CHRIS PETERSEN

HEAD COACH

SIXTH SEASON AT UW

Washington wrapped up the 2018 football season in the Rose Bowl on January 1, 2019. That the Huskies were back in Pasadena on New Year's Day was one of many milestones to which Husky head coach Chris Petersen has led the program in his first five seasons.

The 2018 marked the culmination of the first class of Petersen-recruited players, a group of fifth-year player who originally signed on to become Huskies shortly after his arrival in Seattle. The group, along with the highly-successful group of players that followed the next season, have put together one of the great runs in modern Husky Football history. In five years, the Huskies have won five straight Apple Cups, have gone to five straight bowl games, have won two Pac-12 Championships, earned three New Year's Six bowl-game berths and have competed in the 2016 College Football Playoffs.

In the meantime, during that same span, 24 Huskies who played under Petersen have debuted in the NFL. A total of 22 have earned first-team All-Pac-12, 14 have made an All-America team, three have been honored as Pac-12 Offensive or Defensive Player of the Year and two have won Pac-12 Scholar-Athlete of the Year for football. Over five seasons, the Huskies have won 47 games, including three straight seasons with double-digit wins.

And, not surprisingly, the Huskies have performed just as well off the field, establishing themselves as one of the most academically successful, major-college football programs in the nation. In the fall of 2018, during the playing season, the Huskies earned a team grade point average of 3.16, tying the program record, which had been set the previous fall. A total of 77 Husky football players posted a 3.0 or better in the fall, 2018, academic quarter. The UW football team has earned a team GPA over 3.0 for 10 of the last 11 quarters after never having done so prior to Petersen's arrival. Washington's most recent Academic Progress Rate (May, 2018) for football was No. 1 in the Pac-12.

Petersen, 54, enters the 2019 season with the highest winning percentage among active NCAA-FBS coaches with at least five years as an FBS coach. Entering the coming season, his .808 winning percentage (139-33) is the 12th-highest in major-college history.

When Petersen was hired after the 2013 season, no one knew for sure how long it might take to return the Husky program to the top levels of the college football world. It turns out, it took about three years.

In 2016, the Huskies had their best season since 2000 and one of their best ever, winning the Pac-12 Championship, earning a spot in the College Football Playoff and finishing ranked No. 4 in the final polls. They did it with high-achieving, young players across the lineup while also succeeding in the classroom at an unprecedented and sustained rate.

That success continued in 2017, as the UW posted back-to-back, 10-win seasons for the first time since 1990-91 and earned a spot in a New Year's Six bowl game while going 10-3 overall and 7-2 in Pac-12 play. In the meantime, during the fall academic quarter, the Huskies posted a team GPA of 3.16, shattering the program's record, set the previous fall.

In 2018, the successes continued as the Huskies won another Pac-12 title and earned a berth in the Rose Bowl, finishing with a 10-4 overall record, a 7-2 Pac-12 mark and another 3.16 team GPA. Three Huskies earned first-team All-America, led by linebacker Ben Burr-Kirven, who became the first player ever to win the Pat Tillman Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Year and Pac-12 Scholar-Athlete of the Year for football. The UW also swept the Morris Trophy for the fourth-time ever as Kaleb McGary and Greg Gaines were voted by the conference players as the Pac-12's best offensive and defensive linemen in the nation.

Petersen, who built a reputation as an offensive innovator who carried the Boise State program to its highest highs and had been courted by innumerable programs, was swayed to take on a new challenge in Seattle when he agreed to become head coach of the Huskies in December of 2013. Petersen's "Built for Life" philosophy, on which the program is based, achieved its highest level of fruition to date with the successes of the team in 2016.

Along with those on-field victories, the team continued to achieve at never-before-seen levels academically as the team achieved a 3.09 grade point average (second-highest in recorded history for UW football to date) during the fall 2016 academic quarter. In 2016, three Huskies earned District 8 Academic All-America and Jake Eldrenkamp was named the Pac-12's Scholar-Athlete of the Year for football.

Along with a 12-2 (8-1 in the Pac-12), the Huskies posted other eye-popping numbers on offense, defense and special teams. The Huskies led the nation in turnover margin and were first in the conference and eighth in the nation in both total offense and total defense. The UW led the Pac-12 in 17 different team statistical categories.

After the 2016 season, Petersen was honored with the Gene Stallings Award, awarded annually to a college coach who is both a humanitarian and an exceptional coach.

