marked just the fourth time in the last 355 games CU did not score (dating to a 7-0 loss at Nebraska in 1988) ... CU set school records with 16 straight quarters without committing a turnover (253:52 in total time), and nearly went four straight games without one ... QB Steven Montez extended his streak to 108 consecutive passes without an interceptions (sixth-longest in school history and the ninth of 100 or more) ... QB Engineering: Montez: 7 drives (34 plays, 82 yards); Sam Noyer: 7 drives (36 plays, 77 yards); Casey Marksberry: 2 drives (4 plays, 15 yards) ... The scoreless first quarter was just the sixth involving the Buffaloes over the last 178 games (dating back to 2003); the last one was against Washington in Boulder. The Buffs had scored in 12 straight quarters, the opponent had in 15 prior to tonight ... TB Phillip Lindsay (29-98 TD rushing; 7 FDE) recorded the 16th 1,000-yard rushing season in school history, the first player to do it in back-to-back years.

OCTOBER 28, 2017

FOLSOM FIELD, BOULDER

GAME 9

BOULDER —One week after a halftime benching, CU quarterback Steven Montez produced his best game of the season and Colorado's defense played well when it mattered — even contributing to the scoring — as the Buffs produced a 44-28 win over Cal at Folsom Field.

With the victory, Colorado became the 25th school in NCAA history to win 700 games, as the Buffs pushed their all-time record to 700-498-36.

Montez completed 20 of 26 passes for 347 yards and three touchdowns and also ran for one score while running back Phillip Lindsay carried 33 times for 161 yards. The game also featured a 100-yard interception return for a score by Colorado's Nick Fisher.

Colorado's offense put forth one of its best performances of the season in carving out a 27-14 halftime lead, putting up a season-high 361 yards in the first half.

After the two teams traded punts to start the game, the Buffs drove 73 yards in nine plays for a 7-0 lead. Lindsay had a 39-yard run on the drive and, following a sack of Montez, the CU quarterback threw 22 yards to Devin Ross for the score on third-and-17.

The Bears answered with their own long drive, going 75 yards to tie the score at 7-7, finishing the march with a 15-yard pass from wide receiver Vic Wharton to Kanawai Noa.

The Buffs then grabbed momentum, scoring touchdowns on their next two possessions.

Colorado needed just six plays to go 75 yards for the go-ahead score. Montez converted a third-and-18 with a 20-yard pass to Bryce Bobo, then hit a streaking Laviska Shenault Jr. with a 58-yard pass to the Cal 7-yard line. Montez scored on the next play and James Stefanou's PAT gave Colorado a 14-7 lead.

Colorado's defense then came up with a big stop, fueled by a George Frazier sack, that produced a Cal punt.

CU then needed just six plays again to go 96 yards for another score. Montez converted one third down with a 21-yard toss to Ross, then hit Shay Fields with a 65-yard scoring strike — CU's longest pass of the year — two plays later for a 21-7 lead.

After another Cal punt, Colorado extended its margin to 24-7, driving to the Cal 12 before settling for a 29-yard Stefanou field goal.

The Bears kept themselves in the game on the ensuing possession, taking 17 plays to go 79 yards. Cal scored on a 14-yard pass from Ross Bowers to Noa to pull to within 24-14.

But, in the final 1:16 left of the half, CU drove into Cal territory in time to produce a 39-yard Stefanou field goal as time expired to give the Buffs a 27-14 halftime lead.

Neither team scored in the third quarter. But early in the final period, Colorado built its cushion to 20 points by carving out a 14-play, 74-yard march. The Buffs got a 23-yard scoring pass from Montez to Jay MacIntyre on third-and-9 to give the Buffs a 34-14 lead with 13:17 left.

The Bears managed to cut the margin back to 13 after a five-play, 84-yard drive produced a Bowers 14-yard scoring pass to Wharton, shaving CU's cushion to 34-21 with 8:24 left, but Colorado answered with a methodical 55-yard drive that produced a 37-yard Stefanou field goal and 37-21 lead with just 5:22 left.

Fisher then put an exclamation point on the win by fielding a Bowers pass in the end zone and racing 100 yards down the sideline with 2:34 left in the game for a 44-21 Colorado lead.

After Fisher's interception, the Bears added the final score of the day, another Bowers touchdown pass.

