MARK WETMORE
Head Coach, 24th Season

Colorado head coach Mark Wetmore enters his 27th season at Colorado, his 24th as head coach. He became CU's sixth head cross country and track and field coach on November 6, 1995. Wetmore is the only Division I cross country coach to win all four NCAA titles – men's and women's team and men's and women's individual – at the same school.

Wetmore's squads have won seven national cross country titles since 2000. The women won in 2000 while the men won the following year. Both teams captured the championship again in 2004 (CU became only the third school to win both championships in the same year). The men won again in 2006, 2013 and 2014. Wetmore has coached Adam Goucher (1998), Jorge Torres (2002) and Dathan Ritzenhein (2003) to men's individual cross country titles, while Kara Grgas-Wheeler won the 2000 women's crown. CU athletes have earned 126 All-American cross country honors during his tenure.

Wetmore has been named the NCAA Women's Cross Country Coach of the Year twice ('00 and '04) and the NCAA Men's Cross Country Coach of the Year three times ('06, '13 and '14). He is a 30-time conference coach of the year and in 2014, USA Track and Field named him the USA Co-Coach of the Year.

In addition to national titles, his teams won 23 Big 12 Cross Country Team Titles (11 women's, 12 men's), 16 individual Big 12 Cross Country Titles and Wetmore was named Big 12 Conference Cross Country Coach of the Year 19 times. He was the winningest Big 12 Conference head coach among all sports when CU left the conference in 2011.

CU joined the Pac-12 Conference in the fall of 2011 and Wetmore's teams won the inaugural Pac-12 men's and women's titles – the first Pac-12 Championships in any sport. His men won the first six titles and his women have won four (2011, '15, '16 and '17).

On the track, Wetmore's athletes have had a strong presence at the conference, national and professional levels. They've captured 102 individual conference titles, two conference team titles, 16 NCAA individual titles and earned 193 All-American honors. CU athletes have broken seven collegiate middle and long distance records.

CU runners' success at the professional and post-collegiate level is unmatched by any university: over two dozen Buff grads have signed professional contracts. They've combined for more than 50 USA titles in cross country, track & field and road racing. Since 2000, 10 CU athletes or graduates have earned 19 U.S. Olympic Team berths at distances from 1,500-meters through the marathon. Fourteen current and former Buffs have earned 31 spots on U.S. World Championship Track Teams and 25 have combined for 61 berths on U.S. World Championship Cross Country Teams. Since 2004, CU graduates have won seven medals in distance running at World Championships – Shayne Culpepper (bronze, 2004 Indoor 3k), Kara Goucher (silver, 2007 10k), Dathan Ritzenhein (bronze, 2009 Half Marathon), Jenny Simpson (gold, 2011 1,500m and silver, 2013 and 2017 1,500m) and Emma Coburn (gold, 2017 steeplechase). Coburn (steeplechase) and Simpson (1,500) became the first to win Olympic medals, both bronze, at the 2016 Olympic Games in Rio. They were the first American women to medal in their respective events.

Charles Mark Wetmore graduated with a Bachelor's degree in English Education from Rutgers in 1978 before receiving his Master's in movement sciences from Columbia in 1998. He lives in the mountains west of Boulder.

COACHING STAFF

HEATHER BURROUGHS
Associate Head Coach,
15th Season

Colorado's first female three-time cross country All-American, Heather Burroughs is in her 15th season on the staff of her alma mater, assisting head coach Mark Wetmore with the men's and women's teams. Since joining the staff, she has assisted with 18 conference championship teams, five NCAA Championship teams and 143 All-Americans. Burroughs was promoted to associate head coach following the 2011 season where the Buffs swept the inaugural Pac-12 Cross Country Championships to win the reformatted conference's first two team championships.

In Burroughs' 14 track seasons assisting the men's and women's middle and long distance runners, CU athletes have made an impact at the conference, NCAA, American and world levels. To date, 53 have captured individual conference titles and 97 have earned All-American accolades. The women have won 10 individual NCAA titles and have broken six collegiate records. Since 2007, CU runners with eligibility remaining have won four U.S. outdoor titles and earned four berths on U.S. outdoor world championship teams as well as three individual berths on the U.S. Olympic Team.

Burroughs, in partnership with Wetmore, coaches CU post-collegian Jenny Simpson. Simpson, who won a silver medal in the 1,500-meter run at the 2013 IAAF World Championship, also won the 2014 IAAF Diamond League title at 1,500 while earning the No. 1 world ranking in the event. At the conclusion of 2014, Burroughs and Wetmore were named the USA Track & Field Co-Coaches of the Year. Simpson became the first U.S. woman to win an Olympic medal in the 1,500, a bronze, at the 2016 Olympic Games in Rio. In 2017, Simpson earned another silver medal at the IAAF World Championships (1,500). Burroughs and Wetmore also coached CU grad Emma Coburn to five USA Outdoor titles, the American steeplechase record and the United States' first women's Olympic steeplechase medal in Rio.

During Burroughs' CU cross country career, she was a top-five and all-conference finisher each of her four seasons, as well as an All-American in 1994, '95 and '98. The CU women finished in the top four of the NCAA in three of those seasons, including a runner-up finish in 1995.

On the track, she was the Big 8 Conference Women's Indoor Track Newcomer of the Year in 1995. She won one conference individual title, scored in 15 conference races and was an indoor 5,000-meter All-American. Burroughs qualified for six NCAA indoor and outdoor races during her career.

Burroughs was born in Kansas City, Kan. and attended Pembroke Hill High School. She graduated from CU in 1999 with a Bachelor of Arts in biology.

BILLY NELSON
Assistant Coach/Recruiting
Coordinator,
9th Season

Billy Nelson, a 2008 Olympian, is in his ninth year as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator for the Buffalo's cross country and track & field program.

During his time at CU, Nelson has helped recruit athletes who have combined for 76 All-American honors in cross country and indoor and outdoor track. One of his athletes, Pierce Murphy, came to CU as a walk-on, and earned eight All-American awards.

In 2015, Nelson saw four of his recruits win conference titles. Kaitlyn Benner won the MPSF indoor 5,000-meter run as a freshman and Erin Clark was first in the 3,000-meter steeplechase at the Pac-12 Championship to win her first title. On the men's side, Ammar Moussa was the first Buff since 2011 to win the 10,000 at the Pac-12 meet and Connor Winter took top honors in the steeplechase. Five of his recruits won conference titles again in 2016 and in 2017, he had eight athletes combine for 10 conference titles.

Nelson has assisted with 10 conference championship teams, as well as two NCAA team championships and a pair of NCAA runner-up finishes while on CU's staff.

Prior to joining CU's coaching staff, Nelson had a successful career. He won the 2011 USATF steeplechase crown, earning a spot on the U.S. roster for the IAAF World Championships. In 2008, Nelson placed second at the U.S. Olympic Team Trials to earn a spot on the U.S. roster at the Olympic Games in Beijing.

At CU, he was a decorated distance runner, earning All-American honors six times and three Big 12 conference titles. Nelson was a part of the 2008 men's track and field team that won the first Big 12 outdoor title for CU, the first conference title since 1947 and was a member of the 2006 NCAA Cross Country Championship team.

He ranks second on the all-time performers list in the steeplechase at CU (8:28.85) and has the third and fourth fastest time in school history.

Prior to attending CU, Nelson was the 2003 USA Junior Cross Country Champion and Junior 5k champion. He was the top American at the World Junior Cross Country Championships with a 26th-place finish.

The Taft, Calif. native graduated from CU in 2008 with a degree in ethnic studies. Nelson is married to the former Alisa Crane. They have three children, Arabella, Noah and Lonnie Jack.

Karen Lechman
Director of Operations,
17th Season

Karen Lechman is in her 12th year as the director of operations, but her 17th year overall with the program as she was the administrative assistant prior to her promotion.

She has had an office management career since graduating college. Lechman has worked for companies in software development, commercial finance, scientific research and office products. Lechman was also a certified fitness instructor from 1993-2005 and taught kick-boxing and step aerobics.

Lechman earned her bachelor's degree from Colorado in 1983 in communications. The former Karen Marcy has been married to Brian Lechman since 1985. The couple resides in Broomfield, Colo., and has two daughters, Mychelle and Kimberly.

A TRADITION OF EXCELLENCE

Colorado Cross Country

126 All-Americans...

35 Conference Championships...

7 NCAA Team Championships...

4 NCAA Individual Champions...

all since just 1993...one combined program, using only U.S. athletes.

CU is one of four programs to have an American Men's NCAA Champion in the last 20 years. CU has had four. CU is one of only four public universities to win the NCAA Women's Title since 1988. CU has won twice. Mark Wetmore is the only coach to win all four NCAA titles at one school: Men's and Women's Teams, Men's and Women's Individuals. CU is one of only three schools that has won both men's and women's team titles on the same day. CU has had 29 athletes qualify for the IAAF World Cross Country Championships in venues as far reaching as Ireland, Morocco, Switzerland, Japan, Kenya and China.

Accomplishments which other schools celebrate occasionally (some still 30 years later), at CU have become an annual matter of course, a matter of tradition.

A tradition of excellence.

2018 SEASON OUTLOOK

As with every season, expectations and aspirations are high for the University of Colorado Cross Country teams.

"The teams are both historically pretty good," head coach Mark Wetmore said at CU's annual fall sports media day in August. "These teams can again be pretty good depending on how they show up in 10 days and what work we can get done. I hate to make predictions because our sport is a sport where things can go wrong fast and we are not allowed by the NCAA to have a third string, fourth string and fifth string, so if something goes wrong with your first string, everything comes undone."

Both rosters have talent, but the women's team is definitely deeper than the men's with three returning All-Americans in seniors Dani Jones and Mackenzie Caldwell, as well as junior Sage Hurta. Jones, in particular, will be one of the leaders for the Buffs. A two-time All-American, Jones led the Buffs with a 10th place individual finish at the national championship and won the individual title at the Pac-12 Championships, becoming the first Buff to win the individual title since CU joined the league in 2011.