In 2015, Petersen's Huskies, featuring one of the nation's youngest squads and a schedule ranked by many as the nation's toughest, rallied for the Dawgs' sixth consecutive bowl berth, which resulted in a victory over Southern Miss in the Heart of Dallas Bowl. A stout Husky defense (first in the Pac-12 in scoring and total defense) led the way as a freshman-laden offense showed steady growth en route to a 7-6 season record.

Off the field, Petersen's impact on the football program's academic success was clear as well. In the most recently-completed academic quarter (spring, 2015), the football team posted a team GPA of 3.08, highest in school history for football.

In his first season at Washington, Petersen led the Huskies to an 8-6 record and a berth in the TicketCity Cactus Bowl. He became the fastest active FBS coach to reach 100 career victories – doing so in 117 games – and tied with Knute Rockne for fifth fastest all-time after a win over cross-state rival Washington State in the Apple Cup.

Petersen's "Built for Life" coaching philosophy has been embraced on and off the field by the Huskies in less than a year. Not only did Washington produce three first-team and seven honorable mention All-Pac-12 players, but a combined five players earned first or second team Academic All-Pac-12 recognition, including Danny Shelton who was named First-Team Academic All-American – a first for Washington since 1991.

Petersen, the first and one of only two two-time winners of the Paul "Bear" Bryant Award (2006 and 2009), compiled an exceptional 92-12 record in his eight seasons as Boise State head coach (2006-2013), including two unbeaten seasons (13-0 in 2006 and 14-0 in 2009) and two BCS bowl berths. He won five conference titles and posted a 57-6 record in conference play (WAC from 2006-10 and Mountain West from 2011-13).

Petersen, who won the Bobby Dodd Coach of the Year Award in 2010, led the Broncos to 10 or more wins in seven of eight seasons and to 12 or more in four straight (2008-11).

In 2006, Petersen's first season in charge in Boise, he led the Broncos to their first undefeated season since 1958. The 2006 season was capped by a 43-42 overtime win over Oklahoma in the Fiesta Bowl, a game remembered by many as one of the greatest in history. That Boise team ended the year ranked No. 5 in the final AP top 25 poll. The next season, the Broncos went 10-3. The 2008 squad went 12-1 and ranked No. 11 in the final top 25.

In 2009, Petersen led the Broncos to their second undefeated campaign and another Fiesta Bowl berth. Boise State beat TCU, 17-10, in Arizona, becoming the first team from a non-BCS conference ever to win two BCS bowl games. The '09 Broncos checked in at No. 4 in the final AP poll. The 2010 season ended with a 12-1 record, a No. 9 final ranking and a win in the Las Vegas Bowl. In 2011, BSU once again went 12-1, finishing with a No. 8 final ranking. In 2012, Petersen's team went 11-2 and beat Washington in the Las Vegas Bowl, good for a No. 18 final ranking. In 2013, Boise State finished the regular season with an 8-4 record and earned a berth in the Hawai'i Bowl.

Throughout his teams' on-field success, Petersen also saw his Broncos succeed in the classroom. In 2011, Boise State was the only school to finish in the top 10 in both major polls and also receive a Public Recognition Award from the NCAA for finishing in the top 10 percent of the Academic Progress Rate (APR), the second of three straight such awards.

Known for his work with quarterbacks, Petersen tutored Kellen Moore at Boise State. Moore set an NCAA record with 50 career wins as a starting QB while winning three conference player of the year awards. His 142 passing touchdowns were second-most in NCAA history while his 14,667 career passing yards were fifth-most. He twice led the nation in passing efficiency and set an NCAA record for season interception percentage, throwing just three in 431 attempts in 2009.

Before taking over as head coach at Boise State, Petersen served as the Broncos' offensive coordinator from 2001-05, during which his teams led the nation in scoring in 2002 and 2003. Petersen began his coaching career in 1987 as freshman coach at his alma mater, UC Davis. In 1989, he became the Aggies' varsity wide receivers coach. In 1992, Petersen moved to Pittsburgh, where he was QBs coach. In 1993, Petersen moved back west to take over as QBs coach at Portland State, helping the Vikings to two Division II playoff berths.

In 1995, he took a job at Oregon as the receivers coach under Mike Bellotti, a position he held before moving to Boise as offensive coordinator in 2001.

Born in Yuba City, Calif., on Oct. 13, 1964, Petersen graduated from Yuba City High in 1983 and went on to play quarterback at Sacramento City College. From there, he transferred to UC Davis, earning a bachelor's degree in psychology in 1988. He later earned a master's in educational psychology from Davis. At Davis, he set numerous school records, including the single-season standards for passing efficiency, completions, completion percentage, touchdown passes and total offense as well as the career mark for completion percentage. He season and career completion percentage records still stand.