GAME NOTES

Colorado pulled to within 5-4 in the series with Cal, but now lead 4-2 in Boulder ... The two have played four times as members of the Pac-12, with CU outscoring Cal 174-147, thus the 321 total points means the 80.3 per game when these two play (CU has 2,250 yards in the four games (562.5 per), Cal has 1,801 (450.3) ... CU earned a first down on its opening drive for the first time since the UCLA game; the opponent went three-and-out on its opening possession for the first time since the season opener (CSU) ... The scoreless third quarter was the first in the series since the fourth quarter in the 1975 game; one team scored in at least 22 straight quarters in the series, and the Buffs had scored in 14 in a row ... CU had just one turnover and thus has just two in the last 21 quarters ... To date, Colorado's 171 yards were its most in the first quarter this season; its 190 yards in the second quarter as its second most in any quarter (199 vs. Northern Colorado); and its 361 yards in the first half were the most in any half this year. The 553 total marked the third time with 500-plus this season (569 vs. UNC, 551 vs. Arizona) ... Junior DB Nick Fisher joined a very exclusive club when he returned an interception 100 yards in the fourth quarter. It was the 11th 100-yard play in CU history, the fourth interception return of that length ... Colorado rushed for 200 yards and passed for 353, the third time this year the Buffs had the 200/200 double; it's the 13th time under MacIntyre the Buffs have achieved it; it was just the seventh time CU went 200 rushing with 350 passing ... QB Steven Montez (26-20-0, 347, 3 TD) had a career-best rating and extended his streak without an interception to 134, third-longest in school history ... TB Phillip Lindsay had his fifth 100-yard game of the season and earned 10 first downs (nine rushing).

ARIZONA STATE 41 COLORADO 30

NOVEMBER 4, 2017

SUN DEVIL STADIUM, TEMPE

GAME 10

TEMPE, Ariz. — Colorado led for much of the game, but a 24-3 Arizona State fourth quarter paved the way for a 41-30 Buffs loss at Sun Devil Stadium.

While CU took the lead on its first possession and never trailed through the first half, the Buffs could have put much more distance between them and the Sun Devils had it not been for a handful of miscues.

In the end, those missed opportunities — dropped passes, a blocked punt and missed tackles — cost the Buffs a victory. The Buffs held a 10-point lead at three different junctures, including a 27-17 edge heading into the final period, but could not stop the Sun Devils down the stretch. ASU rushed for 381 yards in the game, with more than half — 191 — coming in the fourth quarter.

CU took a 3-0 lead on its first possession, getting a 34-yard field goal from James Stefanou. Two possessions later, the Buffs found the end zone, going 74 yards in 13 plays. Steven Montez completed a 16-yard pass to Shay Fields on third-and-6 and Phillip Lindsay ran eight times for 42 yards on the march, including a 6-yard scoring run for a 10-0 CU lead.

After stopping ASU at midfield, CU drove to the ASU 28, only to come up short on fourth down. Arizona State then answered with a 72-yard scoring drive, getting a 20-yard Manny Wilkins pass to N'Keal Harry to cut CU's lead to 10-7.

After both teams traded punts, Colorado put together an eight-play, 51-yard TD drive. Montez hit Jay MacIntyre for 20 yards, then connected with Bryce Bobo for 15 before Lindsay carried in from 1 out for a 17-7 lead with just 1:07 left in the half.

That, however, was enough time for the Sun Devils to go 77 yards in seven plays, with Wilkins connecting with Kyle Williams from 25 out with just 7 seconds remaining to cut CU's lead to 17-14.

Both teams traded punts to open the second half before Colorado extended its lead to 20-14 on a 53-yard Stefanou field goal, who improved to 15-for-17 on field goals for the season.

The Sun Devils then answered with a 15-play drive deep into CU territory before the Buffs held in the red zone, limiting ASU to a Ruiz field goal that closed CU's gap to 20-17.

CU then built its margin back to 10 for a third time when Montez connected with Fields on a 54-yard touchdown for a 27-17 lead with 4:55 to go in the third period.

Arizona State then cut the lead to 27-20 early in the fourth quarter, getting a 37-yard Ruiz field goal with 13:37 left in the game.

That led to a Colorado miscue that turned the tide in ASU's favor. On CU's ensuing possession, Alex Kinney's punt was blocked. The Sun Devils went 40 yards in seven plays, with a 5-yard Richard run tying the game at 27-27.

Colorado did come back quickly to regain the lead. A 60-yard Montez pass to Lindsay put the Buffs at the ASU 15, but Colorado had to settle for a 28-yard field goal and 30-27 lead with 7:09 remaining in the game.

The Sun Devils, however, continued to pound away at CU's tiring defense. ASU took its first lead of the game on the next possession, driving 75 yards in five plays. An Eno Benjamin 19-yard run helped ASU to a 34-30 edge with 5:33 to go in the game. Colorado could not move the ball on its next possession and punted, and the Sun Devils then tacked on one more touchdown for the final margin.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA 38 GAME 11 COLORADO 24

NOVEMBER 11, 2017
FOLSOM FIELD, BOULDER

BOULDER — A second-half comeback at Folsom Field fell short against the No. 15 team in the nation as Colorado dropped a 38-24 decision to USC. Colorado trailed 20-0 at the half and 27-0 early in the third quarter, but managed to come back and make a game of it late. But, the Buffs could never completely dig out of the early hole they made for themselves with some crucial mistakes.