Hurta had an outstanding sophomore season, finishing 35th at the NCAA Championships for her second All-American honor in two years. She was also a scorer for the Buffs at the Pac-12 Championships (ninth) and the regional championship (12th). Caldwell, a 2017 All-American, wasn't at full strength last season and is looking to have a senior year to remember.

In addition to those three, there are several others with varsity experience. Senior Makena Morley led CU at regionals for the second straight year, finishing seventh overall, while sophomore Madie Boreman scored at a pair of postseason meets. Other returning Buffs include Val Constien, Tabor Scholl, Brianna Schwartz and Cayla Seligman.

But it does not stop there. There are several redshirt and true freshmen who are looking to earn their way onto the varsity squad.

"Dani Jones is back and she is very strong and will certainly be stronger than a year ago if we make no mistakes," Wetmore said. "Sage Hurta is very good, and Makena Morley is very good. Madie Boreman, who was second in the NCAA steeplechase two years ago and was hurt last year, returns. Tabor Scholl, who is a Colorado girl, returns, and there are quite a few people battling for those remaining three or four spots. The women's team should be very good and has a little more room for error."

The men's team does not share the same depth the women's team has, but that does not mean they cannot be successful as they do have a very talented group returning.

"We have four returning, proven, and very good runners," Wetmore said. "We will need someone to emerge from the rest of the group as an NCAA contributor at that level. There are a lot of hard working people and sometimes it takes a year or two so I don't know who will fill that fifth through seventh spot to make a full team. We have fourth-fifths of an excellent team with Joe Klecker, John Dressel, Eduardo Herrera and Ryan Forsyth. Ethan Gonzales, Reilly Friedman, Paxton Smith, or maybe some of the freshmen coming in are going to have to come on fast. If one, two or three does and the other four stays solid all year, we will be a very good team. There is just no room for error."

Dressel returns to the team this season after suffering an injury following his first race of the 2017 season. He is a two-time All-American and was missed as the Buffs lost their first Pac-12 men's team title by just six points and placed eighth at the NCAA Championships.

Klecker and Herrera were huge parts of the 2018 team. Klecker was the Pac-12 men's runner-up and won the regional title. Herrera led the Buffs at the NCAA Championship and earned his first All-American honor with a 33rd place finish. Forsyth, although not an All-American, has been a consistent part of the team, scoring in all varsity races last season.

Like the women, the men have a talented freshman class, as its possible one of them could contribute to the team's success this fall.

Colorado's schedule is different this season. For the first time in over 30 years, the Buffs will not host their annual Rocky Mountain Shootout.

"Due to the modern NCAA qualifications system, the system that gets teams to the NCAA Finals, smaller meets with only four or five NCAA Division I teams have been pushed out and are discouraged by the system," Wetmore said.

Another notable difference is that for the first time, the Buffs will race on the same course three teams at the University of Wisconsin, which will host the NCAA Championships.

"I don't think we have ever raced three times on any one course in a season," Wetmore said. "Wisconsin has a wonderful cross country-only race course. We have only been there with some emerging varsity people ever, and that was once, a year ago. We hope to take advantage of the chance to visit there twice this year in late September and middle October, with the hope that we may learn a little bit more about that race course, and should we advance to the NCAA championships, we could be a little more comfortable there."

CU will open up the season on August 31 at the Wyoming Invitational in Cheyenne, Wyo. After that, the Buffs will have almost a month to prepare for the next two meets as CU will split its squad to compete at the Nuttycombe Wisconsin Invitational, Sept. 28, and the Stanford Invitational, Sept. 29. The Buffs, as usual, will also compete at the NCAA Pre-National Invitational (Oct. 13) before heading into the post season.

This year's Pac-12 Championship will be October 26 in Stanford, Calif. The Buffs will be looking to sweep the team titles for the fourth time since joining the league in 2011, but doing so won't be an easy task with the talent in the Pac-12.

CU's men have won six of seven league titles, while the women have won four since joining the Pac-12 in 2011.

NCAA Mountain Region Championships will be in Provo, Utah, this year on Nov. 9. Then, for the first time since 1978, the NCAA Championships will take place in Madison, Wis., on Nov. 17.

A TRADITION OF EXCELLENCE

Since 1994, Colorado's combined men's and women's NCAA championship results are the best in the country.

HOLLY BENT

Freshman • RS
Louisville, Colo.
(Monarch)

2017: Redshirt. Did not complete.

HIGH SCHOOL: Bent raced four seasons for Monarch High School, lettering all four seasons. As a senior, she placed 13th at the Colorado High School Athletic Association 5A State Championships after an 11th place finish at regionals. Bent was also 12th at the Front Range League Championships. She qualified for the Nike Cross Country Regional Championships where she finished 52nd overall. Bent also had a very successful season as a sophomore, winning the state regional meet en route to a fourth place finish at the state championship. On the track, she recorded three personal records in 2017. She clocked 2:15.60 in the 800-meters, 5:05.94 in the 1,600 and 10:54.62 in the 3,200. Bent competed in all three events at the state championships, clocking a fifth-place finish in the 1,600 (with her PR time of 5:05.94) and a 10th-place finish in the 800, finishing just under her PR (2:16.88). Bent was also a good student, earning academic all-league honors all four years. She was also recruited by Cal Poly, New Mexico and Tennessee.

HIGH SCHOOL BESTS: 800-meters: 2:15.60; 1,600-meters: 5:05.94; 3,200-meters: 10:54.62.

IN THE CLASSROOM: Bent is majoring in journalism and is minoring in Spanish and political science. She has recorded a GPA greater than 3.0 after her freshman year.

PERSONAL: Holly Frances Bent was born on December 21, 1998 in Sydney, Australia. She is the daughter of Robert Bent and Nicole Harden-Bent. Her father was a goalkeeper in the Scottish professional league. Bent is bilingual (Spanish and English) and has four passports (United States, Australia, New Zealand and United Kingdom). She enjoys skiing, traveling, camping and writing children's books. Bent also spent one summer teaching English to children at the School of Hope in Jocotenango, Guatemala.

Sophomore • 2L
Round Rock, Texas
(Rouse)

2017: Boreman raced in five meets for the Buffs, earning a spot on the varsity roster as a redshirt freshman. She ran her first race in a CU uniform at the Colorado State Invitational, placing eighth. In the following meet, the Joe Piane Invite, Boreman was CU's fifth runner, finishing 18th/ At the NCAA Pre-National Invitational, she was once again CU's fifth runner, crossing the finish 36th. Boreman did not score for the Buffs at the Pac-12 Championships, placing sixth for the Buffs, but she still finished quite high at 28th. Boreman was an alternate at regionals and ended her first cross country season with a 62nd place finish at the NCAA Championship, helping the Buffs record a third-place team finish.

2016: Redshirt. Did not compete.

HIGH SCHOOL: Boreman was a very successful runner at Rouse High School, earning four letters in cross country and four letters in track and field. She recorded three top-10 finishes at the state cross country meet, winning as a freshman. She was seventh in both her sophomore and senior seasons and

MACKENZIE CALDWELL

Senior • 4L
Columbus, Ind.
(Columbia North)

2017: Caldwell raced in two meets for the Buffs as a junior. Her first race was a 14th place finish in the 'B' race at the Nuttycombe Wisconsin Invitational, helping the Buffs take home the team title. She missed the Pac-12 Championship meet, but was back in the CU line-up for the NCAA Mountain Regional Championship, finishing 31st as the Buffs won their fifth straight regional title. At the NCAA Championships, Caldwell served as an alternate.

2016: Caldwell returned to the CU line-up as a redshirt sophomore and made a huge impact. She earned her first All-America honor at NCAAs, finishing 39th overall as CU's No. 3 runner, helping CU to a third-place team finish. Caldwell received all-region honors after finishing eighth overall (No. 4 for CU), as the Buffs won the NCAA Mountain Region Championship. Colorado also took home the team title at the Pac-12 Championships where Caldwell placed 16th overall.

2015: Caldwell started the season early at the USA Junior Cross Country Championships in February, finishing 14th in 23:36. She redshirted the 2015 NCAA season.

2014: Caldwell ran unattached at the Rocky Mountain Shootout and placed 14th overall to earn a spot on the varsity roster. She debuted for the Buffs at NCAA Pre-Nationals, placing 128th overall. Caldwell was 44th at Pac-12s and placed 36th at regionals. She ended the season at NCAAs with a 195th place finish.

HIGH SCHOOL: Caldwell owns three records at CNHS: the 5-kilometer cross country course record (17:29), the 1,600-meter run (4:55) and the 3,200 (10:37), and all three double as the Conference Indiana records. Caldwell set the cross country record on October 9, 2013 and both track records on April 26, 2014. The Bull Dogs were the CI cross country champions four straight years (2010-13) and the track and field team won the title in 2014. Caldwell was named all-state three times as a member of the cross country team and three times on the track team, and was a cross country all-conference selection four straight years. She placed second at the state cross country meet as a senior and was fourth her sophomore and junior years. Caldwell won the 2014 indoor state 3,200 title and during the outdoor season, she placed fifth in the 1,600 and 3,200. As a junior, she was third in both events and was sixth in the 3,200 as a sophomore. Caldwell also excelled in the classroom and was named academic all-state for track her sophomore through senior years and for cross country as a sophomore.

HIGH SCHOOL BESTS: 800-meters: 2:21; 1,600-meters: 4:55; 3,200-meters: 10:37.

IN THE CLASSROOM: Caldwell is majoring in accounting and owns a 3.86 GPA. She was named to the 2016 Pac-12 All-Academic First Team as a redshirt sophomore in 2016 and in 2017, was selected to the second team.

PERSONAL: Mackenzie Ann Caldwell was born on May 20, 1996 in Columbus, Ind. She is the daughter of Gary and Renee Caldwell and has two older brothers, Quinton and Raleigh. Caldwell enjoys camping, hiking and photography. She played the Oboe and earned the Symphonic March Most Improved (2010-11) and the Wind Ensemble Outstanding Attitude (2013-14) awards. Caldwell was also part of the Bull Dog News Network and earned MVP honors (2013-14) and the Spoke Award (2012-13).