In 1986, Petersen was named the Northern California Athletic Conference Player of the Year and earned UC Davis' Colby E. Slater Award as the school's Male Athlete of the Year. He was also a captain and won the team's Jerry Norris Award (Most Valuable and Inspirational). He was inducted into the Cal Aggie Athletic Hall of Fame in 1997.

Petersen and his wife, Barbara, are parents of two sons, Jack and Sam.

100 WINS: With the 2014 victory over Washington State in the Apple Cup, UW head coach Chris Petersen reached his 100th career victory. At the time, it put his record at 100-17, meaning that it took him 117 career games to reach his 100th victory. Only four coaches in major college history did it faster:

Gil Dobie (North Dakota State, UW, Navy, Cornell): 108 games
 George Woodruff (Penn): 109 games
 Bud Wilkinson (Oklahoma): 111 games
 Fielding Yost (Neb., Kansas, Stanford, San Jose St., Michigan): 114 games
 Chris Petersen (Boise State, Washington): 117 games
 Knute Rockne (Notre Dame): 117 games

Additionally, Petersen's 117 games were fewer than any active FBS coach required to make it to 100 victories. Here were the top five, at the time:

COACHING STAFF: Washington welcomes back nine of 10 full-time assistant coaches from last year's staff, with just one new addition. Five of the 10 assistants are in their sixth season at UW under Petersen (one of whom was a holdover from the prior staff). Of the 10 full-time coaches on the 2019 staff, four came to the UW from Boise State along with Petersen after 2013. Co-defensive coordinator Pete Kwiatkowski was on Petersen's staff in Boise in all eight seasons as head coach, including the last four as defensive coordinator. Kwiatkowski, a BSU Hall-of-Fame defensive lineman, also worked at his alma mater from 1988 to 1996. Running backs coach and recruiting coordinator Keith Bhonapha was also on Petersen's Broncos staff during Petersen's entire eight seasons, though he started as director of operations. He coached running backs his last five years at BSU. Assistant head coach, special teams coordinator and linebackers coach Bob Gregory came to Washington having spent the previous four seasons at Boise State. He was the defensive coordinator at California from 2002 to 2009 and, along with also having coached at Boise State in 2001, had also worked in the conference at Oregon. Defensive backs coach and defensive coordinator Jimmy Lake, who spent the 2004 season at Washington under head coach Keith Gilbertson, was Petersen's DBs coach in Boise the last two years there, having spent five seasons in the NFL before that. Tight ends coach Jordan Paopao is entering his seventh season in that position, having worked as a Husky GA the previous two. UW alum Ikaika Malloe, who lettered as a Husky from 1993 to 1996 and once worked as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, is back for his fourth season as UW's defensive line coach. He joined the staff after the 2015 season, coming to Seattle from Utah State. Third-year offensive line coach and run game coordinator Scott Huff spent the previous 11 seasons at Boise State, his alma mater, where he played under Coach Petersen (when Petersen was an assistant) and coached for him for all eight years Petersen was head coach. UW offensive coordinator Bush Hamdan, who worked at UW as a quality control assistant (2015) and wide receivers coach (2016) under Petersen, is back for a second season as OC, having spent the 2017 season as the Atlanta Falcons' QBs coach. Last year, Washington welcomed Will Harris to the staff. A former safety at USC, Harris is UW's assistant secondary coach. The only new member of the full-time staff is wide receivers coach Junior Adams, who came to Seattle after two seasons as offensive coordinator at Western Kentucky. Two of four UW graduate assistant coaches are returners to their position: Robert Kugler (former OL at Purdue) and Jabriel Washington (former CB at Alabama) are back for a second year, while Daniel Segal and Henry Fernandez are the newest additions.

TEAM NOTES

HUSKIES vs. BUFFALOES HISTORY: Washington and Colorado have squared off 17 times in their history and the Huskies hold the edge with 12 wins, five losses and one tie. Washington has won nine straight games vs. the Buffaloes, a streak that dates back 20 years. Washington is 7-0 vs. Colorado since the Pac-10 Conference expanded to become the Pac-12, including six wins in the regular season and one in the 2016 Pac-12 Championship game.

The series began way back in 1915 when a Gil Dobie-coached UW team wrapped up a 7-0 season with a 46-0 win over the Buffs at Washington's Denny Field. Nearly 40 years later, the Huskies opened the 1953 season with a narrow 21-20 loss at Husky Stadium. Jim Owens' first game as Husky head coach, on Sept. 21, 1957, came against Colorado and that game ended in a 6-6 tie in Seattle. Two seasons later, the Huskies made their first trip to Boulder for yet another season-opener and beat the Buffaloes, 21-12.