After a scoreless first quarter in which the Buffs failed to take advantage of some early opportunities — and also had a 38-yard touchdown pass nullified by a penalty — the Trojans took charge.

USC went 60 yards to pay dirt on eight plays on its first possession of the second quarter, capping the drive on a 10-yard Sam Darnold pass to Michael Pittman. After a Colorado three-and-out, the Trojans struck again, driving 69 yards in seven plays, with Darnold throwing 18 yards to Deontay Burnett for the score and a 14-0 lead.

Colorado finally put together a long drive on the ensuing possession, getting five completions from quarterback Steven Montez. But the march stalled at the USC 30-yard line and a 47-yard James Stefanou field goal try was blocked.

The Buffs then gave themselves one more chance late in the half, forcing a punt and taking possession at their own 10 with a minute remaining. But the opportunity turned into a disaster when USC's Ajene Harris picked off a Montez pass and went 34 yards to the end zone. USC missed the PAT, but still took a 20-0 lead into the locker room at intermission.

The Buffs opened the second half by driving deep into USC territory, only to have another field goal blocked. USC then took possession and extended its margin to 27-0 with a 78-yard scoring drive.

Colorado then finally got on the scoreboard, and it took just two plays. After a Phillip Lindsay run netted 3 yards, Montez hit a wide open Juwann Winfree down the middle of the field for a 79-yard touchdown pass, cutting USC's margin to 27-7.

Colorado struck again just three minutes later when Buffs freshman Nate Landman blocked a Reid Budrovich punt. Kyle Trego scooped up the block and returned it to the 1-yard line, and three plays later, Lindsay carried in for the score to pull CU to within 27-14. The Trojans, though, quickly answered with a 57-yard drive that produced a Chase McGrath field goal and 30-14 lead.

CU closed the gap back to 13 early in the fourth quarter, driving 48 yards before settling for a 39-yard Stefanou field goal, making the score 30-17 with 12:42 to play.

The Trojans, though, quickly answered. USC took the ensuing kick and drove 72 yards to the end zone. Ronald Jones covered the last 22 and after a two-point conversion, the Trojans led 38-17 with 8:56 to go.

But the Buffs wouldn't go away quietly. On the ensuing possession, the Buffs went 75 yards for a touchdown in just four plays, with Montez connecting with Winfree again, this time for 57 yards. Stefanou's extra point pulled the Buffs back to within 14, 38-24.

Colorado managed one more drive deep into USC territory, but the drive stalled inside the Trojan 10 when CU couldn't convert a fourth down.

Lindsay finished with 68 yards on 20 carries in his final Folsom Field game. Montez was 27-for-49 for 376 yards, two touchdowns and two interceptions and Winfree finished with five catches for 163 yards and two touchdowns.

The game left Colorado with a 5-6 record and needing a win in the season finale at Utah to become bowl eligible.

GAME NOTES

USC now leads the series by a 12-0 count (6-0 in Boulder, 6-0 in Los Angeles) ... The Buffs are 7-7 on November 11 (but 6-4 since the date officially became Veteran's Day in 1938) ... Colorado gained its most yards ever against USC (486; previous best was 403 in 2014); the 376 yards passing was the first time over 300 (high was 275 last year) ... USC's 522 was its fourth-most in the series ... The Trojans had rushed for over 300 yards in their last two games but had 193 (38 attempts) ... What was it about second down? Teams combined for 51 plays for 503 yards; the other downs combined: 104 for 505 ... WR Juwann Winfree (5-163) and WR Bryce Bobo (10-113) were the two first Buffaloes to have 100-yard games in the same game since Paul Richardson (11-140) and Nelson Spruce (8-140) against California in Boulder on Nov. 16, 2013 ... PK James Stefanou entered the day 16-of-18 on field goals but had the first two of his career blocked ... Marriage Proposal: At the end of CU's Senior Salute, ILB Trent Headley (Littleton/Columbine High School) proposed to Elizabeth Trujillo (a CU cheerleader; she did say yes) ... The scoreless first quarter was just the eighth involving the Buffaloes over the last 189 games (dating back to 2003), but the second this season and both in the last four games (Washington State was the other) ... USC was the last team to shutout CU in the first half at Folsom; the Trojans led 23-0 in an eventual 47-29 win on Nov. 23, 2013... ILB Nate Landman blocked CU's second punt of the year (the other was a tip); this was the first full block since ILB Doug Rippey had two at Toledo on Sept. 11, 2009 ... The 19th annual Buffalo Heart Award (coordinated and selected by the "fans behind the bench") was presented postgame to TB Phillip Lindsay.