IN THE CLASSROOM: Jones is a psychology and speech, language and hearing sciences double major. She owns a GPA greater than 3.00 and was selected to the Pac-12 All-Academic honorable mention team in 2016 and '17.

PERSONAL: Danielle 'Dani' Alex Jones was born on August 21, 1996 in Fort Wayne, Ind. to Darcy and Tana Jones, who both ran at Indiana State. She has one sister, Baylee, who is a member of the Colorado cross country and track and field team. She enjoys hiking and reading.

2017: Jones easily had the best cross country season of her career as a junior. She led the Buffs in four of its five varsity races, and picked up several awards and honors in the process. Jones started the season running unattached at the Colorado State Invitational, finishing fifth. In the first varsity meet of the season, Jones place third at the Joe Piane Invitational. She was third again at the NCAA Pre-National Invitational before going on to take the individual crown at the Pac-12 Championships, earning herself Pac-12 Female Cross Country Athlete Of The Year honors. With the victory, Jones became the first Buff, male or female, to win an individual Pac-12 Cross Country title. She was the first female to win a conference cross country title since 2009 when Jenny Barringer Simpson took home the Big 12 title. The NCAA Mountain Region Championship was the only race Jones did not led CU – there she tied for 12th with her teammate Sage Hurta – as the second and third Buffs to finish the race. Jones went on to finish 10th at the NCAA Championships, the best finish for a Buff since Shalaya Kipp's ninth place finish in 2013. Jones recorded all-region and All-America honors for her final two races.

2016: Jones had an outstanding sophomore season, starting right out of the gate. She was fourth overall (and fourth on the team) for CU at the Rocky Mountain Shootout, finishing in 20:17, the 11th fastest time in course history. Two weeks later at pre-nationals, Jones was third for the Buffs, placing

JOE KLECKER
Junior • 3L
Minnetonka, Minn.
(Hopkins)

2017: Klecker continued to impress for the Buffs as a sophomore. In the season opener, he was fifth at the Colorado State Invitational, but in the first varsity meet of the season, the Joe Plane Invitational, Klecker led the Buffs with a fourth place finish. Klecker would go on to lead the Buffs in the next three races. He was ninth at the NCAA Pre-National Invitational and earned a runner-up finish at the Pac-12 Championships, CU's best individual finish since joining the league in 2011. In the following race, the NCAA Mountain Region Championships, Klecker became the first Buff since Billy Nelson in 2005 to win the individual crown, crossing the 10k finish in 30:13.6. At the NCAA Championships, Klecker finished 67th as CU's third scorer.

2016: Klecker had an outstanding redshirt freshman season, picking up his first All-America and all-region honors. His season started at the CSU Invite where he placed fourth overall. Klecker clocked a second place finish at the Rocky Mountain Shootout, finishing just four seconds behind teammate John Dressel (who was racing unattached). The next race, pre-nationals, saw Klecker placing 24th (CU's No. 2), before earning a 19th place finish at Pac-12s as the Buffs fifth scorer. With his finish, the Buffs were able to capture their sixth straight conference title. He really excelled when the meets moved from 8k to 10k in the postseason. Klecker led the team at regionals, placing third overall. He ended his season 28th at nationals for his first All-America honor.

2015: Redshirt. Did not compete.

HIGH SCHOOL: Klecker captured two individual state championships his senior season and led the Royals to a third-place finish as a team at the Class AA state meet en route to earning the Gatorade Minnesota Boys Track & Field Athlete of the Year. Klecker set a state record in the 1,600-meter run with a time of 4:06.54 and also took first in the 3,200 in 8:57.76. A First Team All-State selection, he earned fourth-place in the mile at the prestigious Adidas Grand Prix, crossing the line in 4:04.13, which ranked as the nation's No. 5 performance among prep competitors in 2015 at the time of his selection. He was named to the USA Today All-America second team. In the fall of 2014, Klecker placed third at the Minnesota State High School Class AA State Cross Country Championships, finishing the course in 15:26.2. He owns HHS records in the 1,600, 3,200 and 5,000 on the cross country course.

HIGH SCHOOL BESTS: 800-meters: 1:56.44; Mile: 4:04.13; 1,600-meters: 4:06.54; 3,200-meters: 8:50.12.

IN THE CLASSROOM: Klecker is a biochemistry major and an ecology and evolutionary biology minor. He has recorded a GPA greater than 3.50 and was named to the 2016 and '17 Pac-12 All-Academic honorable mention team.

PERSONAL: Joseph Richard Klecker was born on November 16, 1996 in Minneapolis, Minn. He is the son of Barney and Janis Klecker of Minnetonka, Minn. His father owns the U.S. record for the 50 mile ultramarathon (4:51:25) and his mother competed at the 1992 Summer Olympics (marathon) and won two U.S. marathon national championships. Both ran track and cross country in college. Klecker is one of six children. Three of his siblings run at college: Mary at Augsburg, John at Augustana (S.D.), and Sarah at Minnesota. His two other siblings, Elizabeth and James, are in high school.

Big Fork, Mont.

(Big Fork/Montana)

2017: Morley had another solid season for the Buffs as a junior, starting with a third place (unattached) finish at the Colorado State Invitational. At the first varsity race of the season, she recorded a seventh-place finish and was CU's second harrier across the line. Morley placed 21st at the NCAA Pre-Nationals as CU's No. 3 runner before placing 15th at the Pac-12 Championships. Her finish helped the Buffs to their third straight team title. Morley led the Buffs at the NCAA Mountain Region Championship, placing seventh in the process to earn all-region honors. She finished the season with a 50th place finish at NCAAs, helping CU to a third-place team finish.

2016: Morley was a welcomed addition to CU as a sophomore and had a great season which included All-Pac-12 Second Team and All-Mountain Region honors. Morley's first uniformed race for CU was the Rocky Mountain Shootout. There she placed third overall, finishing with the eighth fastest time (20:11) in course history. Morley went on to take 26th at pre-nationals, finishing as CU's No. 4 runner. She helped CU win its second straight Pac-12 team title as the Buffs' No. 4 harrier, finishing ninth overall. Morley led CU at regionals, placing fourth overall and helping the Buffs to the team title. She just missed All-America honors at nationals, placing 43rd overall (CU's No. 6) as CU took third overall.

AT MONTANA: Morley ran one cross country season at Montana. She led the Grizzlies in her first meet, finished first at the UM Invite in 16:43. Morley's following meet was NCAA Pre-Nationals, where she placed 39th (20:40). In just the third race of her collegiate career, Morley came away with the Big Sky Championship, winning in 17:45. She went on to race at the NCAA Mountain Region Championship, taking eighth overall to qualify for NCAAs as an individual. Morley ended the season at nationals with a 97th place finish (20:49).

HIGH SCHOOL: Morley won several state championships spanning her high school career. As a senior, she won the 3,200-meter run (10:37.76) and she was also a member of the 4x400-meter relay team (4:01.71) with her younger sister, Bryn. Morley was also second in the 800 (2:16.70) and 1,600 (5:01.69) as well in 2014. During her junior year, she won the 800 (2:12.62), 1,600 (4:53.83) and 3,200 (10:58.85). Morley earned All-American distinction twice on the track. She placed fifth in the two-mile run at New Balance Indoor nationals and was second in the two-mile at New Balance Outdoor nationals in 2014. On the cross country course, Morley was a four-time state champion. She ran at the Foot Locker National Championship four years, placing third as a senior. Morley also represented Team USA in January, 2015, and won the Great Buppa Cross Country Championships in Scotland. She was a three-time All-American, earning first team honors in 2014 and second team recognition in 2011 and 13.

2017	Stanford (41)	2nd (47)	2. Joe Klecker

The 2011 teams were one of 14 to sweep both the men's and women's conference races. They also won the first two Pac-12 Championships in any sport. CU swept the championships again in 2015 and '16.

COLORADO'S NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Mary Decker
1978 (AIAW)

Tenth months after she bettered her own world record in the 1,000-meter run, Mary Decker won Colorado's first national cross country title in her last race, on CU's then-home course, Kent Denver Country Day.

Her course record 16:59.4 bettered the course record she had set earlier that year by a minute.

At the national championships she grabbed the lead from NC State's Julie Shea and defending national champion Kathy Mills of Penn State (who had led the race by as much as 20 yards going into the final loop). Shea passed Mills, and Decker passed Mills and kicked by Shea to win the race by 10 yards.

Mark Scrutton

Mark Scrutton took the lead 300 yards from the finish and beat Zakarie Barie of UTEP by two seconds for the NCAA men's title in Bloomington, Ind.

His first goal when he came to CU in 1980 was to dominate the Big Eight Conference. He did that to the tune of 14 conference titles, surpassing Kansas great Billy Cunningham's record 13 in the early 1930s.

He lost just one Big Eight race, the indoor two-mile run his freshman season. By his senior year he turned in the best two-mile indoor time in the NCAA in winning his second national title.

Shortly after winning that title, he set an unofficial world record in the Newport Beach Back Bay Run with a time of 22:25.8 over the 8k course.

Adam Goucher

The sign of things to come was on Nov. 21, 1994 when then-freshman Adam Goucher crossed the finish line of the NCAA Cross Country Championships in Fayetteville, Ark. as the national runner-up.

His sophomore year he finished sixth.

He redshirted the '96 season and improved to third in the national race as a junior in Greenville, S.C., a race he was predicted to win.

In the last race of his collegiate career, Goucher took the title that had eluded him for five seasons.

Goucher, buoyed by what he called an unbelievable crowd, bettered the Rim Rock Course Record in 29:26.9, 23 seconds ahead of Arizona's Abdi Abdiraham, who had kept pace with Goucher until the last mile when he pulled away from the field.

With the win, Goucher would become the first American to win the fall classic since Bob Kennedy won in 1992, and the first CU runner to complete the distance trifecta of winning national titles in cross country, the indoor and outdoor track seasons.