The next meeting didn't come until 1976 in Seattle when Colorado beat Don James' second Husky squad, 21-7. The two teams next met in the 1985 Freedom Bowl in Anaheim. The Huskies won, 20-17, behind sophomore QB Chris Chandler.

In 1989, shortly after the untimely death of their former CU quarterback Sal Aunese, the Buffs handed the Huskies a 45-28 loss at Husky Stadium. Colorado rushed for 420 yards despite not having a single back over 100 yards. Colorado made it two wins in as many seasons the following year at Folsom Field, handing a 12th-ranked UW team a 20-14 loss. Eric Bieniemy ran for 143 yards and Darian Hagan scored a pair of TDs in the win. Colorado picked up a third straight win over the Huskies in the 1996 Holiday Bowl, winning 33-21.

In 1999, first-year UW head coach Rick Neuheisel, who'd left Colorado for Seattle during the offseason, got his first win at Washington in week three of the season. Marques Tuiasosopo hit Chris Juergens with a nine-yard TD pass with 3:17 remaining to break a tie and forge a 31-24 win. The following year in Boulder, a Rose Bowl-bound Husky team won, 17-14.

In 2011, in the two teams' first meeting as Pac-12 rivals, the Huskies won 52-24 in Seattle. Keith Price led the way for the UW, completing 21-of-28 passes for 257 yards and four touchdowns. In 2012, Price had another big game in a 38-3 win in Boulder, throwing for a school-record-tying five TDs. Price was 22-for-29 for 248 yards while Bishop Sankey rushed for 139 yards. In 2013 in Seattle, the Huskies won their fifth in a row in the series as the Dawgs rolled up 628 yards of total offense in a 59-7 victory. Price completed 22-of-29 for 312 and two scores while rushing for two more.

In 2014, erstwhile linebacker Shaq Thompson starred on offense for the Huskies, rushing for 174 yards on just 15 carries in 38-23 Husky win. Sefo Liufau passed for 314 yards and two TDs for Colorado. In 2016, the UW and Colorado met in the Pac-12 Championship game in Santa Clara, the first title game for both teams. Washington got 100-yard rushing performances from Myles Gaskin (159 yards) and Lavon Coleman (101) and two key interceptions from game MVP Taylor Rapp, one of which he returned 35 yards for a score on the first play of the second half, as Washington won, 41-10. Jake Browning threw TD passes to Darrell Daniels and John Ross while the UW defense held the Buffaloes to 163 yards and nine first downs.

In 2017 in Boulder, Myles Gaskin rushed for 202 yards and two TDs and the Huskies picked off three passes (Myles Bryant returned one 35 yards for a score) in a 37-10 win. Last year in Seattle, the UW held Colorado scoreless in the second, stretching a 14-13 halftime lead, to a 27-13 win. CU totaled just 86 yards of offense in the second half.

RETURNS ON FIRE: Since the arrival of coach Chris Petersen and his staff prior to the 2014 season, Washington has had four kickoff returns for touchdowns (three by John Ross and one by Keishawn Bierria) and 10 punt returns for TDs (nine by Dante Pettis — good for the NCAA record — and one from Aaron Fuller vs. BYU, 2019). That's a total of 14 kick and punt return TDs. Ross actually had four career TDs, but his first came in the 2013 Fight Hunger Bowl, the last game before the start of the Petersen era. Even if you include that Ross TD, you have to go back 16 prior seasons to count the previous four Husky kick return TDs, and 27 seasons to count the last 10 punt returns. Touré Butler returned a kick for a score in 1998. Then, from 1998 to 2033, the Huskies had four: Ross in 2013, Louis Rankin in 2007, Roc Alexander in 2001, and Paul Arnold in 1999. As for punt returns, Demouy Williams had one in 1987 before Beno Bryant had three punt return TDs in 1990, and another in 1991. Then, over 23 seasons (1991-2013), the Huskies had just six more: Jesse Callier in 2011; Chris Stevens in 2006; Charles Frederick in 2003 and 2001; Joe Jarzynka in 1998; and Dave Janoski in 1996 — and two of those (Callier & Stevens) were on blocked punts, so not "traditional" punt returns. What's more? Since Petersen's arrival in 2014, the Huskies haven't allowed a single punt or kick return for a score.