UTAH 34 COLORADO 13

RICE-ECCLES STADIUM, SALT LAKE CITY

GAME 12

SALT LAKE CITY — Colorado's hopes of a second straight bowl bid ended at Rice-Eccles Stadium, as the Buffs dropped a 34-13 decision to Utah in the season finale with bowl eligibility on the line for both schools.

The loss finished Colorado's season at 5-7 while the Utes improved to 6-6 to become bowl eligible. The loss also dropped CU into last place in the Pac-12 South with a 2-7 conference record, one season after the Buffs won the division with a 10-2 regular season record, 8-1 in the Pac-12.

The seventh game between the two schools since they both joined the Pac-12 in 2011 was nothing like the first six, all of which were decided by seven points or less.

This time around, the Utes dominated the Buffs, taking a 28-0 lead at the half with two touchdowns in each of the first two quarters to effectively put the game away. Colorado momentarily threatened to make a game of it early in the fourth quarter, pulling to within 31-13 and driving deep into Utah territory, only to see quarterback Steven Montez stripped of the ball to end the threat.

The Utes outgained Colorado 491-319, including 310 yards on the ground. Utah running back Zack Moss did the most damage, carrying 26 times for 196 yards and two touchdowns.

The Buffs never had an answer for Utah's offense in the first half, as the Utes put together scoring drives of 73, 78, 88 and 74 yards to score four touchdowns in their first six possessions on their way to 340 yards of total offense by intermission.

Moss carried 16 times for 138 yards (8.6 average) and two scores in the first half and Utah quarterback Troy Williams, filling in for an injured Tyler Huntley, completed 10 of 14 attempts for 138 yards and also ran for two scores. By contrast, CU had just 119 yards and six first downs in the first half.

CU, meanwhile, never established any kind of offensive consistency. The Buffs drove into Utah territory twice in the first quarter, but saw the first drive end in a missed field goal and the second stall after two incompletions.

After that, Colorado never mounted any kind of serious scoring threat, finishing the half with just 119 yards offense.

Colorado finally got on the board early in the second half. After the two teams traded punts, CU marched 73 yards in six plays, getting a 21-yard Montez pass to Jay MacIntyre, a 13-yard Phillip Lindsay run and a 19-yard Montez pass to Chris Bounds to set up a 6-yard Lindsay touchdown run.

The Utes, however, answered with a long drive that ended in a 37-yard Matt Gay field goal to bump their lead back to 31-7.

The Buffs threatened to make a game of it in the fourth quarter, scoring early in the period to pull within 31-13. Colorado went 78 yards in 13 plays, with Montez throwing three times to Juwann Winfree for 14, 13 and 19 yards, along with a 28-yard completion to Bryce Bobo. Montez then ran 3 yards for the score in the first minute of the final period.

CU's defense then held and forced a Utah punt, and the Buffs drove to the Utah 14 on their next possession. But Utah's Bradlee Anae stripped the ball from Montez from behind on first down and Utah recovered to end the threat.

Utah then added a field goal to end the scoring.

Lindsay carried 18 times for 72 yards and a touchdown in his final game as a Buff. Lindsay finished his career as CU's all-time leader in all-purpose yards and second on CU's all-time rushing list.

Montez finished 14-for-28 for 195 yards while Bobo and Winfree both had four catches for 53 yards.

GAME NOTES

CU now leads the series by a 32-29-3 count (in Salt Lake City, 14-17-2; as members of the Pac-12, 2-5) ... The Buffs dropped to 2-2 when wearing all white helmet-toe ... This was the largest margin of victory in the series since 1955 (a CU 37-7 win in Boulder); the first six games since the rivalry resumed were decided by a total of 32 points (3, 7, 7, 4, 6 and 5) ... CU won the coin toss for the eighth time in 12 games this season (and for the 21st time in the last 26 games ... This was Mike MacIntyre's 100th game as a head coach (41-59 overall, 25-38 at Colorado) ... It was also game No. 100 for Darian Hagan as an assistant coach ... Utah's 340 yards in the first half was an opponent high for the year (and second-most for any half) ... Colorado did win the second half, 13-6 on the scoreboard, 200-151 in yards ... ILB Trent Headley was in on special teams and thus saw his first career action in his final game as a Buff ... WR K.D. Nixon recorded CU's longest kickoff return of the year (34 yards) ... WR Bryce Bobo (62-693) recorded the ninth 60-plus reception season in CU history with four catches in the game ... With WR Juwann Winfree going over 20 receptions on the season (21-325), it marks the seventh time in the last 14 years that CU has had six or more players with 20 or more receptions in a season (prior to 2004, that had never occurred) ... QB Steven Montez finished the year with 3,313 yards of total offense (2,975 passing, 338 rushing), the third 3,000-yard season in CU history (and just behind the record of 3,336 in 2014) ... ILB Nate Landman made eight tackles, two for losses, with two pass breakups and a forced fumble in his most extensive action of the season.