COLORADO'S NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Kara Grgas-Wheeler
2000

In the women's championship sweep, fifth-year senior Kara Grgas-Wheeler won CU's first individual title sans AIAW to complete the nation's only individual undefeated campaign. With the title, Grgas-Wheeler capped of a 1,035-0 season beating the next opponent by a total margin of 2:07.

She ran to a dominant finish on the Iowa State Cross Country Course in 20:30.5, 7.3 seconds ahead of the individual runner up in harsh conditions that included a temperature of 17 degrees with a wind chill of minus-19 at the start.

In textbook Colorado fashion, she trailed the lead pack by four seconds after the 1k mark. She had closed in by the 2-mile mark, never losing site of the defending national champion, Wisconsin's Erica Palmer, who was in the lead, but succumbing to the cold. Soon after Grgas-Wheeler bridged the gap, took the lead, and never looked back... until the final crest of the course where she glanced over her shoulder for the first time of the season and began to savor the sprint to the tape.

The title was her third, first in the fall. Her win marked the first time since 1994 that the individual national champion represented on the NCAA Championship Team.

Jorge Torres

With three NCAA runner-up finishes as a junior resting on his shoulders, Jorge Torres held off Arkansas' Allister Cragg in the final meters to cover the Wabash Valley Sports Center 10k challenge in a then-course record 29:04.7 and win his first national title.

In one of the best men's contests in recent memory, Cragg took the race's initial lead, but before the race reached the halfway point, it was a four-man battle between Torres, Cragg, Alabama's David Kimani and Eastern Michigan's Boaz Cheboiywo.

Torres took the lead from '01 champion Cheboiywo at the 7k mark with Cragg and Kimani hanging on, and at the 8k mark it was Torres and Cragg running shoulder to shoulder for the remainder of the race. With the pro-Torres crowd chanting "Torres, Torres", the two took the final turn into the straightaway and Torres made an unanswered surge to build a 10-meter lead at the finish line to close out the nation's only undefeated season and turn in his fifth course record in as many races.

With brother Ed just nine places behind him, the 1-10 punch was the best by a set of twins in the history of the championships.

Dathan Ritzenhein

Twenty-four months after finishing fourth in the 2001 NCAA Championships as a freshman, Dathan Ritzenhein crossed the finish line in Waterloo, Iowa as CU's fourth national champion in six seasons as a redshirt sophomore.

In temperatures that hovered below zero with the windchill factor. Ritzenhein outdistanced a heavily favored Stanford pack led by Ryan Hall in the closing meters to win his first NCAA crown in 29 minutes, 14 seconds, just 1.3 ahead of Hall for the crescendo in the nation's only unbeaten season.

The win marked just the fourth time and first since the 1989 and '90 seasons that two different runners from the same school took back-to-back titles, as Jorge Torres won the race in '02 in Terre Haute, Ind. It was also the first time since 1987 and '88 that Americans had won two straight individual titles and likely the first time that both scenarios have played out simultaneously.

Ritzenhein's rise as the best runner in the nation was even more impressive when considering he had resumed training 10 weeks earlier following femoral stress fractures suffered the previous cross and track seasons.

2000 NCAA CHAMPIONS

2000 Colorado Women

The 2000 women's cross country team upended the defending national champion to claim the program's first national title, the 18th overall at CU.

Coming off back-to-back team titles at the Big 12 and NCAA Mountain Region Championships, Colorado was the top-ranked team in the country entering the biggest race of the year. As is its goal each year, Colorado wanted to better its ranking, which would now be the biggest challenge in the program's history.

Up for the challenge in wind-chill conditions that brought the late Midwest November temperature to 19-degrees below zero, Colorado methodically worked its way from the back of the pack to the front for the title. With a program-best 117 points, the Buffs finished 50 ahead of defending national champion Brigham Young.

Kara Grgas-Wheeler won the program's first individual crown while freshman Sara Gorton became the second-highest finishing freshman in the race and highest in program history with an eighth place effort. Jodie Hughes locked up All-American honors with a 30th-place effort while Lesley Higgins (52nd) and Tera Moody (71st) rounded out the CU scoring.

In the championship sweep, Grgas-Wheeler won CU's first individual title sans AIAW to complete the nation's only undefeated campaign. With the title, Grgas-Wheeler capped off a 1,035-0 season repeating her Big 12 Conference and Mountain Region titles before capturing her third national title, first in the fall. Her win marked the first time since 1994 that the individual national champion was represented on the NCAA Championship team.

2001 NCAA CHAMPIONS

2001 Colorado Men

Dathan Ritzenhein, Jon Severy, Steve Slattery

The No. 1 ranked team in the country from the preseason polls to the national championship podium, the 2001 men's season came to a crescendo with a one-point national championship victory over nemesis Stanford in Greenville, S.C. to bring home to the University its 19th national championship, the last remaining title that had previously eluded Colorado's storied distance program.

The Buffs' successful run at the national title capped off the program's first undefeated season in which they were uncontested at the Rocky Mountain Shootout in Boulder, won their sixth straight Big 12 Conference title in Norman, Okla., claimed their ninth national qualifying race in 10 seasons and improved from their runner-up finish in 2000 at the national championships.

The one-point difference, 90-91, in the final score was the tightest in race history, tying the Villanova men's 1970 85-86 win over Oregon.

The Buffs were paced by a pair of top-10 individual performances in the run to the title. Among the favorites to win the individual national title, junior Jorge Torres made no secret about his intentions to sacrifice an individual crown for the team title, and finished as the individual runner-up in his quest. Big 12 Conference Newcomer of the Year Dathan Ritzenhein finished fourth and was the highest finishing freshman in a national championship race since Adam Goucher's second-place finish in 1994.

Junior Ed Torres improved 12 places from the previous year's national runner-up race to finish 15th for his second All-American certificate. Steve Slattery battled back from a mid-season injury before going on to score as the Buffs' fourth runner, 28th overall. Senior captain Sean Smith, was the final factor in clinching the title as CU's No. 5 runner, 56th overall.

Fifth-year senior Aaron Blondeau who had competed in four NCAA Championship races since his 1997 freshman year, sat out the first two meets of the season due to injury before marking his return five weeks before the NCAA Championships where he came in as CU's sixth runner in the national championship win.

Redshirt freshman Jon Severy reaped the benefits of his redshirt season in 2000 solidifying his role on the NCAA Championship travel squad where he came in as the Buffs' final runner.

With his fourth NCAA cross country title since becoming head coach in 1995, head coach Mark Wetmore became the first coach in the history of the championship to win a men's individual title (Adam Goucher, 1997), women's individual title (Kara Grgas-Wheeler in 2000), women's team title (2000) and men's team crown at one school.

2004 NCAA CHAMPIONS

2004 Colorado Women

In a championship where the team needed to run a perfect race, the Colorado women got the ball rolling when the then third-ranked Buffs did just that to claim the first of two titles on the day, their first since the 2000 season.

The women, paced by Renee Metivier's second career national runner-up finish, placed all five runners in the top-30, to score a program best 63 points (it took 117 to win in '00), 81 points ahead of runner-up Duke (144), Providence (164), Notre Dame (170) and pre-race favorite Stanford (175). The margin was the fourth largest in championship history.

An already damp and slightly heavy course on Sunday was worsened by overnight and early morning rains that subsided by the start of the women's race and the skies were clear for the start of the men's, conditions that obviously played in favor of the Buffs.

With Kim Smith (Providence) in control of the individual title, the team title was up for grabs as early as the halfway mark. Smith was running a 9:52.7 pace at the 3k mark, followed by Metivier (10:05) and BYU's Laura Turner (10:14), with just four points separating the Buffs and Stanford at that mark, with Slattery in 16th and Bolf in 18th, followed by Duke and Providence.

The pleasant surprise for the day on the women's team was that of freshman Liza Pasciuto. Pasciuto finished as CU's No. 2 runner for the first time in her career, and her 13th place finish is the second best by a CU freshman in program history, second only to Sara (Gorton) Slattery's eighth place freshman effort in '00.

"Coming in I was trying my best to try and score and help the team achieve the goals that we set at the beginning of the season," said Pasciuto. "But I'm definitely thrilled with my finish. I couldn't have asked for more. I hope to come back next year and do it again."

Christine Bolf (20:48.1) ran to her first All-American title in the fall with a 14th place finish, a career best for the junior that finished 63rd a year ago. In the final race of her collegiate career, fifth-year senior Sara Slattery finished 28th and came away as an All-American for the third time in her career, just the second CU harrier to do so, following current assistant coach Heather Burroughs (1994, 95, 98). She is also now the only runner in the program's storied history to be a member of two national championship teams, as she was a freshman on that 2000 squad.

Natalie Florence (21:07.2) rounded out CU's scoring, finishing 30th overall for her second All-American title. In her first national championship, freshman Amber Smith (21:44.3) finished 78th overall. Laura Zeigle (23:18.1) finished 224th.

"Our race plan was to try and be patient and not fight the conditions (which changed dramatically overnight). By the 600-m mark they had over-ruled my plan and my hope was that they held on. They kept going, so I'm glad that they overlooked my instructions," said Wetmore.

2004 Colorado Men

Not to be outdone by their counterparts, the Colorado men capped what would be the best day in the program's storied history with their second title in four years.

The men's race was a battle for both the individual and team titles from the start of the race. At the halfway mark, a lead pack of 10-plus runners were separated by one second with Arkansas' Josphat Boit in the lead at 15:16.1 and the 10th place runner at 15:17.1, with Vaughn (15:25) in 15th and Schoolmeester (15:26) in 19th. Vaughn had taken sole possession of fourth place at the 8k turn, having caught 13 runners in a 3k span, while Schoolmeester chased down 12. At that point, Wisconsin had control of the team race with 80 points to Arkansas' 160, followed by Colorado.

Senior Jon Severy became the first men's runner in the program's history to have run on two national title teams. Classmate Jared Scott was on the team that season, but did not run at nationals. He was also a freshman in '01 and ran the final cross country race of his career here this afternoon. It happen to be the best of his career, covering the 10k loop in 31:26.9 to finish 21st.