TEAM NOTES

OPPONENTS 35-AND-UNDER: Washington hasn't allowed an opponent to score more than 35 points in a game since a 44-30 loss at UCLA in 2014 – one of only three games in Chris Petersen's UW tenure that an opponent has scored more than 35 points. That's a streak of 68 games in a row that the Huskies' opponent has failed to score more than 35. In that 68-game stretch, Husky foes have scored 30 or more just 11 times (of those 11, five were exactly 30 points) and have been held to 14 or fewer points 29 times. In that same span of 68 games, the UW has scored more than 35 points on 28 occasions. No other team in the FBS has a streak longer than 50 games, and only one (Clemson, 44) has one longer than 25.

RETURNING STARTERS: While the official number of "returning starters" this year for Washington included just two defensive and seven offensive players, a deeper look at the numbers reveals a lot more experience. In fact, not counting specialists (UW returns its starting placekicker, punter, holder and long snapper), Washington had 20 current players who had started at least one game on offense, and nine who had started on defense prior to the 2019 season – though obviously most of those were not the primary starter at any one position last season.

DEFENSE vs. BIG PLAYS: The UW allowed just ONE scrimmage play of 40 or more yards all last season. No other FBS team allowed fewer than four and 102 teams allowed 10 or more. Washington also allowed just 11 scrimmage plays of 30 or more yards (only Appalachian State, with 10, allowed fewer). The Husky defense also ranked No. 5 in fewest 20-yard plays allowed (34). In 2017, the UW also led the nation with fewest 40-yard scrimmage plays allowed (3) and were second in fewest 30-yard plays (14). They were tied for 5th and 2nd, respectively, in 2016. The Huskies have given up seven scrimmage plays of 40 yards or more through the first 10 games of 2019.

YOUTH: Washington's roster remains on the young side. Of the 106 current players, more than half – 55 – are freshmen or redshirt freshmen, due in large part to the fact that every freshman on last year's team preserved their redshirt season. Washington's roster includes 18 seniors, 20 juniors, 13 sophomores, 25 redshirt freshmen and 30 true freshmen.

THE PAC-12: Prior to the 2011 season, the Pac-10 Conference added Utah and Colorado to expand to the Pac-12. Washington, which along with California is one of two schools who have been in the conference since its founding in 1915, plays in the Pac-12 North, along with the other three Northwest schools (Oregon, OSU, WSU) and Stanford and Cal. Under the current system, each school plays all five division rivals, plus four of six teams in the other division each season. The first two seasons, the Huskies did not face UCLA or Arizona State. In 2013 and 14, the Huskies didn't play Utah or USC. In 2015 in 2016, neither UCLA nor Colorado were on the UW schedule, while the Huskies didn't face USC and Arizona in 2017 or 2018. The 2019 season marks the start of a new cycle, moving the rotation back to where it started. Therefore, the Huskies will not play UCLA and Arizona State this season and again in 2020.

THE 100-YARD FACTOR: Since the 1947 season, Washington is 221-69-3 (.759) when a Husky player rushes for 100 yards in a game. The Huskies are 22-3 in such games dating back to the 2016 season, and 4-2 this year.

HISTORY LESSON: Successfully rushing the football and winning go hand-in-hand for the Huskies. Since 1990, UW has rushed for 200 yards in a game 120 times. The Huskies' record stands at 103-16-1 (.863) in those contests.

HUSKY STADIUM RENOVATION: Husky Stadium underwent a major renovation over from Nov., 2011, through Aug., 2013, as the entire lower bowl and south upper deck were demolished and replaced. The new facility features a new, state-of-the-art football operations center (weight room, training room, locker room, meeting rooms, coaches' offices) in the west end, much more premium seating options and a new playing surface. Husky Stadium had featured a track up until 2011, so seats that were once far from the field, particularly in the west end, are much closer to the action. UW is 37-11 at home since the re-opening of Husky Stadium.

ALASKA AIRLINES FIELD AT HUSKY STADIUM: The Oregon game on Nov. 5, 2011, marked the final game in Husky Stadium prior to major renovations that were completed in summer, 2013. The Huskies re-opened their home field with a 38-6 win over then-No. 19 Boise State on Aug. 31, 2013. The 2018 season marks the 99th season of play in Husky Stadium. Original construction on the facility was completed in 1920 when Washington played one game in the new campus facility. UW's all-time record in Husky Stadium stands at 393-180-21 (.679).

BEST DEFENSE IN THE WEST: Washington has led the Pac-12 in both scoring defense and total defense each of the last four seasons, after finishing 3rd and 6th in the conference, respectively, in 2014, Chris Petersen's first year at UW. Generally speaking, the Huskies' averages in these two categories have not only topped the conference rankings, but frequently by a significant margin. Here's a look at the Pac-12 and NCAA FBS rankings for each of the last five years.