Severy made up as much ground as anyone Monday, as he was 39th at the halfway mark, and 25th at 8k, running down 18 in his final race.

"It was an incredible note to start on," said Severy. "I was carried through a little bit on that 2001 team and it gave me a false sense of what it meant to be on a good team. Since then, I've sunk pretty low and learned an incredible amount of what is necessary to sacrifice for your team and carry it out. Today was just so perfect that I can't describe it."

Newcomers Stephen Pifer and James Strang rounded out the scoring for the CU men, with Pifer running 31:56.8 to finish 44th while Strang ran 31:59.9 to finish 49th. Jared Scott, also running in the last cross country race of his career, was off his junior year pace, but finished 80th in 32:25.0. Freshman Bradley Harkrader, who had scored during the season as CU's third, fourth and fifth runner, finished 121st in 32:50.7 in his first national championship event. While five native Coloradans ran in the men's race, three scored.

"The front two ran as well as I thought they possibly could and Jon ran way better than I would have expected. All of the five scorers ran better than my most optimistic aspirations. And with Stephen, James and Bradley, all freshmen, the sky is the limit," said Wetmore.

2006 NCAA CHAMPIONS

2006 Colorado Men

The second-ranked Colorado men headed into the 2006 championship knowing the race was theirs to lose. The muddy conditions were just like those two years before when the Buffs captured their second national title and gave Colorado extra confidence as the race approached.

The field got out to a quicker start than CU normally likes and was led most of the way by Brent Vaughn. Vaughn finished 12th overall (31:13.0), earning his second straight top-15 finish at nationals and the second straight time he was CU's first harrier across the finish.

While Vaughn ran a steady race, the men's win can be traced to Pifer's performance over the second 5,000-meters. At the 5k split, he had 52 runners ahead of him, but streaked past 32 of them to nab the 20th spot overall (31:24.2) in the individual standings and his second All-American title.

"I knew in the second half I had to come back and catch a lot of guys," Pifer said. "So I paid attention to sensory data, which is something that Mark Wetmore has been preaching to us all year, checking your heart rate and breathing and things like that to make sure you are comfortable. The race doesn't really start until the last 3k, so you really have to get going."

Erik Heinonen had a story book year after receiving a sixth-year of eligibility from the NCAA for the season. He was the third Buff to cross the line, placing a personal best 28th overall (31:34.7), and earning his first All-American honor.

James Strang took 47th (31:54.5) and Billy Nelson, who passed over 15 in the last 1,000-meters, took 56th (32:02.7). Bradley Harkrader came in at 152nd (33:05.3) and Pete Janson was 213th (33:56.5) as Colorado's non-scorers.

CU's five scorers all finished in the top 56 overall, and in the top 34 of those attached to full teams. CU and Wisconsin were the only schools to have three place in the top 15 in the scoring column.

The Buffaloes recorded 94 points, soundly defeating defending champion and overwhelming favorite Wisconsin by 48 points. Iona (172), Stanford (195) and Oregon (196) rounded out the top five.

"I think the race was very fast for us," head coach Mark Wetmore said. "Every coach has to know their team and how fast they can go. If other teams ran our way, it would certainly hurt them, like if would if we ran another team's plan. We don't talk a lot about expectations, its aspirations for us. We equaled our aspirations today."

"We did well here a couple of years ago too and everyone was telling me that the mud was perfect for us, but Boulder is like a desert and isn't very muddy."

Vaughn, Harkrader, Pifer and Strang joined Jon Severy as the only Buffs to win two national titles.

2013 NCAA CHAMPIONS

2013 Colorado Men

Through cold, windy and muddy conditions, the No. 3 ranked University of Colorado men's cross country team once again proved to be the top team in the land as they claimed the 2013 NCAA Cross Country team title, their fourth since 2001.

The Buffs soundly defeated top-ranked Northern Arizona (149-169) for the team crown after losing to NAU just eight days ago at the regional meet by eight points. Oklahoma State, the reigning NCAA Champions and ranked second team, was an overwhelming favorite heading into the race, and placed third with 230 points. BYU was fourth (267) and Oregon took fifth overall (274).

"I like it that people said that we were over ranked after the conference meet and after regionals," head coach Mark Wetmore said. "That adds a little bit to the enjoyment of winning today."

The team took a conservative start to the race and was 10th overall after the first 3,000-meters, but that didn't last long as the Buffs jumped up seven positions to third at the midway point behind NAU and BYU. CU kept moving up and by the 8k was only 19 points behind NAU. Over the course of the remaining 2k, the Buffs overtook NAU for the win.

CU was led by true freshman Ben Saarel with an eighth-place finish, finishing in 30:14.1. It is the highest finish for a Buff since Richard Medina placed eighth in 2011. With the finish, Saarel became the first true freshman to earn All-American honors since assistant coach and Olympian Billy Nelson at the 2002 championship. That year Nelson placed 42nd overall.

"Ben was one of the best high school runners in American just six months ago," Wetmore said. "We knew he was a big talent, but the NCAA Cross Country Championship is a killer race with a lot of mature, developed young men. For him to be eighth overall is indicative of his talent."

Colorado did quite well in the unfriendly conditions, placing four of its five scorers in the top-40, which earned each of them All-American honors. Morgan Pearson was CU's No. 2 scorer, coming in at 17th overall (30:35.0). Theroux finished 23rd overall, improving from a 39th-place finish in 2012, to record his second All-American cross country honor (30:34.6). Pierce Murphy was the fourth runner for the Buffs and he was 39th (30:44.9); improving from 45th place last year. This was Pearson and Murphy's first All-American honor.

Rounding out the team scoring and clinching the team title for CU was Ammar Moussa, who placed 95th overall as CU's fifth runner. He finished in 31:17.1. Moussa also won a national championship with his high school team in 2010 to become one of the first men to win a high school and collegiate national championship.

Although they didn't score, Zach Perrin and Connor Winter also raced for CU at the meet. Perrin placed 107th (31:23.3) and Winter was 177th (32:02.2). Oregon's Edward Chesarek was the individual winner, finishing in 29:41.1.

2014 NCAA CHAMPIONS

2014 Colorado Men

The University of Colorado entered the NCAA Championship as the top team in the country and lived up to the hype as it did all year. The Buffs put together a score of 65, placing all five of its scorers in the top 40, three in the top 10, to earn All-American honors. The team score is the lowest score since 2005 when Wisconsin won with 37 points. The team runner-up, Stanford, tallied 98 points and Portland was third with 175. Oregon's Edward Cheserek won his second straight individual title in 30:19.4.

"This is probably our best team ever," head coach Mark Wetmore said. "Again, I had the team that came here with Jorge [Torres] who won and the team that followed it and great other individuals who were followed by good teams but not winners. Certainly, this is the best third, fourth and fifth we've ever had and certainly I think it's the best team score that we've ever had. So, they are real good and they belong in the pantheon.

"I'm really proud of those guys," Wetmore went on to say. "It's hard to be the favorites, it's so hard to have the attention. It's so hard for nine or ten 21-year-old men to keep their egos in check and they really did it. They were talking each other up the whole time. I think any one would have sacrificed his day to have a bad day if it would have meant six good days for his teammates. So, that's the biggest feeling I have. Pride, not for me but pride for them."

Only four teams have won the NCAA Championship in the last 10 years and three of those schools have now won back-to-back titles. Oregon won the title in 2007 and 08, and Oklahoma State took home back-to-back titles in 2009 and 10.

Junior Ammar Moussa led CU with a top-five finish to earn his first All-American honor, finishing in 30:29.6. Two other Buffs have top-10 positions. Sophomore Ben Saarel was seventh (30:30.7) and senior Blake Theroux was ninth (30:31.3).

CU's other two scorers were junior Connor Winter (24th, 30:45.0) and junior Pierce Murphy (35th, 30:51.7). Senior Jake Hurysz finished just behind those two, finishing 41st overall (32:57.6). Redshirt freshman Adam Peterman also ran for CU and placed 202nd (32:36.8).

"It went how I wanted," Wetmore said. "We started out a little slower than I would have guessed but our fellas put themselves in a good position and were smart and patient. As I said yesterday, they were willing to sacrifice individual races for the team goal and some of them may have today. Ammar did amazing. I think that was a wonderful race for Ammar [Moussa]. Ben [Saarel] has had a difficult season trying to get completely healthy and I think he had a great race today. Blake was good. Everybody was good. Out of the men and the women, I can't think of a disappointing race which is so hard to do here."

Moussa and Winter earned their first All-American honors with the finish, while this is the second honor for Saarel and Murphy. Theroux became just the 11th Buff in CU history to earn the honor three times.

FROM WALK-ON TO ALL-AMERICAN

There's something magical in the air at 5,345 feet above sea level. It's something that contributes to developing blue collar, walk-on athletes into All-Americans at Colorado. Combining its reputation of academics and athletics, the coaching staff at CU has had incredible success with non-recruited athletes that have had the drive, determination and work ethic to become All-Americans.

JAY CLECKLER • 1991 Walk-on- 1994 Cross Country All-American

Jay Cleckler, was conceivably one of the hardest working guys on the '94 squad. He had begun his collegiate career as walk-on competing in only one meet, which progressed to four meets as a sophomore, which he matched his junior season. He came into his own during his senior campaign when he scored in all six varsity races, including the Big Eight Championships, the NCAA District VII qualifier and the NCAA Championships where he ran his first All-American race.

JON COOPER • 1993 Walk-on- 1994, 1995 Cross Country All-American

Cooper made an immediate impact on the Colorado men's cross country squad when he walked on after transferring from Rice. In his first season he traveled to the NCAA Championships as an alternate, but did not compete. A year later he finished 33rd of 178 runners for his first all-American honor. In 1995's national championship race, he was Colorado's fourth finisher, 48th overall to repeat his All-American title.

MIKE FRIEDBERG • 1996 Walk-on- 1998, 1999 Cross Country All-American

In 1996 Mike Friedberg ran in three races. He redshirted the 1997 season and a year later he was one of only three runners to compete in all six races, he finished eighth in the season opener at Colorado State, third at the Rocky Mountain Shootout, 32nd at the loaded Bob Timmons Invite, third at the Big 12 Championships, fifth at the Mountain Region Championships and ran to his first All-American title with a 34th place effort at the national championships. In 1999 he was CU's No. 3 runner during the season, but experienced prevailed and was CU's No. 1 guy at the NCAA Championships in Bloomington and was No. 2 a year later.

PIERCE MURPHY • 2011 Walk-on— 2013, 14, 15 Cross Country All-American/2015, 16 Indoor 5,000-m All-American/2016 Indoor 3,000-m All-American/2015, 16 10,000-m All-American

In his first collegiate season, 2011, Murphy redshirted but raced unattached at the Rocky Mountain Shootout. In 2012, he placed fourth overall at the Rocky Mountain Shootout as CU's No. 4 runner. Murphy also placed 14th at Pac-12s, was 19th at regionals and 45th at NCAAs. He earned his first All-American honor in 2013, placing 39th at NCAAs to help CU win the team title. That same year, Murphy placed seventh at Pac-12s and led the Buffs with a fifth place finish at regionals. As a junior, he had another great season, finishing seventh at Pac-12s, 12th at regionals and 35th at NCAAs as the Buffs won the team title again. Later that year (2015) on the track, he placed sixth in the 5k at indoor nationals and was fifth at outdoor nationals in the 10k. Murphy finished his cross country career strong that following fall, placing third overall at NCAAs. He led the Buffs at all five varsity meets, which included winning the Rocky Mountain Shootout. Murphy's final track season didn't disappoint in 2016. He recorded a pair of All-America indoor honors in the 3k and 5k, finishing fifth and third, respectively, while at outdoor NCAAs, Murphy raced to a fourth place finish in the 10k to earn his eighth All-America award.

MATT NAPIER • 1995 Walk-on— 1997 Cross Country All-American

In his first collegiate season Napier competed in the Shootout and at the Fort Hays State Invitational. As a sophomore, he scored in two of the three postseason races. Originally scheduled to redshirt his junior season, he was forced into action late in the season due to team injuries. In his first race, Oct. 18, he finished third overall at the Tiger Invitational. In the postseason he finished 11th in the league championships and was the individual runner-up, at the Mountain Region Championships. His third season culminated in his first all-America certificate at the NCAA Championships with a 39th-place finish.

PATTY ROBERTS • 1992 Walk-on-1995 Indoor 5,000-m All-American/1994, 1995 Cross Country All-American

Roberts didn't compete in cross until her second season. A year later she was the individual runner-up at the Big Eight Championships and an All-American with a 13th-place finish at the NCAA championships. She took the individual conference title in '96 and followed up with a 32nd-place effort at the NCAAs for her second all-America cross country honor. 1995 continued to be a success on the track where she was an indoor 5k and outdoor 10k All-American.

SHAYNE WILLE • 1995 Walk-on-1996 Indoor 3,000-m All-American/1997 Outdoor 3,000-m All-American

A transfer from Vermont in 1995, Wille failed to make the Buffs' seven-person roster that would compete at the NCAA Cross Country Championships. Three months later she was an all-American in the indoor 3k. During the 1996 fall season, she was Colorado's No. 2 runner, and although she competed in all three postseason race, just missed all-American status at the national championships with a 45th place effort. She set her sights again on the track where she was the Big 12 indoor champion in both the mile and 3,000-m distances and an all-American in the latter. The outdoor season would prove even better where she repeated her conference titles, and she earned her second all-American honor in the outdoor 3,000-m with a third place, school-record finish of 9:06.86.

SEAN SMITH • 1998 Walk-on, 2000 All-American

Smith ran in three non-varsity races in 1998 with a pair of top 20 finishes at the Fort Hays Tiger Invitational and NIKE 3 Series race. In 1999 he went into the national championships with five races under his belt. He earned all-conference and all-region honors before finishing in the top half of the NCAA Championship field. On All-American pace from the first race of the 2000 season, he would score in all five varsity contests, repeat his all-conference and all-region honors with career-best efforts before finishing 44th for the last All-American certificate doled out in Ames, Iowa.

POST COLLEGIATE SUCCESS

Here at CU we are no more proud of the successes of present Buffs than we are of those who went on to the next level. Frankly, we don't believe there is another college program in the country that can boast as many national level professionals.

During the tenure of Coach Wetmore, numerous graduates of the Buff distance program have gone on to professional contracts. Seven are currently active. Ten have been Olympians and two have won Olympic Bronze Medals. Twenty-eight have made World Championship Track or Cross Country teams. Eighteen made World teams while still running for CU.

It's a tradition of excellence.

RUNNING TOWN, USA

The CU men's track and field team won the 2008 Big 12 Outdoor Championship while the Buffs hosted the meet in May of 2008.

For 30 years, world class athletes and running enthusiasts have known what the media recently discovered: Boulder is the best running town in the United States. Runner's World has dubbed Boulder, "America's Best Running City" and an "Ideal Location for Runners", while Outside Magazine proclaims it, "The Best Sports Town in America".

These accolades come as no surprise to the host of national and international athletes who have made Boulder their training base. During the 1970's and 1980's, Boulder was home to world record holders such as Steve Jones, Ingrid Kristiansen, Rob de Castella, and Arturo Barrios, as well as Olympic Champions Frank Shorter and Rosa Mota.

The list of contemporary runners who live and train in Boulder is equally impressive: 2000 Olympic Marathon Champion Naoko Takahashi, 2008 Olympic Marathon Champion Constantina Dita-Tomescu, multiple Japanese corporate teams and U.S.-based Kenyan road racers. Numerous CU national and world level alumni have trained in the Boulder area during the last four Olympiads. They include Olympians Jenny (Barringer) Simpson, Alan Culpepper, Shayne Culpepper, Billy Nelson, Jorge Torres, Kara Goucher, Emma Coburn, Shalaya Kipp and Dathan Ritzenhein.

These athletes are drawn to Boulder by the unparalleled variety of training venues, temperate year-round climate, opportunity to train at elevation, and support of a running-friendly community that enters 54,000-plus in its Memorial Day road race. Boulder has over 200 miles of running and biking trails and more than 30,000 acres of open space. The vast availability of trails is matched only by the variability of their terrain. All are within a 20 minute drive of CU's campus. In the mountains and foothills west of town are venues such as the Mesa Trail, Switzerland Trail, Magnolia Road, Gold Hill, and Flagstaff Mountain. Adjacent to campus is the 12-mile Boulder Creek Path which connects to Sanitas Mountain, the Bobolink trail, and the Wonderland Lake trailheads. East of town are Teller Farm and the Boulder Reservoir ("The Res") which connect to dozens of miles of dirt roads and trails.

The University of Colorado's outdoor track, Potts Field, is one of the best competition venues in the country. It features NCAA/IAAF specification parallel approaches for the long jump, triple jump, pole vault and high jump as well as a world-class remote hammer and discus venue. Potts Field has the highest Mondo Super-X installation in the country, thus making it potentially the fastest sprint track in the U.S.

Boulder's climate makes it an ideal year-round training base. The average high temperature during winter months is 49 degrees, while summer months average a high of 83 degrees with negligible humidity. Boulder residents enjoy over 300 sunny days a year—more than residents of San Diego or Miami.

Besides the aforementioned Boulder Boulder, there are well-organized races virtually every weekend: the Boulder Backroads Marathon and Half Marathon, 5K Kickoff Classic, West End 3K, Pearl Street Mile, Rocky Mountain Shootout, Uni-Hill Downtown 1K, Sunrise Stampede 10K, and Boulder Roadrunners All-Comers Track Series.

In February of 2007, Boulder hosted the USA Cross Country Championships which selected our national teams for the IAAF World Championships in Mombasa, Kenya. The crowd of 10,000 spectators was estimated to exceed the combined attendance of the previous five national championships. Former USA Track and Field President Bill Roe remarked, "As usual, every time I come to Boulder I'm blown away." Deena Kastor, 19-time U.S. champion, captured her eighth cross country title and said, "This was, hands down, the most amazing national championship I've been a part of." Beyond the attendance, the most compelling story of the day was arguably the success of CU's alumni: former Buffaloes swept the top four places in the men's senior race while two former NCAA champion Buffaloes qualified for the senior women's team. The USATF returned to Boulder in 2014 and '15 for the the USA Cross Country Championships, which again were two of the best attended meets.

In May of 2008, the University of Colorado hosted the Big 12 Conference Track and Field Championships. This three-day competition was one of the most prestigious and competitive meets in the country and featured NCAA champions, World Championship Team members and 2008 Olympians. During the competition, ten Big 12 meet records were broken and two world-leading marks were established. The three-day attendance of over 5,000 cheered the Colorado men to the team title in a victory over No. 1 ranked Texas A&M. The Buffs hosted the 2013 Pac-12 Cross Country Championship in 2013 in Louisville, Colo. at Coal Creek Golf Course. The CU men won the meet for the third straight year in front of a crowd of just over 5,000, while the CU women took second by just six points.

Summer or winter, cross country or track season, workout day or racing day, for the weekend warrior or the Olympian, Boulder presents the ideal environment. While other cities may claim occasional weekends of running enthusiasm, Boulder is inarguably the year-round "Running Town, USA".

MINDS TO MATCH OUR MOUNTAINS

RANKINGS

- “Best College Town in America” by Business Insider in July, 2017
- Named “Smartest City in America” by Forbes Magazine in Feb. , 2008
- U.S. News and World Report ranked the Boulder campus 32nd out of the top 50 public universities in the country and highest in the Rocky Mountain Region in its 2005 rankings. The same publication ranked CU as the 74th best national university of 115 schools ranked.
- CU-Boulder was ranked a “Best Buy” in the 2004 edition of the Fiske Guide to Colleges receiving a four-start rating (out of five) for academics and five stars each for the social life and quality of life ratings.
- Seven graduate school specialty programs were ranked in the top 20 in the nation in the 2004 U.S. News & World Report graduate school rankings.
- Three faculty members have received Nobel Prizes: Thomas Cech of chemistry and biochemistry in 1989 Nobel Prize in chemistry and Carl Wieman and Eric Cornell of JILA and physics won the 2001 Nobel Prize in physics.
- The Boulder campus was ranked fourth in a review of the 50 “most architecturally successful campuses in the country in The Campus as a Work of Art by Thomas Gaines.
- Colorado has held company with Brown, Stanford and Virginia as one of the four most outstanding universities in the United States based on academics and quality of life.
- Colorado ranked second in Outside magazine’s 40 Best Colleges in 2003 “turning out smart grads with top-notch academic credentials, a healthy environmental ethos and an A+ sense of adventure.”

“The University of Colorado, and Boulder, is a town which stops where the Rocky Mountains begin. Normally in America such a superb site would be occupied by a golf course, but somebody goofed and instead they built what may be the most beautifully situated campus in the world. . . if anyone asks you to Boulder, I have one word of advice: ‘Go.’”

THE PAC-12 CONFERENCE

Conference History

The roots of the Pac-12 Conference date back more than 100 years, to December 2, 1915, when the Pacific Coast Conference (PCC) was founded at a meeting at the Imperial Hotel in Portland, Ore. The original membership consisted of four schools - the University of California at Berkeley, the University of Washington, the University of Oregon, and Oregon Agricultural College (now Oregon State University). All four are still charter members of the Conference.

Pacific Coast Conference play began in 1916 and, one year later, Washington State College (now Washington State University) was accepted into the league, with Stanford University following in 1918.

In 1922, the PCC expanded to eight teams with the admission of the University of Southern California (USC) and the University of Idaho. In 1924, the University of Montana joined the league roster and in 1928, the PCC grew to 10 members with the addition of UCLA.

The Pacific Coast Conference competed as a 10-member league until 1950, with the exception of 1943-45 when World War II curtailed intercollegiate athletic competition to a minimum. During that time, the league's first commissioner was named. Edwin N. Atherton was Commissioner in 1940 and was succeeded by Victor O. Schmidt in 1944. In 1950, Montana resigned from the Conference and the PCC continued as a nine-team Conference through 1958.

In 1959, the PCC was dissolved and the Athletic Association of Western Universities (AAWU) was formed with Thomas J. Hamilton appointed Commissioner of the new league. The original AAWU membership included California, Stanford, USC, UCLA, and Washington. Washington State joined the membership in 1962, while Oregon and Oregon State joined in 1964. Under Hamilton's watch, the name Pacific-8 Conference was adopted in 1968. In 1971, Wiles Hall lock took over as Commissioner of the Pac-8.

Ten years later, on July 1, 1978, the University of Arizona and Arizona State University were admitted to the league and the Pacific-10 Conference became a reality. In 1986-87, the league took on a new look, expanding to include 10 women's sports. Since then, the Conference has been considered the premier league in women's athletics, securing the most NCAA titles in women's sports of any conference nearly every year.

Thomas C. Hansen was named the Commissioner of the Pac-10 in 1983, a role he would hold for 26 years until 2009, when he was succeeded by current Commissioner Larry Scott.

The University of Colorado accepted its invitation to join the Pac-12 on June 11, 2010, and on June 17, 2010, the University of Utah agreed to join the Conference. The Buffaloes and Utes officially became the 11th and 12th members of the Conference on July 1, 2011, the first additions to the league since 1978.

It was during the 2010-11 academic year that Scott helped deliver monumental changes that transformed the Conference into a modern 12-team league. In addition to expanding to 12 teams, member institutions agreed to equal revenue sharing for the first time in the Conference's history, created two football divisions - the North and the South, and established a Football Championship Game for the first time. He also secured landmark media rights deals with ESPN and FOX that dramatically increased national exposure and revenue for each school, in addition to establishing Pac-12 Networks which guaranteed enhanced exposure across all sports.

Currently, the Pac-12 sponsors 11 men's sports and 13 women's sports, with women's lacrosse a new addition for the 2017-18 academic year and beach volleyball having been added in 2015-16. Additionally, the Conference is a member of the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation (MPSF) in four other men's sports and two women's sports.

The Pac-12 Conference offices are located in the heart of San Francisco in the SOMA district.

Conference of Champions

Built on a firm foundation of academic excellence and superior athletic performance, the Pac-12 Conference renewed its undisputed claim as the Conference of Champions® in 2017-18. Beyond the courts and fields, the Pac-12's accomplishments extend into the classrooms across 12 campuses, and outside its traditional geographic footprint into new corners around the world.

The only conference to win 500 NCAA Championships, the Pac-12 once again led the nation in 2017-18 with 12 NCAA crowns. This haul adds to an incredible 175 NCAA team titles claimed since 1999-2000 and 317 since 1981-82, the start of women's sports sponsorship, an average of over nine per year. Even more impressive has been the breadth of the Pac-12's success with championships coming in 28 different men's and women's sports. The Pac-12 has led or tied the nation in NCAA Championships in 52 of the last 58 years, the only exceptions being in 1980-81, 1988-89, 1990-91 and 1995-96 when the Conference finished second, and only twice finished third in 1998-99 and 2004-05.

For the 13th-consecutive year, the Pac-12 had the most, or tied for the most, NCAA titles of any conference in the country, winning at least six every year since 2000-01. No other conference has won double-digit NCAA crowns in a single year, the Pac-12 doing so 10 times, including a record 14 in 1996-97.

Spanning over a century of outstanding athletics achievements, the Pac-12 has claimed 513 NCAA Championships (300 men's, 183 women's, 30 combined), over 200 more than the next league.

Pac-12 members have won 300 NCAA team championships on the men's side, 83 more than the next-closest conference. Men's NCAA crowns have come at a phenomenal rate for the Pac-12 - 16 basketball titles by six schools, 54 tennis titles, 47 outdoor track & field crowns, and 29 baseball titles. Pac-12 members have won 25 of 48 NCAA titles in volleyball, 44 of 49 in water polo, 30 in skiing, and 24 in swimming & diving national championships.

Individually, the Conference has produced an impressive number of NCAA individual champions. Over 2,000 (2,334) individual crowns have been won by Pac-12 student-athletes over the years with 1,370 by male student-athletes. Student-athletes have also captured 186 individual titles at combined championships (i.e., skiing and fencing).

On the women's side, the story is much the same. Since the NCAA began conducting women's championships 37 years ago, Pac-12 members have claimed at least four national titles in a single season on 27 occasions, including a current streak of 18-consecutive years, dating back to 2000. Overall, the Pac-12 has captured 183 NCAA women's titles, easily outdistancing the SEC, which is second with 100. Pac-12 members have dominated a number of sports, winning 23 softball titles, 24 tennis crowns, 15 volleyball titles, 19 of the last 29 trophies in golf, and 16 in swimming & diving.

Pac-12 women student-athletes shine nationally on an individual basis, as well, having captured an unmatched 778 NCAA individual crowns, an average of over 21 championships per season, including 29 in 2017-18.

SUPPORT STAFF

Cory Harbor - Academic Counselor - Second Season

Cory Harbor is in his second year as an assistant director of academics in the Herbst Academic Center, working with the cross country and track & field programs. Prior to his arrival at Colorado, he was an academic advisor at Northwestern (2013-2016). Harbor also worked as an academic counselor at Illinois (2011-2013) and Missouri State (2010-2011). A four-year letterwinner on the football team at MSU, Harbor earned his bachelor's degree in sports administration in 2008 and his master's in sports administration in 2009. He is currently finalizing his MBA at MSU as well. Harbor and his wife, Nicole, have one son, Luca. He enjoys working out, being outside, playing basketball, reading and spending time with family.

MT Eisner - Assistant Sports Performance Coach - Sixth Season

MT Eisner joined the Colorado Sports Performance staff in September of 2013 after spending just over a year at the University of Denver as a part-time assistant coach, working with all 17 Division I programs. She graduated from Fairfield University in 2008 with a bachelor's degree in communication and journalism and went on to receive her master's degree in sports medicine with a specialization in strength and conditioning from UC-Colorado Springs in 2013. While attending Fairfield, she earned four letters in soccer and was named to the First Team All-MAAC in 2007 and 2008. Her team was the MAAC Champion in 2005 and represented the conference in the NCAA Tournament that same season. Eisner has certifications in CSCS (certified strength and conditioning specialist), USA Weightlifting Level 1 and CPR/AED. She graduated from Arapahoe High School in 2004 where she lettered in soccer. Eisner also enjoys playing tennis and running. The former MT Church is married to Justin Eisner and the couple has two sons, Sutter and Calder.

Kimberly Detwiler - Assistant Athletic Trainer - Second Season

Kimberly Detwiler is in her second year as an assistant athletic trainer for the cross country and track and field team at Colorado. She joins the staff at CU after spending the last seven years at Texas where she worked with the softball team. Detwiler earned her bachelor's degree in athletic training from San Diego State in 2005 and received her master's degree in athletic training from Oregon in 2007. She has served the National Athletic Trainers' Association (NATA) in various capacities. Most notably, Detwiler served as the inaugural chair for the NATA's Young Professionals' Committee and various other groups including VisionQuest, work-life balance position statement writing team and Strategic Implementation Team. In addition to this service, she also enjoys giving presentations and writing articles related to the field of athletic training. In her free time, Detwiler enjoys cycling, running, hiking, camping, writing and reading. She also enjoys traveling, especially back home to California to see her family.

Tim Horton - Assistant Equipment Manager - 18th Season

Tim Horton is his 26th year at CU, his 18th as the assistant equipment manager for Olympic Sports, as he joined the CU staff in the fall of 1992. His primary duties at Colorado are handling the equipment needs for the non-revenue sports, along with helping the football program on game day. The student-athletes selected him as the 2002-03 Staff Member of the Year for his contributions and time dedicated to the success of the members of CU's 17 intercollegiate programs, presenting him with the honor at the 2003 CUSPY's. He graduated from the University of Northern Colorado in 1979, earning a bachelor's of science degree in business administration and marketing. He was a member of the Bears' ski team while in college. Born Dec. 11, 1956 in Leadville, Colo., he graduated from Boulder's Fairview High in 1975, where he lettered in football. An avid bicyclist, he participated in the 2004 Ride The Rockies to test his endurance over the 350-plus mile trek. Horton also rode the Denver Century in June 2014 and raised over $1,500 for cancer research in search of the Leukemia Lymphoma Society. He has a son, Davis Paul and is an 11-year cancer survivor.

Linda Sprouse - Associate Sports Information Director - 14th Season

Linda Sprouse enters her 14th season as the assistant sports information director for the CU cross country team. She also works with the women's golf and lacrosse programs. Sprouse served as the media coordinator for the 2013 Pac-12 Cross Country, 2008 Big 12 Outdoor Track & Field Championship, and the inaugural 2018 Pac-12 Lacrosse Tournament. Prior to joining CU, she served as the coordinator of media relations for the American Volleyball Coaches Association from 2003-05, working primarily with NCAA women's Division II and III and men's Division III volleyball programs. Sprouse served as a graduate assistant in the athletic communications office at Minnesota State University from 2001-03. She worked with several of the Mavericks' programs, including volleyball, women's ice hockey and women's basketball. Sprouse earned her bachelor's degree in Mass Communications from MSU in 2001 and completed her master's of science in sport administration from MSU in December '07. A native of New Ulm, Minn., she earned two letters as a member of the tennis team. The former Linda Poncin is married to Nick Sprouse, the director of equipment for the Colorado volleyball, women's lacrosse and men's and women's basketball programs. The couple has a daughter, Lily, and resides in Thornton, Colo.

ACADEMICS AND ATHLETICS

STEPS

STEPS is a program designed to assist graduating student-athletes as they transition to life after the university setting. The program will have Department of Athletics staff and university faculty assist them in the following areas:

- “Learn to Earn” with Alice Swanson, veteran of The Boulder Chamber of Commerce and currently of Leeds School of Business

- Interview Skills
- Job Placement
- Contract Negotiation

- Personal Financial Planning with Susan Morley of Leeds School of Business

- Playbook for Life, the Student-Athlete's Guide to Understanding and Planning Your Financial Future

- Exit Interview with the Department of Athletics

- Student-Athletes discuss their CU experience with a senior level administrator in the Department of Athletics. (One-on-one interview and survey)

- Career Services

- Resume / Folio 21
- CSO On-line
- Letters of Recommendation (4-6)
- Job Fairs
- Post-Graduation Test Preparation

- Exit Physical

- Athlete completes final medical physical, reviews medical history with Office of Sports Medicine and discusses lingering injuries with Sports Medicine on coverage

- Counseling and Psychological Services

- CU psychologist, Dr. Jan Johnson, offers one-on-one counseling sessions to athletes learning to cope with the impending life changes once their careers have ended.

- Graduation Checklist

- Alumni C-Club

- Student-Athletes stay connected to CU through membership in the Alumni C-Club.

- Post-Graduate Scholarships

- Professional Sports Counseling Panel

READ WITH THE BUFFS

1. The University of Colorado and IBM work together to promote literacy in local elementary schools through the "Read With the Buffs" program.
2. Focus of the program is to:
 - a. Have CU student-athletes promote reading as the basis for success in school.
 - b. Promote the importance of school and doing your personal best.
3. Designated school districts are Boulder Valley and St. Vrain school districts.
4. Teacher's Responsibilities:
 - a. Decisions:
 - i. It is suggested for students to compete against themselves, not others.
 - ii. Encourage students to read over the holidays.
 - iii. At the end of the program send into the athletic department a list of all students who have participated in "Read With the Buffs" successfully.
5. Student-athletes will visit the classroom for a 45-minute presentation.
 - a. Pencils, stickers and/or bookmarks will be given out to students who are able to answer the comprehension questions correctly after the book is read.
6. Student-athletes will deliver the message: do well in school, work hard, do your personal best, and importance of reading.
7. No more than two classrooms should be combined with one group of student-athletes.
8. One adult volunteer is assigned to two to three student-athletes.
9. CU pencils and bookmarks or stickers will be left for all students.
10. In addition, a T-shirt (autographed) will be left with each classroom teacher to hang up in the classroom as a continual reminder about "Read With the Buffs."
 - a. The T-shirt will be for the classroom teacher to keep as a thank you for participating in "Read With the Buffs."
11. Students who participate in the program and successfully meet the criteria, set by the teacher, will receive a ticket to attend either a men's or women's basketball game.
12. A special section will be set aside for all "Read With the Buffs" participants.
13. Two students will be on the court during halftime representing their classroom.

Boulder and Denver are known for lots of things. But some things even surprise the lifelong resident, a recent transplant (nearly two-thirds of the state's residents were born outside of Colorado), or first-time visitor to the Mile High City.

- Denver is called the "Mile High City" because it is exactly 5,280 feet above sea level. In fact, there is a spot on the west steps of the State Capitol building that is exactly 5,280 feet above sea level and there is a row of seats at Coors Field with the same bragging rights.
- Denver is the most educated city in the U.S. It has the greatest percentage of high school and college graduates of any major metropolitan area in the U.S.

- While Boulder has 10 microbreweries, Denver brews more beer than any other American city.

The state of Colorado boasts more microbrews per capita than any state in the U.S. The Coors Brewery, in Golden, is the world's largest single-site brewery.

- Golf courses remain open all year and have been played on as many as 30 days in January.

- The Denver/Boulder metropolitan area is the 20th largest in the United States. Boulder is not classified as a suburb of Denver; it's nestled in its own valley at the foothills of the Rocky Mountains. Contrary to popular belief, Denver is not in the mountains; it is near them. The "Foothills" start to rise 15 miles west of the city. Slightly beyond that is the Continental Divide and a series of peaks rising to 14,000 feet, known locally as the "Front Range".

- Denver is also the "thinnest" city in America while Boulder is the second "fittest" city in America according to Shape Magazine and the state of Colorado is tied as the "thinnest" state with Hawai'i. Health Magazine named Boulder one of America's 10 Fittest Cities. Self Magazine proclaimed Boulder one of the 10 healthiest places for women to live, with a perfect 100 in water quality.

- Boulder has 200 miles of public hiking and biking trails, approximately 30,000 acres of open space and a 16-mile Boulder Creek Path which runs through the middle of town. The city of Denver offers over 450 miles of paved, designated bike paths, over 70 public golf courses and 143 free tennis courts. Denver also has the largest city park system in the nation with 205 within the city limits.

- As the largest city in a 600-mile radius, Denver is the shopping capital of the Rocky Mountain West. It features the largest sporting goods store in the world and the largest independent book store in America with over 400,000 volumes. The 16th street mall is a mile-long pedestrian promenade, not to be outdone by its counterpart in Boulder, the Pearl Street Mall. Boulder is also known for having more used book stores per capita than any other city in the country according to a Money magazine count in 1998.

- In that same magazine's 1998 issue, Boulder topped the list for best medium-sized city in the western half of the U.S. to live.

- Among 14 comparable cities, Boulder ranks no. 1 in people who walk to work, work at home and drive with more than one person in the car. It ranks second among those who bike.

- Parts of the movie "Sleeper," with Woody Allen, were filmed at the National Center for Atmospheric Research.

- * Bicycling is so highly regarded in Boulder that sometimes the city plows the Boulder Creek bike path before it plows the streets.

- The exterior of the house located at 1619 Pine Street was used as the characters' home in the well-known "Mork & Mindy" television show. It is now a private residence.

BOULDER/DENVER TRIVIA AND FACTS

- Boulder's Third Flatiron towers 1,400 feet high, a few hundred feet higher than the Empire State Building, and has been climbed by people without using their hands, on roller skates, naked and in eight minutes (by separate climbers).
- A 1992 survey by the Centers for Disease Control found that Colorado had fewer overweight people per capita and more people who exercise than any other state.
- A Colorado Daily poll found that seven out of ten Boulderites own bicycles. Another guide book states that Boulder's bicycle count is approximately 93,000- almost equal to the total population.
- The Chatauqua Auditorium is an all-wood structure built in 1898. In the evening, when the Colorado Music Festival musicians stop playing, you can often hear the rafters-dwelling owls hoot capita than any other city in the country.
- Boulder is going to the dogs! Recent visitor counts to Boulder Mountain Parks found a ratio of 1 dog to every 5 visitors.
- Every year Boulder Mountain Parks core area receives 1.8 million visits. If that many people made a human chain, it would stretch from Boulder to New York City.

 Boulder: Ideal Terrain for Training - Sports Illustrated, April 1990

"The varied terrain, beautiful Rocky Mountain scenery and numerous places to run made it number one... Boulder simply has everything...It's a runner's paradise. Lush mountain scenery, plentiful bike paths, off-road trails, great year-round weather, the Bolder Boulder 10k, world-class running partners, altitude training, and access to Rocky Mountain National Park. It's all right here." Runner's World (2001)

"On any given spring afternoon, runners, riders and skaters jockey for position along Boulder Creek Path while Kayakers practice on the creek itself; climbers rock-hop in the Flatirons while hikers gawk up at them, swimmers and boardsailers brave Boulder Reservoir as elite runners sprint around it." Outside Magazine (1999)

"Kayakers paddle the chilly waters while folks on foot and wheels take to a shoreline path that's linked to mile and miles of trails. Hikers and rock climbers enjoy routes galore in the Flatirons and the Eldorado Canyon State Park. And come winter, nearby resorts offer unbeatable skiing and snowboarding." Health Magazine (2000)

"A 6-mile greenway through the heart of the Colorado community enhances its outdoorsy reputation." Knight Ridder News Service.

"(Pearl Street Mall) The lively four-block pedestrian shopping area in downtown Boulder is almost as much fun as an amusement park. The only things missing are the rides." Dallas Morning News (2002)

"Boulder is the quintessential modern mountain town... Software development, biotech, engineering and university jobs are plentiful, and, equally important, Boulder's mountain parks system offers 200 miles of multi-use trails." Outside (2003)
